KLAN LISTS AT FRESNO TOTAL 200

District Attorney Makes Public Kleagles' Reports to Grand Goblin

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FRESNO, May 4.—A list of names of over 200 persons found on the Ku Klux Klan weekly reports of Kleagles H. R. Pitts and J. D. Gough and forwarded to Grand Goblin W. S. Coburn in Los Angeles, was announced here today by Dist.-Atty. Gearhart. He said that names of those who had resigned, either by sending their resignations to the office of the Grand Goblin or by signing a resignation dictated by him, had been stricken from the list.

The list included over 200 Fresno men, while others were named in Calwa, Corcoran, Sanger and other near-by communities.

The lists made public by the District Attorney covered a period from July 23, 1921, to April 22, last, the attorney said. The lists varied in length, sometimes having as many as twenty-five names, and again none was reported for weeks.

In addition to the resignations of thirty-one who revolted from Klan membership when one of their number was expelled and denied the right of appeal to be heard, the District Attorney said he had a photographic copy of the resignations of forty former Klansmen sent to the Grand Goblin by Keagle Gough.

Included in the list made public was the name of Roy D. Marshall of Fresno, indicted here recently charged with embezzlement of funds from Fresno fraternal societies. Marshall has not been arrested.

WIRES CRIPPLED

Wire connections are badly crippled in the direction of Austin as a result of the storm. Telegraphic companies have reported crippled wire service to San Antonio.

Reports indicate that the storm almost encircled Austin. South Austin felt the force greatly, limbs of trees being torn loose and hurled high into the air. Telephone and telegraph wires south are reported out.

The tornado was followed by a heavy rain, with hail stones almost as large as hen eggs.

KLAN'S SIDE OF TROUBLE IS STATED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, May 4.—The first official statement to come from the Bakersfield branch of the Ku Klux Klan issued late this afternoon, stated that the Klan is "pleased that the Kern county grand jury is making an investigation of its activities.

The statement was issued by an official committee of the Kern River Klan, formally appointed. On the committee were R. L. Sheehan, superintendent of the Courthouse; Thomas Laird, deputy sheriff; R. H. Hardin, president of the local cooks' and waiters' union, and W. E. Moody, attorney. Certain members of the committee are officials of the local Klan, it was announced, though their specific capacities were kept secret. Laird is asserted to be the high official of the order here.

The statement follows:

"Authorized statement of the Bakersfield members of provisional order of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan:

"At this time, when the Ku Klux Klan is being given wide publicity, partly in favor and partly in disfavor of its principles and covenants, we, the members of Bakersfield Provisional Klan, deem it advisable to state our side of the case, particularly in connection with the purported assault on a Bakersfield man. The story of the Klan's inception and progress to date is as follows:

KLAN PRINCIPLES

"About ten months ago a bona fide organizer of the Ku Klux Klan came to Bakersfield and canvassed the town in search of men eligible for his organization. In his argument to various citizens he represented the Ku Klux Klan to be based upon the following principles:

" 'The Ku Klux Klan stands at all times for law enforcement and we strictly bow to the authority and legal tribunals of the United States. The Ku Klux Klan believes in the tenets of the Christian religion, the perpetuity of our public schools, separation of church and State, owing allegiance to no power on earth other than the United States government.'

"The men who had these principles explained to them and who took the oath attendant to admission into the Ku Klux Klan found the organizer to have stated the truth. As soon as a sufficient numbers were obtained, meetings were called and officers appointed temporarily by the organizer.

APPLIED FOR CHARTER

"This embryo organization made application for a charter as the Kern River Klan No. 2, Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of California. It had regular meetings and received new members, all under the supervision of the organizer. After placing the organization on its feet, the organizer went to new fields and left this local body to progress as a provisional Klan.

"All new orders are most likely to obtain unworthy members, and those unworthy members are most certain to bring ill repute upon the order to which, they may belong. Such unworthy members have

GEN. CHANG ROUTED; LOSSES ARE HEAVY; PEKING SURROUNDED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PEKING, May 4.—Gen. Chang Tso-Lin, commander of the Fengtien forces, has suffered reverses on three points of the battle front, according to consular advices received here. At Machang, south of Tien-tsin, Chang's losses are said to have been heavy. Along the Hun River, at a place called Kuanhsien, it is asserted that his troops have been driven eastward. The routing of the Manchurian leader's troops from Changsintien, which forms the northwest terminus of the battle line, appears to be complete.

The forces of Chang, after evacuating the vicinity of Changsintien, boarded trains and sped to Fengtae, the next station, where they made a stand for a while. Throngs of men from the defeated army approached the walls of Peking and pleaded for refuge inside the city. Many threw away their guns.

CITY GATES CLOSED

The gates of the city were immediately closed, as the local authorities had ordered, under pressure from the foreign legations, that admittance be refused to the defeated troops of either side.

The closing of the gates resulted in the shutting out of a number of foreigners, including Mrs. Ray Atherton, wife of the second secretary of the American legation. Mrs. Atherton, who had been visiting her country home, demanded that the gates be opened for her, but this was done only after a rescue party had been sent to her aid from the legation.

The Chang soldiers, when they found they would be unable to enter the city, dispersed, discouraged. Many marched toward the hills, while others sought refuge in the various temples and pagadas in the outlying districts.

FOREIGNERS AID WOUNDED

There were numerous wounded soldiers in the hordes, some limping and some crawling, but all imploring aid. The distressed men were given aid, mostly by foreigners. They declared they had been under constant fire for more than five days. Gen. Wu's attacks, they asserted had been relentless and it was their belief that he would not cease his drive until Chang Tso-Lin was pushed back into Manchuria.

Chinese civilian refugees were permitted to enter the city. The American board of missions rescued 600 of them. They are now quartered in the foreign compounds. Inside the walls of the city quiet prevailed today. All foreigners are reported safe.

Except for the main body of Chang's forces, which has retreated eastward, his northwestern front is said to be disorganized.

Ape Hunted By Officers In Bay City

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Police with shotguns, the fire department and frightened women and children were features of the monkey hunt that threw the Sutro Heights district into a frenzy of excitement today.

Despite the forces of men trained against him, Jocko, the huge escaped orang-outang of the Westlake show on the great highway, swung by his tail from a tree, making faces as he retreated before pursuers, and chasing women and children in his forays into the streets in search of food.

A shotgun squad was thrown about the forest to safeguard pedestrians, and a picked squad of sharpshooters was requisitioned, as it is known to San Francisco that an aroused orang-outang is extremely dangerous. Mayor Rolph issued the stern order from the City Hall to all police to shoot to kill regardless of the ape's possible union affiliations.

The Humane Society insisted on two Airedales being added to the pursuers of the Simian before the promoters of the show got there with their bloodhounds.

ABANDONS HIS FAMILY

The big ape abandoned his mate and offspring Wednesday afternoon, when he took advantage of the loosened lock on his cage to break for freedom. Jocko was the prize Simian of a wild animal concession at the Chutes on the beach. He fled from his cage, past the arms of his keeper and away in search of a jungle. Sutro Heights Park happened to be near by and in this he took refuge.

Puzzled as to how he could capture his fugitive, the manager of the show appealed to the police. The minions of the law decided that he must secure a warrant before they could act. The only

LATE MORNING NEWS

WEARS BREASTPLATE

Carrying a pistol, a black mask, and a breastplate of steel half an inch thick, Leroy Stone, aged 25 years, who said he is the son of Harry Stone of San Pedro, waited behind the wheel of an automobile at Sixth and Berendo streets late last night for his asserted 'enemy" to appear. His "enemy," he declared to the police later, was a man who had "beat him up" in Westlake Park a month ago. Officers Hudson and Johnson of the Wilshire Station placed Stone under arrest, and stripped him of his armor. He was lodged in the City Jail a few minutes later on suspicion of robbery. The breastplate was a large square piece of steel weighing about eight pounds, fastened with shoulder straps.

NINE DIE IN STORM

AUSTIN (Tex.) May 4.—Nine dead, thirty-eight injured, two probably fatally and property damage estimated at $400,000 was the toll of death and destruction in the wake of a tornado which late today swept through the west side of Austni and on out of the city to Oak Hill, eight miles southwest, according to a check of the situation late tonight.

TWO DYING, IS REPORT

Reports reaching the Sheriffs's office by long-distance telephone early this morning from Castaic Station, at the foot of the Ridge Route, stated that two boys were in a dying condition near there as the result of being burned by an explosive powder thrown by two men whom they had picked up for a ride. Deputies Jones, Harrington and Maxam were sent to investigate.

THUGS GET RICH

Three bandits late last night held up and robbed Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Haupt in front of their residence at 626 South Normandie avenue of jewelry and other valuables, according to a report at the Wilshire Police Station. Included in the jewelry taken was a diamond solitaire ring, a platinum ring set with diamonds, a gold wedding ring set with nine small diamonds, a bar pin set with diamonds valued at $4000, a platinum wrist watch set with diamonds valued at $1500, a onyx ring set with diamonds valued at $600, a $50 beaded bag, and $50 in currency.

Unable to Chop Down Doors, Police Smash Way Through Walls

The inauguration by Chief of Police Oaks of a crusade against gambling literally started with a crash late last night, when members of the purity squad, headed by Lieut. McClary, smashed in a brick wall of an asserted gambling club and arrested twenty-five Japanese on a charge of gambling. The club, known as "Little Tokio," is located at 317½ Jackson street.

At police headquarters last night Lieut. McClary, in command of the purity squad, stated that he had received orders from the Chief to make a wholesale clean-up of the gambling dens. He characterized the "Little Tokio" club as "a thorn in the side of the police" for many years.

POLICE WERE ENJOINED

Detective Sergeant Davis, Sergt. Bert Massey and Officers Bergman, Cull, Ragsdale, Duley, Nolan and Patterson were the officers under command of Lieut. McClary at the raid.

About two years ago the "Little Tokio" Club was raided by the police, but the result was that the Japanese took the matter to the Superior Court and secured an injunction enjoining the police from molesting them on the ground that they were conducting a social club.

Shortly before 10 o'clock last night Lieut. McClary and his officers descended upon the club. The building was surrounded to prevent the Orientals and other asserted gamblers from escaping through windows. Armed with a heavy ax several officers then proceeded to chop down the two doors which guarded the entrance to the club. These doors are massive affairs built of oak and the police learned that they were lined on the inside with steel. The result was that the police ax made little headway.

BATTER HOLE IN WALL

Foiled in the effort to gain entrance through the doors the officers secured several large stones and proceeded to batter a hole into the brick side wall of the club. A breech thus effected in the stronghold of "the enemy," the officers poured into the room, revolvers in hand. They discovered the dazed and freightened orientals cowering in the corners and under tables. Gambling paraphernalia said by the officers to have been used in games of fan tan and black jack were strewn about.

At police headquarters Y. Gomi, charged with conducting the place, was released on $500 bail, and the others on $100 bail.

Elaborate preparations were made by the police for the raid. Earlier in the day a search warrant was obtained from Police Judge Frederickson. When the doors and the wall were crushed in the police say they found marked money in the place and obtained other important evidence.

Battleships Abandoned By Britain

BY JOHN STEELE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 4.—In spite of the unsettled state of Europe, the British naval authorities have decided not to proceed with the construction of two new battleships of the super-Hood type, to which they are entitled under the Washington pact.

This fact was hinted at by Admiral Sir Percy Scott in a letter in which he says it will save taxpayers £50,000,000 (about $220,000,000.) This, however, is not the only reason. The Admiralty has at last been won around to Sir Percy's view that battleships are practically useless in these days of aircraft and the submarine and, still more important, it believes that there will be no world war for many years to come, and therefore ships built now will be obsolete before the need for their use arises.

In this connection the following passage from a speech by Andrew Bonar Law in the House of Commons in a debate on the budget Tuesday night is given:

"As far as human foresight can tell, there will be no world war for a very long time to come. In my belief the real strength of this country to meet difficulty when it comes will be found far more in a strong financial position than anything else."

This passage occurs in a section of the speech devoted to naval reduction, in which he deplored the vast amount now spent on the navy, foreshadowing further reduction.

An added significance of this speech is the fact that Mr. Law is no Liberal pacifist, but is a normal Conservative, and is in agreement with the policy of the party, of which he was the leader through the war.

The Admiralty, when questioned by the House of Commons several times recently about the date of beginning work on the new battleships, always answered that the date was not fixed. The decision not to build has not been announced, but I have been informed from a high source that it has been taken and unless some unforeseen change in the international situation occurs it will be adhered to.

At this moment Anglo-French relations are so strained that some quarters are giving credence to the most alarmist rumors. In the Evening Standard tonight, which is published by a firm of which Lord Derby is a large shareholder, a writer says:

"Whilst constantly solicitous to maintain our friendly relations with France we are living in a fool's paradise if we deliberately close our eyes to the French attitude toward ourselves. Some weeks ago I pointed out that France has a greater army than in prewar days. Now the news comes from the other side of the channel that the French government is anticipating a break in the Entente with England and being determined to enforce the provisions of the Versailles Treaty, is preparing to immediately mobilize 150,000 men. What immediately concerns us is the information which reaches me this morning, the source of which it is impossible to divulge, that within the last fortnight there has been quite a congregation of French military airplanes on the coast of the English channel. Why?"

It is a fact, of course, that this is not half so alarming as it seems. It is probably intended to warn the French that they are on the wrong road in quarreling with England and that it will be to their interest to co-operate with instead of to obstruct the British plans for the reconstruction of Europe.

Britain Has Decided to Force Issue

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

GENOA, May 4.—The British government has decided to force a complete showdown with the Poincare Ministry on the question of Germany's war bill and the proposed general agreement with Russia.

The decision of the Paris Cabinet yesterday not to sign the Allied note to Russia which Louis Barthou, head of the French delegation here, helped to draft, and its intention, announced today, of agreeing to a nonaggression pact only with a reservation that will still permit France to invade the Ruhr Valley, have left Premier Lloyd George fighting mad. He held a long conference this morning with Sir Laming Worthington Evans, Secretary of War, and Lord Birkenhead, Lord High Chancellor.

BACKING PREMIER

Lord Birkenhead, who is just back from London, where he sounded out political opinion, told the Premier that an enormous Parliamentary majority was standing behind him in the policies he had launched at Genoa, only to find these policies driven on a reef by the French, assisted by the Belgians.

At the council of British government leaders it was decided to force a decision on the points at issue with the French when Barthou returns to Genoa Saturday from Paris, where he has been discussing the results of the conference with the Paris government. As viewed by Lloyd George, there is every reason why he should persist in the policies that he has been following.

With only two exceptions he has every nation in Europe behind him, and his only problem is to overcome the opposition of the French and Belgians. Not only is Premier Poincare running counter to opinion outside of his country, but there is considerable difference of opinion in his own Cabinet.

ITALIAN IS OPTIMISTIC

Genoa Delegate Hopeful America Will Yet See Way Clear to Join Allies in Conference

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROME, May 4.—Everybody misses America at the Gênoa conference, but every delegate feels that America is present in the spirit, according to Senator Luigi Luzzatti, the greatest Italian authority on international law, who is attending the conference in an advisory capacity, and who is now in Rome for a brief visit.

Signor Luzzatti, who has served as Premier, and who also was several times Minister of the Treasury, said regarding America:

"Given the spirit of justice, whereby she is guided, and the consciousness of her most important mission in the evolution of human affairs, she cannot help being keenly interested in the conference where super-human efforts are being made to raise the sunken hopes of humanity. For that reason she is present in the spirit, and everybody feels her presence and acts as if she was physically there.

"I feel that aside from her proven generosity and desire to co-operate with us in lightening the post-bellum burden which is oppressing humanity, America will be the gainer in lending Europe her fullest help. Perhaps in the near future, she will find it convenient to rearrange radically the question of the Allies' indebtedness to her."

REDS ARE ACCUSED

In reply to the recent declaration of Foreign Minister Tchitcherin of soviet Russia, head of the soviet delegation at Genoa, that there was freedom of worship in Russia, the Russian orthodox council here today issued a statement declaring it had been established that "in four and one-half years of the soviet regime, this freedom had not hindered the execution of twenty-eight bishops, and over 1000 priests."

"The patriarch of Moscow has been under arrest for prolonged periods," the council's statement continues, "processions have been prohibited, but the clergy and people, come from churches ready to face machine guns. Many churches have been transformed into music halls and theaters and relics have been profaned."

BANNED SUBJECT

The Chamber of Deputies opened today with a promise on the part of the Deputies to abstain from discussing the Genoa conference. So keen is the desire in Italy for the success of the conference that no one dared say or do anything that might hamper its work. Since Italy is host to the conference, it feels that failure would reflect on it more than on the other nations.

Premier Facta, who came to Rome this morning to open Parliament, will return to Genoa tomorrow, he told his friends. He still has great confidence in the final outcome of the conference.

GRAND JURY ORGANIZED FOR KU KLUX INQUIRY

Investigation Plans Announced in Many Other Counties of Southern California

he has been a druggist and deputy constable.

COSMOPOLITAN LIST

That Klansmen and individuals from Huntington Park, Venice, Ocean Park and Los Angeles, as well as Inglewood Klansmen and individuals, will be found on the list was predicted by the authorities. Kleagle Baker has been active in Venice and other beach cities, according to the information given out by Undersheriff Biscailuz, Sheriff Traeger's assistant in the investigation.

The visible agitation in the "Invisible Empire" formed a background for the official developments here and in other Southern and Central California cities where the authorities are directing investigations of the Knights of the Ku Kluk Klan.

The Los Angeles county grand jury was sworn in yesterday, organized for business and made ready to receive the evidence on the Inglewood affair Monday morning. In Bakersfield the Kern county inquisitorial body continued its drive against the night riders responsible for the outrages committed there in the past few months, and against the Ku Klux Klan.

REACH CLIMAX

"The sitution in the northern city reached a climax when officials of the "Invisible Empire" Klans there issued a lengthy statement giving the history of the Klan in Kern county, admitting that individuals in their organization have been guilty of crimes, and stating they desired to assist the authorities. Dist.-Atty J. R. Dorsey, in the meantime, predicted revelations that would "open the eyes of the public." In San Francisco, Dist.-Atty. Matthew Brady added his official disapproval of the Ku Klux Klan and promised a grand jury investigation of his own.

In at least a dozen other California counties the Ku Klux Klan occupied the attention of the public and officials.

From all indications it was expected that the grand jury investigation into the Ku Klux Klan and the Inglewood affair will last four or five weeks. Dist.-Atty. Woowine, Chief Deputy Dist.-Atty. Doran and Deputy Dist.-Atty. Turney, together with several crews of investigators, have been working on the documents seized in the raid on the office of Grand Goblin Coburn. The mass of evidence is being classified and made ready for presentation to the grand jury.

GRAND JURY MEETS

Impaneled and sworn yesterday morning by Superior Judge Houser, the new 1922 grand jury, composed of eighteen men and one woman, will begin an investigation of the Ku Klux Klan and the Inglewood raid at 10 a.m. Monday.

With R. W. George, Whittier rancher and business man as foreman, the grand jury yesterday held a brief morning session and met again in the afternoon. None of the evidence now in the hands of the District Attorney regarding the Inglewood raid was presented to the jury.

Dist.-Atty. Woolwine and Chief Deputy Doran told the new body at the afternoon session that the Klan investigation and the Inglewood investigation would be put under way Monday morning.

With a panel of thirty men and women in the courtroom, Judge Houser, who left his home for the first time, following an illness, to instruct the grand jury, began an examination of the venire by asking if any of them entertained any bias or prejudice for or against the Ku Klux Klan.

ONE AGAINST RAIDS

One of the venire informed the court that he was very much against night-riding and raids, while another stated that he was a personal friend of the Mosher family in Inglewood. To questions asked by the court both of the men replied that they felt able to make a fair and unbiased investigation of the affair, but both were excepted.

Following the brief examination of the entire panel, nineteen names were drawn from the jury box. The names as drawn were:

Daniel Durkee, 2184 Highland avenue; John C. Jacobs, 1414 Axley street, South Pasadena; John A. Burton, 541 South Ardmore avenue. R. W. George, Whittier, later named foreman of the jury; Abe L. King, Palms; Z. T. Nelson, Long Beach; John T. Wilson, San Fernando; Thomas Douglas, Third and Spring streets; T. W. Beakbane, Charter Oak; A. R. Clark, 3443 McClintock street; Nelson Ward, Compton; A. W. MacPherson, Santa Monica; M. H. Whittier, Beverly Hills; Jules Kaufman, 692 South Kingsley Drive; H. C. Pressey, 309 South St. Andrews Place; Mrs. Delia Matthews, Covina; W. G. Hutchison, 6995 New Hampshire avenue; James A. Montgomery, Rivera, and John Paschall, Story Building.

INSTRUCTS JURY

After the foreman had been named and the entire jury sworn, Judge Houser read five pages of instructions to the new jury. The instructions in part were:

"You are to discourage the activities of busybodies and gossips; make no junketing trips; not hurrying everywhere investigating everything, disregard petty matters, accepting no hearsay evidence—in fact, conduct yourselves according to the provisions of the law."

Judge Houser also stressed the point that the new grand jury should practice economy and declared that in the past grand juries had put the county to great expense. He also pointed out that special grand juries could be called to investigate the actions of regular grand juries. He charged the grand jury to perform "your whole duty without fear or favor."

In a short statement given out after the afternoon session Foreman George declared that regular business would be taken up by the grand jury Monday morning. He refused to make any other comment.

MINISTERS' VIEWS

The Ministerial Union adopted the following resolution at its regular meeting yesterday:

"Resolved, that we are unalterably opposed to mob law. The mob is never safe. Its program and its remedies are disastrous. It threatens our institutions and is ever a menace to law and order.

"Resolved, that if the Ku Klux Klan or any other secret organization should foster or promote the mob spirit or should resort in any manner to mob rule or mob law, such an organization would call for our most severe and caustic condemnation.

"Resolved, that we recognize behind the most pitiable and tragic affair enacted recently at Inglewood a condition more deplorable and menacing than the organization of any secret society could possibly be, in that vice and crime are permitted to go unhindered and unpunished, preying even upon our high school children, while public officers content themselves with playing politics and making grand stand displays of their indignation at the unwise and unwarranted gathering of citizens to enforce the laws which the officers should enforce and refuse to do. If the Ku Klux Klan as an organization promoted and organized the Inglewood raid, we not only deplore such action but we condemn the actors. However, we are not so dense or blind as to fail to lay the blame that properly belongs upon officers of the law who have winked at crimes that this raid unfortunately sought to correct, which crimes are widespread and all but unnoticed by our county and city authorities.

"Resolved, that we call upon our judges to instruct the grand jury which they are now empaneling to investigate the reported sale of intoxicants to high school boys in this county and the relation of public officials to vice and crime, especially to bootlegging, which is becoming a menace second to none in Southern California.

"Resolved, that this statement be forwarded to the judges empaneling the present grand jury, also to the District Attorney, the Sheriff, the Mayor, the Chief of Police, and the newspapers of the city."

been found in our midst and they have been banished. Should any more prove to be unworthy they will be so treated. This organization has never countenanced, and has at all times stood against, any and all infractions of the laws of our city, county, State and United States governments.

"Never but once has the subject of an overt act come before this organization and the man who brought the subject upon the floor was summarily banished.

HELPS GRAND JURY

"This body, which today is acting as a provisional Klan, is pleased that the Kern county grand jury is making the present investigation, and its earnest desire is that the grand jury place the blame wherever it may fall, and give credit where it belongs. This organization gave to the officials the information upon which they arrested three men in connection with the assault on Richey, a rent car driver.

"Members of this organization promised Dist.-Atty. J. R. Dorsey their support in this investigation and in return he promised that, should any member voluntarily present any evidence, such member would receive due credit.

"A copy of this statement will be placed in the hands of the foreman of the Kern county grand jury.

It is believed that the taking of testimony by the grand jury is nearing an end. Action by the jury against certain alleged night riders is expected to follow conclusion of the hearings, as well as revealing some of the documentary evidence and names of persons said to be liable to criminal prosecution.

The "banished" members, according to information here, are the twenty men whose expulsion from the organization was voted by the Bakersfield or the Kern River organizations of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. These men are to be ousted from the "invisible empire for the best interests of the organization," it was stated. Their names will not be made public until approved by William S. Japanese Flies, Bees and Wasps Coming on Ice

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—A consignment of 120,000 flies and wasps is now en route from Japan to the United States in cold storage, according to official advices from Tokio.

This shipment is being made by C. P. Clausen and J. L. King, government entomologists, who were sent to Japan by the United States Department of Agriculture to endeavor to discover the natural enemies of a Japanese beetle, which was accidentally introduced into the United States some years ago, and which has been doing considerable damage to truck farms in a number of eastern States, particularly New Jersey.

The shipment includes two species of flies and one of wasp. The collection represents two years' scientific work. The insects are all in the pupa stage. They will be forwarded to the laboratories of the Department of Agriculture, at Riverton, N. J.

DEBS ANXIOUS TO RETURN TO PRISON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Eugene V. Debs, who was released from Atlanta Federal prison last December on commutation of sentence by President Harding, has written to leaders of the "Children's Crusade" that "if the fathers of these children deserve to be kept in prison with murderers, I have no right to be at large."

"They (imprisoned war law violators) are no more guilty than I," said Mr. Debs, in a letter made public here today by leaders of the amnesty petitioners, "and I shall insist upon their release or upon my being returned to prison."

CHANG ARMY MEETS DEFEAT

lies twelve miles southwest of Peking, under a heavy fire this morning. Observers standing on the Marco Polo bridge saw the forces of Gen. Wu Pei-Fu, estimated at 40,000, emerge from the village and deliver a rapid attack with rifles and machine guns, driving Chang's army eastward toward Fengtai. The retreating army fell back upon the banks of the Hun River, which later they were forced to cross. Horses, infantry, artillery and camel trains plunged into the shallow water, leaving behind wounded and stragglers, who were captured.

Chang's soldiers then took up positions near Fengtai, which is closer to Peking, but the Wu troops cut off all the approaches to the city from the westward. Fighting near Fengtai, which is on the Peking-Tien-tsin railroad continued throughout the morning. The sounds of firing were heard by persons who climbed upon the south walls of the city.

The opinion of the military attaches is that the Wu forces are attempting to gain control of the railroad and thus cut off Chang's army from the capital. A dispatch from Tien-tsin reports that heavy Chang reinforcements are being dispatched westward.

Diplomatic circles here discredit the report of Wednesday that Gen. Wu was killed in action. Nevertheless, they are without definite confirmation or denial of the reports. Circulars printed in the Chinese language and distributed in Peking today purported to give the circumstances of the death of Wu, which is declared to have occurred while fighting at Machang.

This circular asserts that Gen. Chang paid a reward of $500,000 to the soldiers engaged in the battle in which Wu is said to have been killed.

Acting Premier Chow Tzu-Chi has sent Roy Anderson, an American, to Fengtai to negotiate with Gen. Wu Pei-Fu's commanders regarding their relations with the Peking government, it was announced this afternoon.

DENIAL BY JAPAN

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOKIO, May 4.—In response to allegations from Peking and Washington that Japan is encouraging and assisting Gen. Chang Tso-Lin in the present fighting in China, the following statement was made to a correspondent on authority of the Foreign Minister.

"Gen. Chang Tso-Lin's activities are now directly contrary to advice recently given him by the Japanese, who urged him to confine his abilities to proper government in Manchuria, to the suppression of bandits, to proper supervision of railways and to larger development of industries. It was suggested that he was not versed in politics, in Middle China, and therefore, it was not wise to interfere.

"Gen. Chang, however, listened to an invitation from Dr. Sun Yat Sen, precipitating war, wherein Japan intends to preserve the strictest neutrality. No weapons and no munitions have been sold to Gen. Chang, or any other faction by Japan since the conclusion of a consortium agreement. The strictest orders were given to belligerent troops, who were not permitted to embark from land at any parts controlled by the Japanese, which is a sufficient answer to the charge that the Mukden army landed at Tsingtao and Dairen. Japan naturally was unable to prevent them from landing on the coast of Shantung, which is outside of Japanese jurisdiction, but they were not aware of any forces landing there.

WITHDRAWAL PLANNED

"Japan is anxious for the Chinese to settle their internal troubles and give Tokio the desired opportunity to carry out the policy decided upon toward China, a policy based on a sincere desire to demonstrate generous friendship. The plan includes the withdrawal of every Japanese soldier from China, not only the Shantung garrison, but troops also in Hankow and Tien-tsin. The War Office had planned a complete withdrawal and the breaking out of the civil war alone prevented an announcement of this. It is feared that withdrawal at this moment might be of possible danger now to foreigners in China."

In connection with Siberian developments, the Foreign Office states that it is expecting receipt momentarily of a request from Chita to resume the conference which was ruptured in Dairen. There is no intention of increasing the Japanese force in Siberia. The time-expired men are to be withdrawn and they will soon be relieved by other troops.

BAY CITY HUNT FOR HUGE APE

grounds for the warrant, it was finally decided, were wife abandonment and omitting to provide for minor children. While debating with the police whether these charges could apply to monkeys, a telephone call came.

"This is Fireman Julius Cain, at 47 Engine. I'm locked in the firehouse and there's a wild man-eating monkey outside. Send help right away."

The police decided to act. They sent out Policeman Arthur Dolan with a shotgun and revolver. The show management despatched two of its bloodhounds to the firehouse on Point Lobos and Forty-seventh avenues.

JOCKO SEES THEM FIRST

Jocko, however, saw them coming. He scampered away to the Sutro Park fence, scaled the barrier and disappeared into the trees. The bloodhounds, unable to climb the trees, lost the scent. Dolan was obliged to give up the hunt.

This morning reports came fast to the Richmond Police Station. Women and children sent frightened appeals for help. The monkey had been perching on fences, performing tricks, climbing water spouts and going through all sorts of monkey antics. When passers-by approached him, however, he turned, snarling, and forced them to take to their heels. Skirts flew high and screams were loud all day.

With orders to shoot on sight, Policemen T. F. O'Connell and Harry Zaun this afternoon were assigned to the hunt. Once or twice the hunters sighted their prey, but before they could get their artillery into action, it had slipped from sight. Reports to the police at a late hour this afternoon were that the wily orang-outang was still at large.

LONDON-PARIS BATTLE IS ON

to Barthou that Great Britain can make a separate agreement with Russia at any time she desires, but she prefers a general settlement. He will insist there must be a reconsideration of the Allies' attitude toward Germany or the reconstruction of Europe cannot be accomplished.

In deciding today to accept the nonaggression idea the French Cabinet announced that it would sign provided there was no reopening of old treaties, that rights granted by existing treaties shall not be foregone, that Russia sign the pact that boundary lines already delimited shall not be reconsidered, and that penalties now in force against Germany shall not be lifted.

The British are not sympathetic toward part of this program. In fact, it was announced today that despite the decision of Premier Poincare not to come to Genoa before May 31 for a meeting of the Allies to consider the reparations question, the meeting will be held anyway before that date.

CARDINAL POINTS

There are two fundamental points that Lloyd George will make in his conference with Barthou. The first is that Great Britain would like to continue the relations with France that kept these two countries in the closest alliance during the war and the period immediately after, but the British Premier will not permit Poincare to block his plans for the general reconstruction of Europe. The second is that the Genoa conference is going to end either in a general agreement between the western powers and Russia, or in a scramble to make separate terms with the Bolsheviki.

Unless France plays with Lloyd George and the rest of Europe's statesmen, she will have to play a lone hand. Unfortunately the Bolsheviki realize this and are making capital of the situation.

The Bolshevik delegation presented to the advance commission of the conference a long memorandum sketching Russia's need for the reconstruction of railways, industries and agriculture. It said that for agriculture, $500,000,000 was required in the next three years, two-thirds of this to be spent for machinery. For transport $1,000,000,000 is needed and for industries about $500,000,000.

CONFERENCE WRECKED

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, May 4. — M. Barthou will return to Genoa tomorrow with instructions which will wreck the conference so far as actual accomplishments there are concerned. The Poincare cabinet has decided definitely to support Belgium's protest over the disposition of the oil lands by Russia and to insist on France's right to enforce the provision of the Versailles Treaty through the occupation of more German territory regardless of a nonaggression pact.

Although it is expected here that the jurists, experts and politicians at Genoa will find a way of squirming out of these reservations by drafting involved documents with meaningless phraseology for signature by the powers, it is admitted that Prime Minister Lloyd George's last hopes of making the conference a real success have been smashed.

M. Barthou also carries M. Poincare's response to Mr. Lloyd George's suggestion for a supreme council meeting prior to May 31, stating that the Allies must await Germany's counter proposals and the reparation commission must act on the German request for a delay, if it is made before that date, before the policy and sanctions to be taken if the Treaty is violated can be discussed.

Herr Bergman, former chairman of the German reparations committee, arrived in Paris today from Berlin to discuss with the reparations commission the new proposals Germany is willing to make for the May 31 payments.

NO RESPONSIBILITY

BORAH HITS BAKHMETE

Idaho Senator Charges Russian Envoy Has C
Part of Kerensky Loan to Own Use

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Asserting the belief that teff, the last Ambassador of the Russian government to United States, never had presented to the State Departm
"properly accrediting" him as the Russian Ambassador, Republican, Idaho, charged in the Senate today that M. had used a part of the $187,000,000 loaned by the United Kerensky government of Russia and had invested it in New Chicago.

Mr. Borah likewise criticised and protested against a continuation of the policy of according to M. Bakhmeteff the privileges and immunities of a diplomat.

ALSO HITS SEMENOFF

In the course of an extended discussion the Idaho Senator also attacked Gen. Gregorie Semenoff, Russian anti-Bolshevik leader, into whose presence in this country the Senate Labor Committee has been conducting an investigation. Mr. Borah expressed the fear the general was here to obtain funds with which to promote a new revolution in Russia and described him as responsible for crimes, the brutality of which "has never been equaled in the history of the world."

CITES ONE WITNESS

Regarding the charge that M. Bakhmeteff had not turned over all of the American loan to the Kerensky government, Mr. Borah declared that a priest of the Greek church was ready to testify before the labor committee as to the investment of some of the funds in New York and Chicago real estate. The information which Mr. Borah had, he said, was to the effect that the property was in the hands of a holding company which was organized by M. Bakhmeteff for that purpose. The income, he assumed, went to M. Bakhmeteff.

Senators Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, and Smoot, Republican, Utah, suggested that the money loaned by this government had been used to purchase war materials in this country and which, subsequently, were sold

KILL THREE FREE STATERS DURING PEACE MEETING

Irish Republican Regulars, Irregulars in Conflict; Four-Day Armistice is Signed at Dublin

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDONDERRY (Ireland) May 4.—Three Free Staters were killed and three seriously wounded in a conflict between Irish republican army regulars and irregulars today on the Free State side of the Londonderry-Donegal border at Burt.

The Free State forces in lorries were going to Buncrana to reinforce the garrison there, and were ambushed by a large force of irregulars, who opened a heavy fire on them.

TEMPORARY PEACE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, May 4.—The peace conference between the rival factions in Ireland met today and decided upon a truce between the rival army forces beginning at 4 p.m. today and lasting until the same time next Monday.

The conference was a most friendly one, and the fact that it was prolonged is taken here to point to the arrangement of a plan for unity, which the Dail Eireann can accept tomorrow. If any such agreement is reached it is believed to mean an improvement in the position of Eamonn de Valera and his followers, who would be given a chance to share in the portfolios of the Dail Cabinet. Likewise, the dissident army supporting the De Valeraites would coalesce with the army at general headquarters and its generals resume their high commands in the reunited body.

Moreover, De Valera's persistent protest against June elections would be left for the new parliament to debate. The constitution would be elected without contests, labor being given a due share in the new body. This, instead of displacing the Dail in June, would give it a new lease of life during the transition period, which, however, must end before next December, since the Anglo-Irish peace treaty prescribes that Free State elections shall be held within twelve months of the signature of the treaty.

VIRTUALLY SECURED

These concessions already have been virtually secured to De Valera by the document agreed to by Michael Collins and Richard Mulcahy, as the basis for peace. The important point of difference concerns the area of the new parliament's jurisdiction and raises the whole partition question.

The rival military chiefs had no difficulty today in arranging the truce which suspends hostilities, including acts of aggression against person or property, and virtually stops recruiting by either force.

Couriers have been dispatched to Kilkenny to order a cessation of the fighting there.

A. J. GRONNA, FORMER SENATOR, IS DEAD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LATOKA (N. D.) May 4.—Asle J. Gronna, former United States Senator from North Dakota, died at his home here tonight. He was 64 years old. Mr. Gronna recently returned from Rochester, Minn., where he underwent an operation.

Senator Gronna served in the United States Senate ten years from 1911 to 1921, but was defeated for renomination by Dr. E. F. Ladd. He had announced his candidacy as a rival of Senator McCumber at the coming election.

Although he attracted unfavorable notoriety as one of the six Senators who voted against the declaration of war with Germany, his career in that body was regarded as stamping him as a man of ability.

Mr. Gronna was a Scandinavian-American, native of Iowa and educated in the schools of Minnesota and North Dakota. He began his political career in the Territorial Legislature. Later, when North Dakota began to select its Representatives to Congress, he found his way thither, having won the votes of electors by his ability and success as a farmer and a shrewd business man. He soon made a reputation for aggressive independence as a partisan and when in 1911 he was named for the Senate to fill out an unexpired term of Senator Johnson, he simply transferred to the Senate the same attitude that had marked him as a Representative.

JEWS INJURED IN WARSAW MAY RIOT

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DANZIG, May 4.—Several Jewish workmen were stabbed and hundreds of others badly beaten during the May Day celebration in Warsaw, when their labor meeting was surrounded and attacked by students of the chief Rosvoy party, reinforced, it is declared, by members of the Polish Socialist party, according to advices from Warsaw.

SIERRA MADRE GETS WOMAN POSTMASTER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Mrs. Jessica H. Wright, 266 Monticito street, Sierra Madre, has been designated as postmaster for that city after a spirited contest.

The selection was finally approved by Congressman Lineberger today after a close examination of her indorsements. She was not only indorsed by the Republican organizations, but by the Women's Club and other civic organizations. This, together with her standing in the examination, won for her the coveted place.

GERMANY WILL TAX AMERICANS

Everybody in Rhineland Must Help Pay Part of Reparations

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, May 4.—American corporations maintaining manufacturing and purchasing offices in Germany, as well as private citizens living here, are apt to be called upon to pay part of Germany's reparation bill.

The new government bill for 1,000,000,000 gold marks (about $250,000,000) loan, which the Reichstag has passed, under the Entente pressure, for the purpose of raising reparations funds will provide for taking a part of the fortunes of foreigners as well as of Germans. The present plans provide that everyone living in Germany or financially represented here, comes under the provisions of the bill. Fortunes under 200,000 marks (about $60,000) are exempt. All other fortunes are forced to donate to the government from 10 to 60 per cent, according to the size of the fortune.

The government proposes to reimburse the forced lenders through bonds, which are not interest bearing the first three years and then paying 3 or 4 per cent interest. The date for redemption of these bonds has not been fixed. The Bourse is already preparing to handle these bonds, voting them at about one-sixth their face value.

SLASH BUDGETS FOR STATE INSTITUTIONS

SAN QUENTIN AND FOLSOM ONLY ONES ESCAPING CUTS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—California's thirteen State institutions, not including the San Quentin and Folsom prisons, will be forced to operate during the new fiscal year, beginning July 1, on a net budget of $4,431,570. The prospective revenue for the institutions for the period is $4,852,538, it was announced today by Clarence E. Jarvis, chief of the division of budgets and accounts of the State Board of Control, who with Dr. John A. Reilly, director of the State department of institutions, passed upon the budgets submitted by the institution heads.

In going over the budgets Jarvis and Dr. Reilly deducted $420,968 from the general running expenses of the institutions, including slight salary cuts. Jarvis declared the deductions were made without impairing the efficiency or service of the institutions.

Of the $420,968 cut from the institution's budgets, $176,418 represents what is termed the unbudgeted reserve. This reserve is built up by deducting approximately 10 per cent from the budget of each institution.

Jarvis and Dr. Reilly plan to leave tomorrow on a tour of inspection of the State institutions in this section. They will first visit the Mendocino State Hospital at Ukiah, and then in turn, the Sonoma State Home, the Women's Prison Farm, Sonoma county, and the Napa State Hospital.

BOARD OF TRADE WATCHES CLOSELY

The residence, which is now twenty-eight years old, is valued at about 2,000,000 yen.

ALAMEDA WOMAN ON WAY TO PRISON

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OAKLAND, May 4.—Mrs. Jesusita d'Agostini of Alameda was sentenced to from one to ten years in San Quentin State prison today upon her conviction last week on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the shooting and killing of Arnold Postel, an Alameda merchant. She was started for the prison an hour after sentence was imposed.

Mrs. d'Agnostina was tried twice for murder, but the jury in the second trial reduced the charge to manslaughter and returned a guilty verdict.

Convenio Petrolero Mexicano

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, mayo 4.—Comentando la conclusión de sus discusiones con los petroleros americanos, reiteró hoy el Ministro de la Huerta su afirmación de que se había llegado a resultados satisfactorios para ambas partes. Como los americanos, dió á entender el ministro mexicano que se había dejado para el futuro el asunto del sindicato para explotar todos los recursos petroleros de México.

"Más tarde se determinarán los planes para mayores exploraciones y explotaciones, después que se estudien más atentamente los diferentes puntos de vista que han sido considerados tanto por el gobierno mexicano, como por las compañías petroleras," dijo el Ministro.

Los Católicos Mexicanos Indignados

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, mayo 4. Se ha exacerbado la enemistad entre los católicos y la Unión Obrera Roja, con motivo del ataque dado a un club de jóvenes católicos y de la profanación de imágenes en la capilla. Dicen los católicos que van a organizar una procesión monstruo, en señal de protesta, y que irán armados durante el desfile. Los Rojos manifiestan que atacarán a dicha procesión.

Tren Mexicano Robado

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, mayo 4.—Fué parado un tren de pasajeros de Jalapa a Puebla, ayer, por un grupo de más de cincuenta hombres, en Amatucan, a cuatro millas de Puebla. Al decir del corresponsal del Excelsior en Puebla, los pasajeros fueron robados y various de ellos muertos. Numerosas víctimas llegaron a Puebla, despojadas de sus ropas.

NOTAS LOCALES

Madalynne en la Tribuna de los Testigos

Ayer se presentó repentinamente Madalynne Obenchain en el jurado de Arthur C. Burch. Como testigo de sorpresa por parte de la acusación, la aparición de Madalynne vino a ser la culminación de un día lleno de incidentes dramáticos.

Entre los momentos sensacionales citaremos aquel en que la Sra. J. D. Kennedy, madre de J. Belton Kennedy, el hombre asesinado, casi se encontró con la Sra. Dora Burch, madre del joven reo; aquel en que la Sra. Kennedy exclamó: "Me repugna pronunciar el nombre," refiriéndose al de Arthur Burch; la larga pausa que siguió a esta pregunta de Madalynne: "Entonces, se ha sobreseído ya en la acusación contra mí?"—y no ha habido tal—y el testimonio de la Sra. Mary Bailiff, a quien el tribunal tuvo que amonestar porque "gruñó y ladró" contra los abogados de la defensa.

Madalynne saludó con la cabeza a varios conocidos, y habló a los periodistas que estaban sentados a corta distancia de ella. Después, de modo casual, como si atrajese ligeramente su atención un nuevo objeto de insignificante interés clavó su mirada en Burch. Con ojos igualmente indiferentes, y con ademán igualmente frío, Arthur miró a Madalynne. Se volteó ella luego a hablar con William B. Bierne, su abogado, y Burch hizo otro tanto con Bailiff Reader.

Se Anuncia una Rebaja de Tres Centavos en el Gas

Ayer anunció la Comisión de Ferrocarriles del Estado un cambio en el precio del gas que reducirá en 3 centavos el valor de los 1000 pies cúbicos. Está en vigor para todas las lecturas de contador, a partir del 2 del actual, y reduce a 73 centavos millar de pies de gas artificial o mezclado en cantidades mínimas. El precio del gas natural queda sin alteración.

El costo de estas variedades de gas ha sido de 76 centavos desde agosto 1 del año próximo pasado. Esto se debió a un recargo de 3 centavos concedido a Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, en tanto hacía dicha compañía su solicitud de aumentos de cuotas. La Comisión de Ferrocarriles autorizó el recargo, en virtud de que las compañías estaban pagando más por su petróleo. Ahora ha suprimido la comisión este recargo porque ya se ha nivelado el costo del petróleo. Con el repetido recargo, la compañía de gas de Los Angeles pudo rehacerse de $249,000.

Se Encuentran los Fondos de Venecia

Ayer encontraron los empleados del Ministerio Público $28,500 en bonos y valores, en la caja de depósitos de seguridad de James Peasgood, Tesorero desaparecido de la Ciudad de Venecia, acusado de malversación de fondos de dicha ciudad, por valor de $35,000. Los funcionarios de Venecia dijeron anoche que ellos creían que los $6000 restantes del aparente déficit, va a resultar que son error de contabilidad mal llevada.

La caja que a su propio nombre rentó Peasgood en el First National Bank de Venecia, fué abierta después que los investigadores del Ministerio Público habían obtenido una orden de registro.

DEPORTES

Golf

Ayer fué derrotado por C. J. Johnson, "Gloomy Gus" Henderson, que se había empatado con Frank Tatum para primer lugar en el torneo de golf de Annandale. Elmer Ralphs, otra estrella, fué batido por Fred Le Blonde, Jr.

Baseball

Ayer, en el parque Washington, se emparejó San Francisco en la serie con Vernon, ganando el partido por un tanteo de 5 a 4. Los Angeles barrió en el Norte con Oakland en un acalorado partido. La anotación fué de 2 a 0.

Boliche

Ayer, en el Congreso de Boliche que se halla en sesión en las mesas del Angelus, la Srita. Scott, la más antigua jugadora de bolos en América, ganó a todos sus rivales.

Boxeo

Travie Davis, campeón de peso medio de la Costa, se encontrará esta noche con Bud Soules, en el número principal del programa de la Legión Americana en el tablado de Hollywood.

Florete

El 4 de junio presentará aquí la Liga Francesa un torneo de esgrima. Las inscripciones se cerrarán el 15 de mayo.

TWO MEN KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CANTON (O.) May 4.—Two men were killed and five wounded, three probably fatally, in a gun battle late today between a posse and four gunmen, which was staged about five miles north of here. The battle, which lasted more than an hour, followed the kidnaping by the gunmen of Motorcycle Policeman John Wise. Several hundred shots were fired.

The gunmen kidnaped Wise when he attempted to arrest them for speeding in an automobile, just inside the city limits.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO SET MEN'S STYLES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 4.—A central merchandise committee to be selected by clothing merchants all over the country to set a national style in men's clothing, was announced at the final day's session of the United National Clothiers today.

The committee would select a staple product on which small merchants could concentrate each year, Secretary W. L. Mohr said, and this would result in a saving both to consumer and producer.

DEBATE STIRS UP SENATORS

Indiana Primary Cause of Democratic Gas Attack

Underwood Sees Failure of Administration

Republicans Willing to Meet Issue, Says Smoot

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Senate had an old-time political debate today growing out of the result of the Republican Senatorial primary in Indiana, and revolving around the question of what will be the paramount issue in the election in November.

Senator McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the Republican Senatorial campaign committee, quoting from former Gov. Cox of Ohio, contended that the Democrats were seeking to make the League of Nations the chief issue, but Senator Underwood of Aalabama, the minority leader, and other Democrats, insisted that the existing economic conditions would be the big question before the voters.

"The mistakes of the Republican party," said Senator Underwood, "are its failure to relieve the business of the country from the undue burdens of taxation, its passage of the bill increasing the burden of taxation, and its failure to bring the expenditures of the government to anything approximating those that existed before the war."

KING PREDICTS REACTION

Senator King, Utah, and Senator Heflin, Alabama, both Democrats, said the result in the Indiana Republican primary was a blow to the present administration and Senator King predicted that in November, former Gov. Ralston, the Democratic Senatorial candidate in Indiana, would be elected and that there would be "reactions in other States."

There was a heated colloquy between Senators Heflin and McCormick as to whether Senator New had voted for the League of Nations in the Senate. Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, broke into the discussion to say that the League could not have been an issue in the Indiana campaign because while Senator New had voted for the League with reservations, former Senator Beveridge, victor in the primary, had declared against the League, with or without reservations.

LEAGUE NOT ISSUE

Senator Smoot went on to say that in his judgment the League of Nations would not be the issue in November; that the issue would be the economic question.

"I think if the Democrats will let this tariff bill pass in time before the elections there will be no question about the verdict," he said. "The rates are only such as will barely protect industry, and if they do not protect it we will see the same result that there was under the present law before the war, when the balance of trade was running strongly against us.

"So far as the Republican party is concerned, we are perfectly willing to meet the issue and I have no fear as to the result."

Chairman McCumber, of the Finance Committee, also declared that the economic question would be the issue and asserted that no amount of "braggadocio or blowing" by the Democrats was going to change the minds of American people very much.

CLEARS UP MYSTERY OF CHARRED BONES

BROTHER SOUGHT TO BURY SISTER IN OLD FAMILY BURIAL PLOT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YOSEMITE, May 4.—Charred human remains found recently in a box near Yosemite Falls and murder theories which brought park rangers, police and University of California experts actively into an investigation were explained last night. Park officials stated they had received a letter from a man who said the remains were those of his sister. They refused to disclose the man's name, but said he lived in McCloud, and that his family was prominently identified with the early history of Yosemite.

His letter told of his bringing the ashes to the park nine years ago in hopes of burying them beside those of another sister, buried there many years before Yosemite was a national park. He feared the government would refuse permission for the burial, so had left the box of ashes under a pine tree until he should have an opportunity to place them in the old forgotten cemetery by night. That chance had never come.

His sister's death had occurred in 1888 in Los Angeles and the body had been buried there until the growth of the southern city forced the removal of the cemetery. The body was disinterred and cremated, and the ashes brought to the park then.

Permission for the burial probably will be given in accordance with the brother's original hopes, park officials said.

CAMERON DEMURS TO PERJURY INDICTMENT

ARGUMENTS ON CAMPAIGN CASE WILL BE HEARD IN PHOENIX

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX, May 4. — A general demurrer to an indictment charging Senator Ralph Cameron, Republican, of Arizona, with perjury in connection with returns on campaign expenditures in the 1920 election was filed in the United States District Court here yesterday. Later it was announced that arguments on the demurrer would be heard in Phoenix on May 11 by Federal Judge Van Fleet of California.

It was agreed in stipulation that should the demurrer be overruled on May 11 the trial then would proceed at once.

The indictment, made public today for the first time, contains two counts alleging perjury. One count charges that a return filed at Prescott, Ariz., Oct. 22, 1920, failed to show receipt of money from the following:

Harry N. Williams of Philadelphia, $3500; Republican senatorial committee, approximately $5000; Cameron Michael Company of New York, $300; F. J. Reese, Philadelphia, $500.

The second count in the indictment declares there were discrepancies in a return showing campaign expenditures, filed in Maricopa county, Arizona, on Nov. 15, 1920. The following names and sums are alleged to have been omitted:

Harry Williams, Philadelphia, $14,500; Elizabeth Reese, Philadelphia, $500; Arizona Central Bank of Flagstaff, approximately $10,000; Angus McSween, $10,000.

CONSIDER LOCKOUT OF BRITISH UNIONS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LONDON, May 4.—The industrial court which was especially set up to consider the lockout of engineers began taking evidence yesterday in London at the moment when the lockout became effective, throwing out of employment 600,000 men in addition to the 150,000 already out.

At the opening session of the court counsel of the unions appealed to the court to order the lockout suspended while the court was sitting, but Sir Barton Smith, chairman of the employers' federation, declared the court had no jurisdiction in the matter, and he was supported by Sir William Mackenzie, the chairman of the court.

RATE REDUCTION CASE REHEARING IS DENIED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The Railroad Commission today denied a rehearing in the Southern California Edison Company case, in which rate reductions were ordered in emergency proceedings instituted by the commission. The California Farm Bureau Federation and two consumers applied for the rehearing, raising questions concerning allowances for Federal and State taxes.

The commission said there was no need for a rehearing in view of the fact that a complete investigation of the rate question would be made in the near future.

OIL CONTRACT IS EXPLAINED

Leases Made to Conserve Navy's Supply

Fuel in Reserves Was Being Drained, Claim

Storage of Emergency Found Necessary

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4. — Disposal of oil received by the government under the leases entered into with private concerns in the California and Wyoming reserves will be subject to action by Congress, Secretary Denby today told the Senate Appropriation Committee.

"The policy of the Navy Department," said Mr. Denby, "is to get a certain amount of oil regarded as sufficient for an emergency war reserve. We are acting now legally as the law exists. The department does not intend to nullify the will of Congress."

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt testified that for the next two years at least, oil taken under the private leases ought to be conserved for the proposed war emergency reserve. He added there might later be a surplus for current fleet operations.

OIL BEING DRAINED

During his discussion of the naval oil reserve, Secretary Denby said that it was discovered that private wells in the California naval oil reserve were depleting the government's oil by drainage.

"As soon as that situation was discovered," Mr. Denby continued, "I asked for the transfer of jurisdiction over the naval reserve to the Secretary of the Interior. The President ordered the transfer, to administer as a trust for the Navy.

"I signed the Teapot Dome lease (that in the Wyoming reserve to the Sinclair oil interests) because it was discovered that all the oil was being drained.

Senator Hale, Republican, Maine, asked why the private leases did not provide for storage of oil secured instead of cash royalties.

"There was no particular reason for doing that," Secretary Denby replied, stating it would be a long time before any considerable amount of cash would be received from the lessees. He also explained that for royalties the department takes "certificates" payable by the lessees in oil or cash as the government shall decide. None of the certificates so far received have been used, Mr. Denby said.

COMPLAINS OF PURCHASE

Senator Newberry, Republican, Michigan, declared the certificates were "only a promissory note by some oil corporations to pay oil or cash."

Senator Poindexter complained that the Navy Department had bought considerable oil on the Atlantic Coast at $2.25 to $3 per barrel and less on the Pacific Coast at about $1.50. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt said this was because of a "peculiar contract under unusual circumstances made by the former administration with the New England Oil Company, Fall River, Mass.

The government, Mr. Roosevelt said, advanced money to the corporation, which became financially involved after securing a 2,000,000-barrel contract.

"The cheapest thing for the government," he said, "was to try to prevent the corporation from failing and to get our oil as soon as possible."

A rise next year in oil prices on the Atlantic Coast, because of depletion of certain Texas fields and unsettled conditions in the Mexican fields, was predicted by Commander Cobey of the Bureau of Supplies. The oil trade is giving warning of "every probability of an increase," probably of 25 cents a barrel this week, he said, but production on the Pacific Coast was expected to keep prices there stable, he added.

VALLEJO MAY DIVERT WATER FROM CREEKS

STATE DIVISION HAS SIGNED PERMIT AFTER TWO-YEAR DELAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VALLEJO, May 4.—After nearly two years' delay, the State Division of Water Rights has signed the permit allowing the city of Vallejo to divert seven cubic feet of water per second from creeks flowing into Gordon Valley in Napa and Solano counties for a new municipal water supply.

Bonds to the amount of $1,250,000 were voted by Vallejo two years ago for additional water supply, when it was found that the municipal lakes in Green Valley were too small to supply water to the increased population. The reservoir planned for the additional supply will impound 10,000-acre feet of water.

Under the permit just granted, actual construction on the project must start by July 15, and be steadily prosecuted, or the permit will be revoked.

WOMAN FACES TRIAL ON LARCENY CHARGE

Accused of stealing a fur coat valued at $160, from a local department store, Mrs. Bertha Sperry went to trial yesterday before Judge Shenk. She is accused of grand larceny and burglary, and is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney. Frank McDonald is her attorney. Mrs. Merriam B. Billings, a store detective, and Mrs. E. Apple and others from the store, testified yesterday. The case will be resumed today.

DR. JOSEPH N. McCORMICK

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 8.—Dr. Joseph Nathaniel McCormick, 76 years old, nationally known physician, died at his home here today of paralysis.

At one time Walker D. Hines, former railroad director general, and Mackenzie Moss, former assistant commissioner of internal revenue, were employed as stenographers by Dr. McCormick.

DESPONDENT DOG TAKES HIS LIFE

Long, Lean Canine Jumps in Front of Street Car; Cut in Two

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.) May 4.—What is considered the first dog suicide in local history took place here yesterday, witnessed by several persons, including a number of city firemen.

The firemen were watching the drilling of a ditch when a long, lean dog crept toward them. When a street car came in sight the animal skulked out to a position near the tracks and when it came within a few feet deliberately jumped in front of it and was cut in two.

TREADWAY BILL IS PROBABLY KILLED

LAID ASIDE BY HOUSE, IS NOT EXPECTED TO BE REVIVED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—After three hours of rough-sledding the Treadway bill, providing for creation of ten additional internal revenue collection districts, was laid aside by the House tonight just at the voting point, with indications that it might not be called up again at this session.

Opposition to the measure, as reported by the Ways and Means members dissenting, developed so rapidly and unexpectedly that Republican leaders joining in the fight against it declared it had gone to the legislative morgue.

Chairman Fordney of the committee, Representatives Chandler, Oklahoma; Mills of New York, Republicans, and others, urged its passage as a means of expediting governmet business.

Mr. Fordney asserted it was a money saver in that the treasury would be able to collect back taxes amounting to $1,000,000,000.

Chairman Madden of the Appropriations Committee, Representatives Snell of New York; Layton of Delaware, and others on the Republican side attacked the proposal and urged its defeat. A dozen Democrats spoke against it and none in its defense.

After explaining that additional bureaus had been urged by Secretary Mellon, Mr. Fordney shouted: "My God, men, just the other day I got word from the collector that on my taxes paid in 1917, I was 72 cents short and told if I did not come in and pay, I should be arrested. They are that far back and count the interest on $1,000,000,000 a year and you see what the government is losing."

Representative Garrett, Tennessee, the Democratic leader, and Representative Collier, Mississippi, leading the Democratic fight, declared the advocates of the bill had failed to give "one single reason, aside from politics, why it should be passed."

ITALIAN ENVOY PAYS CALL ON GOVERNOR

AMBASSADOR RICCI HOPES NATIONS WILL CONTINUE FRIENDSHIP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—Rolandi Ricci, Italian Ambassador to the United States, today paid his respects to the State of California by an official call on Gov. Stephens at the Capitol. The Ambassador was accompanied by members of his staff, the Italian Consul-General of San Francisco, and members of a committee representing the local Italian colony.

The usual courtesies were exchanged, which Ricci expressed the hope that the friendship between America and the Italian people would be everlasting, which sentiment was warmly indorsed by Gov. Stephens. Following the conference Gov. Stephens returned the call by a visit to the Ambassador at a local hotel. A banquet on which several speakers of prominence appeared, was held tonight, after which the Ambassador left for Stockton.

TEST SANITY OF CONVICTED SLAYER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—Dr. John A. Reilly, director of the State department of institutions, has been authorized by Gov. Stephens to appoint a commission consisting of physicians of State hospitals to inquire into the sanity of John Valcalda, convicted of murder in Jackson, Amador county, and sentenced to be hanged in San Quentin.

This was announced yesterday, following receipt of an appeal from V. Filletti, Italian Consul-General at San Francisco, on the ground that Valcalda was insane at the time the offense was committed. Valcalda was recently resentenced after having lost his appeal to a higher court.

LEAVES MILLION TO TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Tuskegee Institute is the beneficiary of the entire residuary estate, estimated at approximately $1,000,000, of the late Albert M. P. Mitchell, retired business man and church worker, who died March 6, according to a petition filed with the will for probate in the surrogate's office here today. The petitioner is the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, which also is the executor.

The Alabama School for Negroes is a large beneficiary under the will. The Academy of Natural History receives a $5000 legacy.

MAY KICK OVER LANDIS AWARD

Chicago Union Heads Trying to Start Row

Want Bodies That Kept Word to Turn Tail

Lively Row Assured at Meet This Evening

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 4.—Repudiation of the Landis wage award by the twenty-two unions now working under agreement with the citizens' committee to enforce the award will be attempted at the meeting of the Building Trades Council tomorrow night, according to rumors in union-labor circles today.

This movement, it is asserted, is in line with the advice given the union leaders by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, on his recent visit here. Gompers insisted that all organizations in the building trades should act as a unit; that all should have accepted the award or have rejected it.

The tentative date set for the official repudiation of the award is May 16, if those engineering the move can convince the leaders of the twenty-two unions that such action is necessary as a union policy. That the effort will bring about a bitter fight in the council is believed certain.

MADER MAY RESIGN

That the resignation of Fred Mader as president of the council may be tendered and a new president elected also is reported as a possibility. Many of the union leaders believe that Mader's resignation and the selection of a man more acceptable to those fighting the present administration will clear the building situation. It is known that overtures have been made to officials of the citizens' committee as to the selection of a successor to Mader.

The plan to be carried out, if repudiation of the Landis scale is effected, is to ignore the citizens' committee completely and to enter into new negotiations with the contractors direct. President Gompers insisted that the citizens' committee has no standing in Chicago's building industry as, he said, not one member of the executive committee had been in any manner connected with building construction. He declared that the entire effort of the committee is to establish the open shop in Chicago.

TO AVOID TROUBLE

Those seeking to bring about the resignation of Mader take the stand that by the selection of some other executive an open rupture that would undoubtedly result over the open shop could be avoided.

Union principles involved in the rejection of the Landis award by the thirteen unions "outlawed" by the citizens' committee stand in the way of their acceptance, say their officials. The majority of these unions announced reductions in their wage scales and hoped to go along with the rest on a harmony basis. The citizens' committee refused to acknowledge their overtures or to compromise.

USE STENCH BOMB

Hundreds of employees in the Otis Building, Madison and LaSalle streets, were forced to leave hurriedly today when a stench bomb was left on the fourth floor. The bomb was left in front of room 438, one of the doors leading to the offices of the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award.

According to a young woman employed in the suite of offices, "the odor was something ferocious." She refused to give her name, but said the bomb was thrown into the door and "nearly suffocated us." Another employee said that a container was hung to the chandelier in the hallway containing the liquid that gave off the vile odor.

Union labor trouble is blamed for the smashing of a big plate-glass window being installed in a store at 3701½ Cottage Grove avenue. Police are seeking five armed men in an automobile who hurled a monkey wrench through the glass and escaped.

HARDING AND DAVIS CONFER WITH LEWIS

WHITE HOUSE STATEMENT ON COAL STRIKE IS EXPECTED SOON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Harding gave his personal consideration to the national coal strike today when he conferred at the executive office for two hours with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and Secretary Davis of the Department of Labor.

Mr. Lewis, with the approval of Secretary Davis, said the discussion had been upon certain fundamental conditions in the industry, but beyond this nothing could be said. The strike, from the union standpoint, he added, was developing normally and without any breaks.

The strike and its relation to the general economic situation has been considered at recent Cabinet meetings and exhaustive studies of the coal industry have been undertaken in co-operation with leading corporate producers and operators' associations by Secretary Hoover. Recent White House suggestions have been to the effect that the government might have something to propose to both miners and operators. Intimations were given today that the Labor Department in a few days might make public a statement concerning the strike. Actual participants in the strike controversy, however, said there was reason to believe the administration would continue for the present to maintain a "hands off" policy.

SPEEDERS KIDNAP TRAFFIC OFFICER

Men Overtaken and One is Wounded in Battle That Follows

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CANTON (O.) May 4.—Three automobilists whom Motorcycle Policeman Wise attempted to arrest for speeding late today forced the officer to get into their machine at the point of guns and speeded away. They were pursued and overtaken by four automobiles filled with officers. A gun fight followed in which one of the fugitives was seriously wounded. He was brought to a local hospital. Escaping from the gunmen, Officer Wise joined his brother officers in the pistol battle.

NOMINATION CAUSE OF POLITICAL ROW

NAMING OF GOLDSTEIN AS COLLECTOR STIRS HOUSE AND SENATE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINTON, May 4.—The nomination of Nat Goldstein to be Collector of Internal Revenue at St. Louis promises to stir up a lively political row in Congress.

Goldstein was a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1920. On the eve of the convention, Goldstein admitted on the stand before the Senatorial campaign fund inevstigating committee that he had received $2500 from the agents of Frank O. Lowden, then a candidate for the Republican nomination. The disclosure was generally believed to have destroyed Gov. Lowden's chances of nomination.

Newspaper accounts of President Harding's action in nominating Goldstein were read into the Congressional Record in both houses today. Senator Harrison, Mississippi, Democrat, had an account of the appointment read in the Senate, while Representative Oldfield, Arkansas, Democrat, read it to the House. Representative Oldfield brought the subject up in connection with the consideration of the bill creating ten new collectors of internal revenue.

"Perhaps this is to give offices to ten more Goldsteins," said Representative Oldfield. "The more of those fellows they appoint the better it is going to be for us Democrats."

The nomination was taken up by the Senate Finance Committee today. The statement was made that the nomination bore the indorsement of Senator Spencer, Missouri, Republican. It was decided to telegraph Senator Reed, Missouri, Democrat, now campaigning in Missouri, and ascertain whether he had any objection to the nomination. If he does not object it is the intention of the committee to report it favorably. Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, indicated, however, that he would make a fight against confirmation of the nomination by the Senate.

WILL PASS TARIFF BY 1946—PERHAPS

TIME ESTIMATE IS MADE BY EXPERT, DECLARES McCUMBER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—An estimate that at the present rate the pending tariff bill would be passed on Sept. 29, 1946, was given to the Senate today by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, in charge of the measure, who said the estimate had been prepared by an expert who based his calculation on the fact that just two of the 2000 odd amendments to the measure have been acted on in thirteen days. "I think that after listening to the debate today," said Senator McCumber, "we will have to add thirty or forty years more to that estimate."

Asserting that the tariff bill had not been discussed one-fifth of the time it had been before the Senate, he declared:

"We have all gone off on extraneous matters. Unless we get down to the bill itself, I'll tell what will happen. You will get tired of hearing your own voices and before you have considered one-third of the bill you will be ready to swallow all of it."

Night sessions, he added, might become necessary, but he thought that by meeting from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. the measure could be passed in a reasonable time.

The Senate voted today on the question of the committee amendments, rejecting 26 to 47 an amendment by Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, to reduce the proposed duty on boric acid from 1½ cents a pound to three-quarters of 1 cent a pound. The committee rate then was approved.

ADMITS KILLING, IS FREED BY JURY

SLEW MAN WHO HAD BEATEN AND ROBBED HIS BENEFACTOR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Carl Veith, who admitted on the witness stand that he shot and killed William Doyle on April 9 last because Doyle had beaten and robbed his aged mother of $5 a few hours before the slaying, was acquitted today of murder by a jury in Judge Mancuso's court. The verdict was returned in two hours and thirty-five minutes. In discharging Veith from custody Judge Mancuso said:

"Return to that mother to whom you have shown such devotion, Continue to be dutiful to her. I am sure you will be. God bless you."

Veith, on the witness stand, told the jury that Doyle, who was homeless, had been befriended by his mother and himself for many years. They fed the man, and on the day of the killing Doyle wore one of Veith's best shirts, which Mrs. Veith had given him. Doyle later attacked the aged woman in her home and, leaving her unconscious, fled with $5.

Veith admitted he took his grandfather's Civil War pistol from the wall, purchased cartridges to fit it and four hours later killed Doyle when he encountered him in front of 5 East Broadway.

A. J. Jones Not Howling Success With His Wives

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 4. — Archibald J. Jones is not a howling success with women who become his wives. He admitted as much in court today when he was defending himself against a charge of nonsupport.

"I never had much success with my wives," he sighed. "Somehow I seemed to irritate them. Women get violent when they look at me.

"My first wife, Ethel, drowned herself in Lake Michigan. My second, Clara, shot me and herself. Now Doris here, my third, threatens to kill me. I can't understand it."

"I can explain it, Your Honor," spoke up Doris. "He is drunk all the time. He beats me when he is drunk which means that he is constantly beating me. He gets a salary of $200 a month but I get none of it to maintain the home.'

Judge Adams ordered Jones, who is 32, to pay his wife $15 a week and advised them to get a divorce.

WANT LADY ASTOR DEPORTED TO HOME

VETERANS' ORGANIZATION PASSES RESOLUTION; ANNA FITZIU ANGRY, TOO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Corp. Patrick J. Farrell Post, No. 142, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Edgewater, N. J., has resolved in regular meeting that Lady Astor is "an undesirable alien with an unharnessed tongue," and recommends that she be deported.

And, in addition, Anna Fitziu, well-known grand opera star, has said: "I resent what Lady Astor said about the G.A.R., and I also am a Virginian. These English women try to make fools of us. They come to ridicule and spread British propaganda. There are lots of American women here on our own shores who are just as clever as Lady Nancy. Affairs in England aren't so right that it can afford to criticise other governments."

The adjutant of the veterans' post has been directed to forward the resolution to the proper authorities and to the press generally. The ex-service men vigorously defend the Grand Army of the Republic.

FARM CONFERENCE WATCHES HENS LAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SANTA CRUZ, May 4.—The spring conference of the State Farm Bureau visited the California egg-laying contest on its annual trip this morning.

From there the conference went to Thornhill ranch to inspect the University of California type of poultry house, and thence to Watsonville to assist in laying the corner-stone of the East Side center hall. The party will make visits as far south as San Diego.

JOHNSON AIDES' DUPLICITY TOLD

Lineberger Tacks Lie to Garbled Interview

Opposes Renomination of Obstructionist

Believes Senator No Longer Represents State

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Representative Lineberger is opposed to the renomination of Hiram Johnson by the Republicans of California for the Senate. In a wire to Chairman Galen Welch, he says:

"Purported McClatchy interview appearing in Daily Telegram of April 26, and various others papers of State, both misquoted and garbled my statements. Am still of opinion stated in my open letter to Telegram, regarding Senator Johnson, and hope he will not be nominated by Republican party: Only in event of this unfortunate occurrence would I support him, and then only as the party nominee."

SENDS HOT REPLY

Today Lineberger sent a hot letter to J. A. Marsh of Long Beach, in answer to an inquiry from him as to what really happened about the now widely-exploited "interview." The essential part of this letter shows the methods employed by Senator Johnson, and his aides, and is as follows:

"Your letter of April 27, 1922 received. I can assure you that you were no more surprised when you read the interview attributed to me in the Long Beach Telegram of April 26, than I was.

"It seems to be a part of the policy of Senator Johnson and his henchmen in the newspaper world to distort all things and twist everything in his favor, and to the discredit of those who have the temerity to oppose him for re-election.

FACTS OF INTERVIEW

"Now the facts regarding this garbled and misquoted interview are as follows: Some two weeks ago I was approached by a young man who introduced himself as Mr. Leo McClatchy.

"Without stating to me that he represented any newspaper or was seeking an interview, Mr. McClatchy began to discuss matters in California, and in the course of the conversation I informed him that I had again announced my candidacy for Congress, and that subject to the will of my constituents hoped to be re-elected. He then said that this announcement for re-election to Congress would undoubtedly prove the source of great disappointment to many people in California, who had sought to have me enter the race for the Senate. In reply, and with my customary frankness, I said that I did not think this would be true, that while many of my friends up and down the State had offered to support me in case I got into the Senatorial race, I did not feel that there was a general State-wide demand for me to get in, and that for the time being I thought I could be of more service in the House.

JOHNSON DEGENERATES

"The matter then turned to Senator Johnson. I said that in the early days of Senator Johnson's political career I had been his supporter because I thought he had done a lot of good for California, that he was a good politician (meaning in the sense that he was a successful campaigner and that many good people in California had supported him in the past.) I further said in substance that in my opinion he had now degenerated into an obstructionist and demagogue and that his close political and professional association with Hearst's newspapers and Hearst seemed to me to no longer permit of his acting as his own free agent as he seemed to be more the spokesman for the Hearst viewpoint in the Senate than he was for the people of California.

"I assume from these statements, no notes of which were taken at the time, that Mr. Leo McClatchy deleted all that did not suit his purposes and deduced the following statement, which I quote from his interview: 'Senator Johnson is a good man and has done a lot of good for California.'

"Continuing the conversation, I said that I thought 'there were many good Republicans in California, and among them some one who ought to be and who could be nominated in place of Senator Johnson in the primaries if the good Republicans of the State would unite on the proper individual'—that I thought that California had many bigger men and better Republicans than he and that he could be defeated, if such a man were brought out and the Republicans who opposed Senator Johnson got solidly behind his opponent.

TO SUPPORT NOMINEE

"I then said that, inasmuch as I had announced my own candidacy for renomination in the primaries, I should not take any active personal part in the primary campaign unless Senator Johnson attempted to involve my disagreement with him as an issue in my campaign; that I am a Republican, and after the primaries were over I would support the Republican nominee, whoever he might be, that this, of course, meant that in the event of what I considered the unfortunate occurrence of Senator Johnson's nomination on the Republican ticket I would support him, but only as the party nominee, and not because of my personal approval of him or his policies."

CONSIDER PLAN TO GROUP DEPARTMENTS

SUGGESTIONS SUBMITTED TO HARDING BY JOINT COMMITTEE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Suggestions for regrouping and co-ordinating government departments and bureaus which recently were submitted to President Harding by Walter F. Brown of Ohio, chairman of the joint Congressional committee on reorganization, were considered at a White House conference tonight between the President, Mr. Brown and members of the joint committee.

The conference was the first to be held on the subject between the executive and legislative branches of the government and was regarded as a step toward submission of a plan of reorganization to the Congressional committee which is to recommend legislation on proposed changes to Congress.

Consolidation of the War and Navy departments into one department of national defense and the creation of a department of public welfare are understood to be included in the plan as formulated by Mr. Brown. Transfer of the Bureau of Forestry from the Department of Agriculture to the Interior Department is also said to have been suggested, and transfer of other bureaus from one department to another are also said to have been recommended.

Efforts toward reorganization are said to have met with opposition in some of the departments under consideration for changes, including the Interior, Agriculture and Commerce departments.

POSTMAN REPORTED LOST SINCE TUESDAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MERCED, May 4.—H. J. Baldwin, rural mail carrier, disappeared under mysterious circumstances Tuesday, according to reports to the Sheriff's office today. His mail bag, with part of its contents delivered, was found at a mail box on the route.

Baldwin was in the employ of the postoffice here for a number of years, and lived near here with his family. No motive for his departure has been found.

Hundreds Kneel in Prayer for Richard Croker

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Bent and wrinkled women and old men—250 of them, and most of them poor—knelt in prayer today for Richard Croker, who died recently in Ireland.

Most of them at some time in their lives had been helped in an hour of need by the hard, but often warm-hearted, man who ruled over Tammany Hall for many a year.

It was these poor people who prayed for the repose of Croker's soul at a requiem mass. There was no eulogy, no music. It was simply a low mass. After the celebrant had left the altar the old women and men gathered outside and spoke tenderly of "Mr. Croker."

ACTION OF SENATOR WAS NOT CRIMINAL

ATTORNEY-GENERAL REPLIES TO REQUEST FOR FRANCE'S PROSECUTION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The action of Senator France, Republican, Maryland, in cabling the Genoa conference and urging that it invite American participation, fails to fall within the application of criminal status, Atty.-Gen. Daugherty declared today in a letter to Miss Mary Kilbreth of the Woman Patriot Publishing Company of this city, in which he declined to institute criminal prosecution of the Maryland Senator, as Miss Kilbreth had requested. The letter, made public by Senator Weller, Republican, Maryland, declared there was doubt as to the construction of the statute concerning correspondence with foreign governments, and that Senator France "must be given the benefit of the doubt."

The statute, Section 5 of the Criminal Code, which the Attorney-General said never had been construed by a court, requires that correspondence between an American citizen and a foreign government must show an intent to influence the conduct or action of that government, to apply to any case.

"In my judgment," the Attorney-General wrote, "the acts of Senator France do not fulfill the conditions stated as necessary to the application of the statute. It is not clear that the acts in question constitute either the commencing or carrying on of correspondence or intercourse. They merely invite a public act by the conference at Genoa, who would request this country to participate in its deliberations. The cables sent by Senator France do not call for or require any reply or future exchange, merely setting forth that Senator France is interested and that he hopes to interest others in the deliberations, and hopes for the conference's success."

The letter explained that the American government, through the Secretary of State, had declined an invitation to the Genoa conference, and Senator France's cables, which caused Miss Kilbreth's request, were sent subsequently.

JOHN BASSET MOORE ON NEW COMMISSION

WILL HELP DRAW UP RULES OF WARFARE FOR ARMS CONFERENCE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—John Bassett Moore, former counselor of the State Department and now a member of the newly created international court of justice, has been appointed the United States representative on the rules of warfare commission, authorized by the Arms Conference.

Dr. Moore is understood to have been named after he had indicated that the work would not interfere with his duties as a member of the international court. The other four powers represented also have named their commissioners, but no time or place for the meeting of the commission has been selected.

CHARLES MORTON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4. — Charles Morton, 55 years of age, representing the firm of Howse, Leeds & Son of New York City, fell dead of heart disease while playing golf with a friend at the Lakeside course here late yesterday. Morton was widely known on the Pacific Coast.

APPROVES STUDY OF COAL INDUSTRY

FAVORABLE REPORT ON BLAND BILL MADE BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 4. — Approval of the Bland bill creating a commission to study conditions in the coal industry and recommend legislation to Congress was given today by the House Committee on Labor. Representative Bland of Indiana, author of the bill, was directed to report the measure to the House as soon as he drafts a report in support of the measure.

While a number of changes were made in the bill, the committee did not modify it in any material way.

The proposed commission would be made up of ten members, four of whom would be government officials and the other six appointed by the President from coal operators, miners and the public.

The commission is given broad powers. A coal operator who refuses to furnish any information desired may be refused permission to make shipments of coal in interstate commerce.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, came to Washington today and held conferences with President Harding and Secretary of Labor Davis. Mr. Lewis was taken to the White House by Secretary Davis. No statement was made concerning the conferences further than that there had been a general discussion of the fundamentals of the coal industry.

FEW GIVE UP CLAIMS ON GOVERNMENT LAND

ONLY TWENTY-TWO RELEASE HOMESTEADS AND ENTRIES ON DESERT

It is evident that the homestead and desert land entrymen are getting along better than usual as the April report of the local Land Office shows there were only twenty-two relinquishments of these classes of entries. There are generally twice that number.

The receipts of the office allow the payment of $3000 each annually to the register and receiver, the maximum amount. This is from the taking up of relinquishments by optimists who believe they can make the enterprise pay where their predecessors became discouraged and quit.

During April there were fifty-eight homestead and four desert land entries received, three timber and stone and eight oil and gas permits. There were twenty-five final proofs submitted on homestead entries, ten on desert land entries and one under the timber and stone act.

Final proofs were submitted in thirty-two cases, and the number of contests pending are fifty-nine. The receipts of the office were $33,654, but the most of this came from oil companies that, under the law, must pay certain royalties in to the government, and the receiver of the Land Office is made custodian of the fund. The collections from this source alone often amount to $500,000 in a single month.

FOUR OF FAMILY DIE FROM ASPHYXIATION

DAUGHTER, ONLY SURVIVOR, MAY NOT RECOVER, SAY PHYSICIANS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 4.—Four members of the family of John Jany are dead, and Carolyn, a 14-year-old daughter, the sole survivor, may die, the result of gas asphyxiation in their home last night.

There is no evidence that the deaths are due to anything but accident, as the family was happy and prosperous. It is thought one of the plates connecting the gas pipes was jarred out of place early in the evening and the family retired without noticing it.

Neighbors discovered the fumes and the drawn shades in the house and summoned the police. When the doors were broken down the father, mother and two sons, aged 19 and 10 were dead. Pulmotors were used on all, but Carolyn, the daughter, was the only one who was revived. Her condition is so serious that she hardly will recover.

MORSE RELEASE AGAIN IS ISSUE

Democrat Leads Discussion of Old Row

Daugherty Threatening to Tell Inside Story

Partial Answer is Made to Senator

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Declaration was made by Atty.-Gen. Daugherty today that should Democratic discussion in the Senate of his connection with the release in 1912 of Charles W. Morse, New York shipbuilder, from Atlanta Federal penitentiary continue, he would make known "the facts." He coupled with this the assertion that "the real people behind this movement, aside from persons interested, have not yet shown their hands or their heads."

RENEWS ACCUSATION

Shortly after he made his declaration in a formal statement, Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, who has been leading the discussion, renewed his accusations, declaring despite denials made by Mr. Daugherty's friends since the matter was brought up, Mr. Daugherty at the time of Morse's release "took credit" for obtaining the executive clemency. The Senator read an interview published in a Columbus (O.) newspaper at the time of Morse's pardon, in which Mr. Daugherty, then practicing law in Ohio, was quoted as having said he sought the release of the present shipbuilder so that the financial affairs of a steamship company in which the imprisoned man was interested could be straightened out.

ATTACKS EXPECTED

"I will never discuss politics," said Mr. Daugherty in his statement, "but there is little of interest to be said in regard to the articles appearing in the newspapers regarding the sessions in the Senate or elsewhere which constitute an attack upon the administration and naturally an attack upon the Department of Justice. This may be expected from time to time.

"The Morse case of years ago was fully discussed in the newspapers when I was a candidate for United States Senator in Ohio. At that time President Taft and Mr. Wickersham wrote signed letters which immediately stopped discussion and conclusively answered all charges that were made or that ever would be made for any purpose whatever. These two letters are in my files and if there is occasion for it they will be republished.

PURPOSES KNOWN

"There are people behind this movement, aside from the partisan interests, who have not yet shown their hands or their heads. Their activities are well known and their purposes are well known. In due time it will all be revealed. The Department of Justice naturally will not be popular with persons who are being brought, and will be brought to justice in due course. No activities of the department will be inspired or conducted to help any political party. We are not much interested in years ago; this is a thing of the past and was entirely cleared up. What we are now interested in is the Morse case and others.

"When the facts are fully known we would not expect even the persons now being used for purposes which they do not suspect to even refer to the matter again."

After reading the purported interview, Senator Carey said:

SHOULD APOLOGIZE

"Mr. Daugherty ought to apologize to Centter Watson, Republican, Indiana, who was so quick to defend him Saturday with a statement that the Attorney-General never had any connection with the case."

Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, interrupted to remark that Senator Watson had not stated the Attorney-General had no connection with the case, but had declared the Cabinet officer never had received a fee from Mr. Morse.

During the colloquy the name of Chief Justice Taft, who as President, granted Morse executive clemency, was mentioned by Senator Caraway, who said he was sure the former President "thought he was pardoning a man afflicted with a fatal malady."

SCARED BURGLAR FED BY BAY CITY MATRON

HOUSEBREAKER THEN RETURNS $1200 DAVALIERE HE HAD TAKEN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—When Mrs. Ruby Maples returned home from a shopping tour yesterday she happened upon a burglar whose gun hand trembled and whose voice was full of quivers.

"Put down that gun, you'll shoot somebody," Mrs. Maples ordered. He did. Then he confessed it was his first job and he had turned burglar because he was hungry.

"Then let's eat," Mrs. Maples suggested. She prepared a meal and the burglar proved that he was telling the truth. He departed tearful with his thanks.

A few moments later he returned and handed Mrs. Maples a $1200 lavaliere.

"I didn't have the heart to take it away, lady," he explained.

BELIEVE CHINA CIVIL WAR A SHORT AFFAIR

TRAVELERS FROM EAST SAY PORTS NOT AFFECTED BY FIGHTING

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Passengers arriving from Chinese ports today on the Pacific Mail Steamship Company liner Hoosier State were of the opinion that the civil war in China would be of short duration. The war was characterized as too "general affair" by H. A. Finney, president of a San Francisco engineering firm, who spent five months in the affected region.

"In the ports of China there is hardly an indication that a factional war is going on in the interior," he said.

The Pacific Mail reported that its travel volume was not affected in any way by the disturbance that that there was no expectation that it will be affected on account of the remoteness of the fighting from the ports touched.

LANDING OF CABLE HAS BEEN ALLOWED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MIAMI (Fla.) May 4.—Landing of the Western Union Telegraph Company's Miami-Barbados cable, prevented by the Federal government since August, 1920, was begun today under permission obtained from Washington. Operation of the cable must not be inaugurated.

The decision of the government to permit the landing was said at the State Department to be simply a temporary step which did not indicate settlement of the long standing controversy. Until some settlement is reached the cable will remain sealed. The company represented to the State Department that its cable ship was needed for other work.

NEBRASKA BANK FAILS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) May 4.—Failure of the Farmers State Bank at Crawford, Neb., was reported today by J. E. Hart, secretary of the Department of Trade and Commerce. It was capitalized for $35,000 and showed deposits of $200,000 and loans of $248,000.

PIMPLY? WELL DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer, if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look, 15c and 30c.—[Advertisement.

DAILY TRADE TALK

BY CHAPIN HALL

Sustained improvement in business and continued ease in money conditions feature the present business outlook. On the other side of the picture are an increased number of commercial defaults in the East and unseasonably low temperatures in the West, the latter having retarded agricultural work to a considerable extent.

The coal strike is without appreciable effect except in the districts primarily concerned. Elsewhere unemployment is decreasing. There is a remarkable public capacity to absorb bonds, and the trading in new issues is unprecedented. Output of foreign securities is also increasing, and $700,000,000 of such issues have been floated in the United States since the armistice was signed. The foreign trade record is coming into more equitable balance.

It is probable that a financial conference will follow the Genoa meeting and financiers express the hope that our Federal Reserve Board will be represented. The finances of Europe are still demoralized and it is in this direction that the most constructive work of the immediate future must be accomplished. A nation-wide building campaign is under way, led by Los Angeles, and it now seems apparent that 1922 construction will break all records. This is based upon a genuine demand for new dwellings, apartment-houses and business structures.

The gross wealth produced by the farmers in 1921, according to figures given out by the Department of Agriculture, had a value of $12,366,000,000, which is about two-thirds of the value of farm products in 1920. The total value of crops, the department says, declined from $15,423,000,000 in 1919 to $10,909,000,000 in 1920, and to $7,028,000,000 in 1921. The decline in the total value of animal products on the farm was from $8,361,000,000 in 1919 to $7,354,000,000 in 1920, and to $5,338,000,000 in 1921. The position of the farming industry this year has been materially strengthened by the recovery in the price of grain and farm products. These conditions, comments the National City Bank of Chicago, have shown marvelous improvement within the last few months and, while some farmers have sustained heavy losses, the industry as a whole shows striking gains, as compared with the low price level of last year. This improvement has been of immense benefit to the country, for it is apparent that the American people cannot enjoy thoroughgoing prosperity when the farmers are really hard up for funds. The spending power of the agricultural States, increased by the price advances of the last few months, shows a most encouraging outlook for the greatest of all American industries.

WORLD LIKES OUR CORN

American corn is gaining friends in all parts of the world. Exports are so heavy that a record year is in prospect. According to the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York the March exports of this important cereal crop were 22,000,000 bushels, against 13,000,000 in the same months of last year, and in the nine months ending with March, 135,000,000, against only 86,000,000 in the same months of the preceding year, suggesting that the total for the fiscal year 1922 may perhaps surpass the banner year 1900, when the corn exports were 213,000,000 bushels, while the value of the 1921 exports is $93,000,000, against $85,000,000 in the former high-record year, 1900.

The United States produces about 80 per cent of the corn of the world, our production in 1921 having been 3,152,000,000 bushels out of a world recorded total of slightly less than 4,000,000,000 bushels. Argentina is the other chief corn producing country, but its crop seldom exceeds 250,000,000 bushels a year, against a recent annual average of over 3,000,000,000 a year in the United States.

DAY IN REVIEW

Oil interests are concerned in the report that the Shell and Royal Dutch companies had obtained extensive concessions in Russia.

The enthusiastic reception of the new Union of California $10,000,000 issue was a source of gratification along the financial Rialto, for within a short time after the books had been opened the oversubscription amounted to $7,000,000. The offering was apparently as popular in the East as on the Pacific Coast.

Rumors of an impending German loan were viewed with suspicion, and investment bankers said that too many details remain to be settled before such a loan can be successfully floated on this market.

The rail showing continues to display comparative improvement and heavy orders for cars and engines are being placed. Comptroller of the Treasury Crissinger told Wall street that he did not intend his Florida speech to be a warning, and added that the business outlook is greatly improved.

This opinion is substantiated by the Federal Reserve Board, which yesterday reported vast improvement in industrial conditions throughout the country, with pronounced increase of activity in many basic lines.

WATER AND WEALTH

Over $500,000 has been spent in San Bernardino county during the year for new equipment with which to irrigate orchards. Contained in that statement is a story of vineyardists prosperity and the importance of water in establishing that prosperity. The Fontana vineyards, for instance, are served by one of the most complete systems in the State, drawing its gravity water from Lyle Creek, which carries an average of 4000 miner's inches distributed through 250 miles of concrete mains and laterals. The operation of this system is co-operative.

MARKET REACTIONARY

Sterling Approaches High Level; Profit Taking Halts Upward Movement

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 4. — With nearly all other markets more or less reactionary in character today, the movement which attracted interest was the continued rise of sterling. The day's advance was only fractional but it brought the rate to $4.44, or within 3-8 cents of the period's high level reached March 1 and with that exception to the highest since July, 1919. Inaction of the other European exchanges again suggested that the influences at work in advancing the London rate were peculiar to that market.

As usual there are inferences which can be drawn from the actual international balance sheet. The New York Federal Reserve bank's monthly bulletin suggests one interesting consideration. Deducting from the March quarter's merchandise export surplus of the United States, both the surplus of gold imports and the amount of foreign loans floated in our markets during the period, it draws the conclusion that the balance against the United States was $220,000,000. This reasoning assumes the drawing on New York by foreign markets for proceeds of such loans, which has by no means been the invariable rule. But on the other hand, it does not reckon with that unknown but certainly very large factor in creating a debit balance; the transfer of American capital to Europe for investment on Europe's markets.

On the stock exchange activities were again directed to highly speculative shares, notably the oil group. But it was evident from the start that the recent professional conductors of the market were realizing profits. The natural result was abrupt and somewhat forcible downward reaction. This affected other industrial shares of the speculative group, some of the net losses in such quarters running to two and three points. But as a whole, the stock market was irregular, with changes in both directions, and railway shares again stood motionless. Transactions on the bond market were large and prices in general well maintained, three or four railway shares reaching new high prices. A halt has undoubtedly occurred in that market's movement, however; which is certainly no unnatural result of the huge outpouring of new securities during the fortnight. These pauses are what Wall Street calls "digestion."

The past week's decrease in the reserve system's percentage of cash reserve to note and deposit liabilities brought that ratio to the lowest figure since the middle of March. Such decrease would ordinarily be described as a natural incident of the quickening in trade with the spring season and it may be so on this occasion. The past week's changes were most emphatic, however, not with interior business districts, but at the New York reserve bank where increase both in rediscounts and note circulation was greater than in the system as a whole.

The $21,000,000 addition to New York rediscounts, bringing the total to the highest figure in a month, may have some connection with the recent large floating of home and foreign loans; for although such securities cannot serve as collateral for rediscount, the same facilities might indirectly be obtained through pledging merchants' paper.

This must be largely a matter of conjecture. The increase has this aspect of interest, however, that the recent sweeping reduction of rediscounted paper—even at New York, the shrinkage up to last week had been 77 per cent since the year began and 90 per cent from a year ago—has aroused some query as to whether a reserve bank would not lose all control over the money situation if it had ceased to be an extensive lender. Even the fixing of a high rediscount rate might exert small effect if no one wished to rediscount.

BUSINESS NEWS

Investment Banker Tells of Big Bond Market; Pacific Oil Head Denies Merger

D. T. Babcock, resident partner of Blyth, Witter & Co., who is now in New York on his way to the Paris convention of the Investment Bankers' Association, in a wire yesterday stated that he had never seen the bond market as active in New York and Chicago as it has been during the past ten days. The dealers are clearing up the market of one issue after another.

The advance in municipal prices has been very surprising and in a way is disconcerting to the buying public. Bonds of the State of California have been advertised at a price as high as a 4.05 per cent basis. Without question there is a tremendous sum of money seeking investment not only from the private investors but from corporations whose inventories have been reduced and whose immediate needs for working capital have been contracted. Banks in both New York and Chicago are anxious to get the collateral loans of the better known bond houses and charge an interest rate not exceeding 5 per cent.

Recent bond issues have been absorbed rapidly and a number of fair-sized issues are to be offered within the next few weeks. The general opinion is that because so much money is now available for investment there will not be any great recession in prices. The more conservative dealers believe that the market will not continue to absorb securities indefinitely in the volume in which they are now being offered.

There is no indication at the present time of slowing up of the demand. Most dealers' inventories are lower than they have been for some time.

OIL MERGER DENIED

A rumor that the Standard Oil Company of California would double its capitalization to acquire complete control of the Pacific Oil Company furnished the chief interest yesterday to those who have been following the sensational movements in the oil stocks both here and in New York. Despite emphatic denials from officials of both companies concerned, gossip continued to circulate throughout the financial district and the stocks fluctuated accordingly, although prices were generally lower at the close than they were on Wednesday.

Concerning these rumors, Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific and Associated Oil Companies, has issued the following statement from his San Francisco office: "There is no truth in the reports that the Pacific Oil Company and the Associated Oil Company are to be merged or that either of them is to be merged with the Standard Oil Company or any other company."

At the Standard Oil of California offices in San Francisco, it was denied that the company contemplates the acquisition of Associated Oil or Pacific Oil. The annual meeting of the Standard of California is scheduled for the 11th inst. and the action taken then should serve to quiet the traders' nerves by giving them either a final denial or confirmation of their many conjectures.

The story that had the broadest circulation yesterday concerning this much-denied merger ran to the effect that the Standard of California was going to raise its capitalization from $115,000,000 to $230,000,000, in order to take in the Pacific Oil Company and the Associated and subsidiaries. Standard stockholders, said the gossips, would be given the right to subscribe for the new stock at $50 a share.

BRAZILIAN ISSUE

Evidence that England is regaining its former position in the world's markets was given yesterday by the issuance in sterling of the new Brazilian government issue of 9,000,000 pounds thirty-year 7½ per cent bonds. The bonds were floated in Europe by a syndicate headed by Rothchilds and Baring Brothers and were handled in this country by Dillon, Read & Co. and associated bankers. The bonds are redeemable at a fixed rate of $4.86 per pound, but are being sold on the basis of 97 per cent of the market rate for British exchange on the date the Brazilian government accepts payments for the issue. American bankers were only allotted 2,000,000 pounds of the issue.

TELEPHONE MERGER

Four telephone companies, operating in San Bernardino and Long Beach, are about to merge into the Associated Telephone Company, following the recently announced decision of the Railroad Commission approving the plan. The companies involved are the San Bernardino Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Long Beach Home Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Union Home Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, and the Associated Telephone Company.

Actual control of the three other companies has always been held by the Associated through the ownership of stocks and bonds, but up to this time their corporate identity was maintained and operations were continued under lease agreements. The merger was undertaken for financing reasons and increased economy of operation.

POSTAL'S REVENUE

A net operating revenue of only $5507.85 was earned in California during 1921 by the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company, according to the annual report just submitted to the Railroad Commission. Total revenue for the year was given as $1,120,445.31, while operating expenses were $1,114,635.46.

OIL PRODUCTION

The daily average gross crude oil production of the United States increased 14,950 barrels, totaling 1,411,700 barrels for the week ended April 29, compared with 1,396,750 barrels for the preceding week, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute.

According to figures collected by the American Petroleum Institute, the imports of petroleum (crude and refined oils) at the principal United States ports for the week ended April 29, totaled 2,273,340 barrels, a daily average of 324,763 barrels, compared with 2,887,850 barrels, a daily average of 412,550 barrels for the week ended April 22.

OATMAN COMBINATION

Judge R. L. Johns of Nevada, who was a pioneer in the Tonopah and Goldfield days, and original owner of the January mine, is a visitor in Los Angeles, looking after his interests in the Oatman Combination Mining Company, of which he is president. According to Judge Johns, exploration work on the Oatman Combination is being carried on from the bottom of the 500-foot shaft. After boring about 145 feet in the drill encountered the big rhyolite dyke, and the values found in the core have been highly satisfactory to the management, he says.

MIDWAY DIVIDEND

The Midway Northern Oil Company has declared a regular 2 per cent dividend payable May 31, to stockholders of record May 20.

UNION IN WYOMING

According to advices from Casper, Wyo., the Union Oil Company of California has closed contracts covering the whole of Hale Dome in the Thermopolis district, Hot Springs county. Hale Dome has been proven productive of black oil, which has so far been the objective of Union Oil in Wyoming. Leases acquired comprise over 1000 acres and development will begin at once. Union is about to enter the light-oil district. It has lately acquired acreage in the vicinity of Cody, where high-grade green crude may be expected.

TICKER TICKS

Car loading for week ended April 22, totaled 714,083, an increase of 7375 cars over previous week.

Canadian Pacific declared regular quarterly dividend.

American Woolen Company advances price of worsteds.

Railroad reports to I.C.C. show that carriers earned a net income of about 5.30 per cent in March, on the tentative valuation, compared with 2.15 per cent a year ago.

Standard Oil of Louisiana and other Louisiana refiners advance gasoline 1 cent a gallon, making the tank wagon price, 21 cents and filling station price, 23 cents.

Oil men reached an agreement with Mexican government on production taxes calling for an increase in rate as the selling prices advance. The export tax subject is held in abeyance until De La Huerta's conference in New York this month.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Trading in stocks today was very active at irregular price changes. Dealings were more comprehensive, although oils and petroleums again bulked large in the operation of pools. Incidentally, the day marked the twenty-fifth consecutive full session, in which transaction ran over the million share line, sales aggregating 1,400,000 shares.

The money market and general industrial conditions were helpful factors in the main. Call loans eased with the progress of the session, opening at 4½ per cent, but dropping to 4 per cent at mid-day. In private offerings loans on demand were made as low as 3½ per cent.

Technical conditions seemed to prompt an extension of the profit taking movement, but it was not until the final hour that the selling assumed formidable dimensions. Reactions of 1 to 3 points then occurred on offerings of steels, motors, equipments and some of the oils.

Pressure was most clearly reflected in Republic Iron, Studebaker, Baldwin, Mexican Petroleum, Texas Company and Standard Oil of California, these closing at net losses of large fractions to 2½ points.

On the other hand, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, which featured the day's lively trading in local tractions, finished at a net gain of 3 3-4 points, and Kelly Springfield, Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Houston Oil were materially higher.

Rails were in better demand than at any time since the question of lower freight rates became a debatable question, their absorption being attended by more favorable statements of earnings. In that group, however, gains were more or less impaired by the late reaction.

Passing of the so-called crisis at Genoa was followed by yet another advance in sterling exchange, and pronounced recoveries throughout the continental list. Swiss francs were the only exception, easing 6 points to below par, for the first time in several months. South American rates made no response to the successful offering of the Brazilian coffee loan.

PUTS & CALLS
PACIFIC OIL

Persistent rumors have it that Standard Oil (Calif.) interests are buying into the company and a merger is to be effected. Much higher prices are predicted.

PROFITS—When Mr. W. phoned us to close his Call on 100 Standard of Calif. yesterday @ 118, which we secured for him about 30 days ago @ 103, we were as tickled as he to see him take $1500 profit.

He did not wonder whether he best take a Call or not; he bought one then and there. Watching the board costs nothing—but its reward is the same thing—nothing.

Phone, write or call for booklet, "How to Trade in Puts and Calls."

Prompt attention to mail orders.

THE COUNTRY OVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The demand for high-grade municipal and school bonds seems almost unlimited in this district and constitutes one of the strongest features of the present financial situation. These bonds are absorbed almost as soon as they are put on sale. When several lots of such bonds were offered here last week there were bidders representing all the Coast cities and many eastern financial centers.

A veritable construction boom is on and money is plentiful for building purposes.

The recent frost damage among the orchards of the State was heavier than was at first estimated and the peach and apricot yield in many regions will be short. Strawberries also suffered a severe setback.

The volume of automobile sales continues to increase.

BOSTON (Mass.) May 4.—Sentiment in business and banking circles of New England is cheerful. It must be admitted, however, that this feeling is due more to a study of the fundamental conditions than to any specific favorable developments in this district. Officials of the Federal reserve bank of the district confirm the fact that New England is behind the remainder of the country in general improvement. This is due almost entirely to labor trouble.

Most of the cotton mills in Rhode Island and New Hampshire still are closed by strikes, as are those in Lawrence, Mass. Mill owners have given no indication of willingness to make any concessions and there is a possibility that labor disputes will spread to the shoe-manufacturing centers.

Paper mills also face the possibility of a strike in the near future. A strike vote among the paper employees will be taken this week.

FORT WORTH (Tex.) May 4.—Business, which was just beginning to assume satisfactory proportions in this region, with every prospect that April would be the banner month for the last two years, suffered a serious setback because of the flood last week. Big areas were affected, including large centers like San Antonio, Fort Worth and Dallas.

Tens of thousands of acres were inundated, but the damage was not heavy and the setback to trade was only temporary.

Throughout South and West Texas the shearing machines are clicking steadily at their task of removing the wool clip from the sheep of the ranges. There is every indication that the clip will be large, with prices averaging 30 cents a pound, which is 13 cents above the average of last year.

MILWAUKEE, May 4.—While there are still many men out of work in Milwaukee, employment conditions in the last two weeks have improved materially, and as a result employment offices are rushed with orders from employers and there are more jobs open than there are men.

MARKET REACTS AS VOLUME FALLS OFF

The Los Angeles Stock Exchange underwent a general reaction yesterday, following the strenuous bull activity earlier in the week. The falling off in the demand was reflected strikingly in the sharp decline in the volume of sales recorded. Leading oil stocks softened 2 points or more, and the mining issues suffered fractional declines throughout the list.

Standard of California was especially weak toward the close, dropping 2 1-4 to 118. Union of California sagged 2½ to 184. General Petroleum furnished the exception to the rule by advancing 1-4 to 119 5-8.

Oatman United was the heaviest loser in the mining group, declining 3 cents to 64. Oatman Combination was off ½ to 8½, and United American underwent a similar decline, closing at 21. United Eastern sold unchanged at $1.52.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Foreign Bonds Popular

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Immediate absorption of the American allotment (£2,000,000) of the £9,000,000 of the Brazilian loan in this market today, indicated that the demand for foreign underwritings by investors had lost none of its recent strength.

Brazilian and Argentine government bonds reflected this favorable condition at substantial advances, but the international list was irregular, the same trend being shown by a majority of domestic issues.

The only conspicuous exceptions were the bonds of a majority of the local traction companies. Gains of one to two points were scored by Interborough Rapid Transit, Interborough Metropolitan, New York Railways, Third Avenue and Brooklyn Rapid Transit issues on publication of the readjustment plan involving these properties.

Less activity than usual was evinced in the Liberty series but that group, almost as a whole, rallied in variable degrees from recent reactions.

Gains and losses among domestic rails were of a piece with similar movements in stocks of those descriptions. New railway offerings of the day included the St. Louis and San Francisco $6,900,000 5½ per cent bonds, these finding a ready market at public sale. Total sales (par value) aggregated $18,749,000.

METAL MARKETS

Market Review

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLEVELAND, May 4.—Daily Metal Trade today says heavy sales of southern pig iron continue to give support to further tendency to advance above $17, Birmingham. Increasing volume of sales of iron at Cincinnati adds stimulus to rising markets. Refusal of steel-bar mills in the Middle West to accept business for early delivery is sending hard-bar consumers to rerolling mills which advance quotations up to $1.75 per hundred pounds. More mine and coke-oven workers drift back to work at Connellsville where everything is quiet and some Central Pennsylvania miners return to work at the 1917 wage scale.

Quotations on nuts, bolts and rivets show further tendency to advance and cast-iron pipe prices are growing firmer with southern makers predicting a rise shortly. Prime western zinc sold at New York in thousands of tons at 5 cents, St. Louis, but little is now obtainable at that price. Heavy electrolytic copper inquiry is put out by domestic wire and brass mills with domestic price established firmly at 13 cents, delivered for May and June, and ⅛ cent higher for July. Lead is easier, 5.15 cents, St. Louis. London tin market is off and New York down ¼ cent to 30⅛ to 30¾ cents with the trade watching the erratic movement.

WOMAN ELECTED TO POLICE JOB TO SERVE

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FREEPORT (Ill.) May 4.—Yielding to the wishes of her friends, Mrs. Mildred Brandt, recently elected police magistrate at the village of Winslow, Ill., has agreed to qualify and serve, although at first she declared she would not accept the office.

Because it will take less time from her household work, Mrs. Brandt said today, she would hold court in the parlor of her home instead of maintaining an office downtown.

MINE REPORT

To the Stockholders of the
Oatman Combination Mining Com

The following report has just been received James M. Curgin, manager of our property at Arizona, now being developed.

Kingman, Arizona, May 2, 19

"Mr. R. L. Johns,
President Oatman Combination Mining Comp
Oatman, Arizona.

Dear Mr. Johns:

Relative to your inquiry regarding recent dev in the Combination, I wired you stating that then just entering a ledge and that when thru to the foot wall I would have the entire sayed, all of which has been done, and I am assay returns on six samples taken.

We encountered the ledge in the second hole 145 feet southeast of the shaft on the south big Rhyolite Dyke. The first samples taken 11-foot of drilling after encountering ledge matter values of $9.08 per ton gold. Samples taken quartz core for over 10 feet before striking wall showed the following returns:

Sample No. 1 .... $71.
Sample No. 2 .... 7.
Sample No. 3 .... 6.7
Sample No. 4 .... 13.

No. 4 is an average sample of the whole core ing wall to foot wall, which is 22 feet wide We are now drilling North, our objective the Oatman United Ledge which runs thru on the Northeast, and although we are only 130 feet in this third hole, we are already quartz stringers."

Very sincerely,
(Signed) JAS. M. CURGIN,

IRREGULAR PRICES IN COTTON MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Prices were irregular and the undertone continued steady during most of the day's trading in cotton. However, in the last hour there was a distinct change from the mixed sentiment of the earlier session and the market's tendency was downward, under increased local and outside realizing which found demand lacking.

Prices eased off then about 50 points from the day's high which was 11 to 22 points above the previous close, reached before midday and about 25 points under last night's final. The reaction extended to 18.74 cents for July. Final bids were at the low.

Spot cotton was quiet, 25 points decline, 19.75 cents for middling upland.

Southern spot markets were: Galveston, 18.40c, 25 points decline; New Orleans, 18.12c, unchanged; Savannah, 18.15c, 25 points decline; Augusta, 18.13c, 25 points decline; Memphis, 18c, unchanged; Houston, 18.20c, 25 points decline; Little Rock, 18c, unchanged.

Grain Markets Decline Under Bear Pressure

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 4.—A bearish sentiment prevailed in all the grain markets. Weather conditions were excellent. There was a general belief that the technical position had been weakened by the recent upturn. Profit-taking was strongly in evidence. There also was a great deal of local pressure. Wheat finished 1⅛ to 2¼ cents lower; rye off ⅛ to ¼ cent; corn closed unchanged to ⅛ cent lower, and oats ⅛ cent higher to ¼ cent lower.

Action of the wheat market was decidedly erratic. At no time were the deferred deliveries as high as the previous close. On all the upturns commission houses and the local element sold rather freely. The break brought support from houses with export connections. They took July wheat. Outside interest was small. The general run of crop reports was rather favorable. Spring wheat seeding is nearing completion.

Trading in May was light. The market quickly responded to any good buying or selling. There were reports of wheat coming here for delivery from other markets but these reports were not confirmed. Milling demand generally was reported slow and while Minneapolis was said to have bought 50,000 bushels Manitoba from Duluth, May wheat there closed 1⅜ cents higher despite selling by mills. Local receipts were 140 cars.

May corn is commencing to act tight and it went to 3 cents under the July at the last against 3¾ cents under a few days ago, and closed firm. Exporters were after cash grain here although no business was put through. Country offerings are increasing as plowing and planting is making rapid progress in the West. This had some effect on sentiment and led to profit-taking and local pressure and the lower average for prices although the undertone was not weak. Cash corn was unchanged to ½ cent higher with the basis on yellow ¼ cent higher. Receipts, 186 cars.

Oats held within a range of ¼ to ⅝ cent and closed about the top with May showing more strength than other deliveries due to some changing of hedges by cash interests. A big cash business was on at Minneapolis with 600,000 bushels reported sold for export. Local receipts, 101 cars, with sample values unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

Sales of 600,000 bushels new-crop rye for last half August shipment were made from the seaboard Wednesday at 9 cents over Chicago July f.o.b. Baltimore and that price was bid for more. Rye futures were bought by scattered commission houses but the aggregate trade was light.

WELL-KNOWN OIL MAN OBEYS LAST SUMMONS

William Hardee, chairman of the board of directors of the National Supply Company, the premier oil-well supply house of the United States, is dead at Toledo, O., where the home office of the corporation is located.

Mr. Hardee was very well known in Southern California, having spent his winters in Los Angeles and Pasadena for twenty-five years. He was a consistent California booster and backed his good opinion of this community by heavy investments, the California National Supply Company, with headquarters in this city being one monument to a faith backed by works.

The business career of the deceased has been practically contemporaneous with the development of the oil business and extends back to 1879 when he entered the oil-well supply business in Bradford, Pa. With the organization of the National Supply Company Mr. Hardee became successively vice-president, treasurer, president and chairman of the board. He was president for many years of the Ohio Savings Bank and Trust Company of Toledo, and it is said of him that he always had the interests of his employees at heart and that most of the measures adopted by the company for the welfare of those connected with the big organization originated with him.

NEW PLAN OFFERED TO PAY BONUS

Project for Deepening the Mississippi Channel and Grading Land Suggested

A combined plan for flood control of the Mississippi River, creation of rich farm lands along its banks and paying off the soldiers' bonus, has been originated and recommended to the United States government by Victor Falkenau, former Chicago building expert, who built Gary, Ind., but now a resident of Altadena. Mr. Falkenau made his plan public yesterday for the first time in an address he delivered at the weekly luncheon of the Cosmos Club of Pasadena.

Mr. Falkenau's plan proposes "building along the Mississippi a series of embankment walls" to keep the channel in a permanent place and prevent floods;" then by means of suction pumps or steam shovels to scoop out of the bottom of the river the rich alluvial soil washed down for years from Northern States and by placing this soil behind the embankment walls thus create between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 acres of the richest agricultural land in the country." This land would be of immense value, said Mr. Falkenau. Of the soldier bonus feature he said:

"This newly made land could be given to the ex-service men as an evidence of the nation's gratitude. If farming did not appeal to their taste they could readily cash in on the land."

By the scoopings from the Mississippi bed, to create the new agricultural belt, Mr. Falkenau said the river channel would be deepened to permit ocean-going vessels to go far up the river.

Mr. Falkenau has made a study of the Mississippi River. Many engineers had declared the plan feasible, he said. At one time he was commissioned by President Roosevelt to make a special study of harbors in Europe.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED AT HAMILTON CITY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HAMILTON CITY (Glenn County) May 4.—The safe in the postoffice here was blown last night and the entire contents, consisting of $350 worth of postage stamps and a few dollars in change, besides records of the office, were taken. Finger prints left by the robbers were the only clews.

BILL TO CUT POWER PLAN PROTESTED

Utilities Board President Shows Danger in Act to Extend Sequoia Park

Declaring that the measure would destroy $40,000 worth of work that has already been done by the Bureau of Power and Light, and would deprive the city of Los Angeles of the opportunity to develop 200,000 horsepower of hydroelectricity, R. F. Del Valle, president of the Public Service Commission, has issued a protest against the Barbour bill.

The bill in question is calculated to add 953 square miles of new territory to Sequoia National Park. Del Valle says that such a plan is not to be frowned upon save for the fact that it would prevent the city from developing power sites along the south and middle forks of the Kings River, on which it filed in May and December of 1920 in the best of faith.

According to Mr. Del Valle the city filed on the sites for the purpose of providing power for the ever-increasing needs of Los Angeles, and that within five years the city will sadly need all of the power which the projects might provide.

He is in harmony with the idea of increasing the size of the park, he asserts, but he sees no hint of justice in a proposed amendment which would prohibit the city from proceeding to develop its power sites. Over $40,000 has already been spent in surveys and preliminary studies in that region, he asserts, and this amount would be a complete loss under the present plan.

In the opinion of Mr. Del Valle development of power along the Kings River would create a number of lakes which would increase the scenic grandeur of the district, while development work would necessitate the building of good roads, which the public would enjoy. He hints that private power companies are exerting their influence to eliminate the city of Los Angeles from the Kings River country.

Body is Found in Ocean Surf Near Hyperion

The body of a well-dressed man, bearing evidence of having been struck a terrific blow on the forehead with a blunt instrument, was found floating in the surf at Hyperion last evening.

The body, unidentified at a late hour last night, was discovered by an Inglewood resident who immediately notified Coroner Nance. Deputy sheriffs, at the conclusion of an examination, advanced the theory that the man had been murdered with a blow upon the forehead and that he was then thrown into the ocean.

The body is that of a man about 50 years old, five feet and four inches tall, weighing 150 pounds, brown hair, smooth shaven and with several gold teeth in the upper and lower jaws. He was attired in a blue serge suit which bore no marks of identification. The body was taken to the funeral establishment of Robert Sharp and Sons, Venice.

"PROOF OF DEATH" CLAUSE IS INVALID

DISTRICT COURT OF APPEAL UPHOLDS CLAIM OF W.O.W. WIDOW

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The "proof of death" clause in the death benefit rules of the Woodmen of the World Order, on which many thousands of dollars are paid annually, is invalid, the District Court of Appeal held today in granting the demand of $3000 against the order by Mrs. Mary C. McCormick, widow of one of its insurance holders.

The proof of death clause holds that the passage of time is no factor as an offer of proof that a missing insurance holder is dead, whereas the court held that the statutes declare a person legally deceased if he had not been accounted for from any source for a period of seven years.

McCormick, a worker in an oil refinery at Oleum, Contra Costa county, took the train on July 3, 1913, for San Francisco, and disappeared. After a lapse of seven months Mrs. McCormick applied for his insurance of $3000 from the order. She was stopped from collecting by the proof of death clause. She then permitted the statutory period of seven years to elapse and sued for the insurance. The lower court allowed her claim and this judgment was upheld by the District Court today.

MATHER FIELD WILL GET MORE AIRPLANES

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—Six airplanes carrying twelve aviators under command of Capt. Eglin, commandant of Mather Field, near here, left today for March Field, Riverside, for the purpose of "ferrying" back additional planes to be used at Mather Field in the citizens' military training camp and the reserve officers' training camp to be held for six weeks from June 14 to July 26 and from August 13 to 30.

APPRAISE ROAD'S HOLDINGS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 4.—The Arizona State Tax Commission is considering the physical valuation of the property in Arizona of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, and has placed upon it a tentative value of $40,000,000, without reference to land holdings, which may add $6,000,000. Representatives of the railroad will submit a special report on valuation.

SHIP LINE'S SERVICE IS INCREASED

Company's Vessels to Sail Every Saturday from Boston to Los Angeles

Augmented steamship service from Boston to Los Angeles Harbor, to take effect today, was announced yesterday by officials representing the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company in Los Angeles. In the past a vessel has sailed from the Boston harbor every two weeks, but this service is to be increased to a sailing every Saturday.

The new schedule has been made possible by the addition to the line of two new ships, the Californian (a brand-new motor ship, the first of the line,) and the Missourian. The Californian will make her maiden trip from New York May 18, and will sail from Philadelphia May 20. The Missourian will be put into service later.

The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, pioneer in the Boston-to-Los Angeles service, has found the line so well supported that the present increased schedule was considered practically essential. This company is the only one now conducting weekly sailings from Boston.

For the present no change will be made in the westbound service from New York and Philadelphia, according to statements of officials here yesterday. The schedule of a ship every two weeks from Philadelphia and a sailing every week from New York will be continued.

Freighter Here With Thrilling Rescue Story

First news of the rescue by the Barber line freighter Dochra of the Costa Rica motorship Susana, disabled in a storm off the Central American coast April 21, was received yesterday with the arrival of the Dochra at Los Angeles Harbor.

The Susana, floundering helplessly in the heavy seas and flying distress signals, was sighted at daylight April 21 by the Dochra. Having no wireless, the Costa Rican craft signalled the Dochra that both her engines were completely disabled, that she had been drifting aimlessly for three days and was short of fuel and provisions.

The Japanese freighter Tokofuku Maru, from New Orleans, for Hongkong also reached the scene at noon and stood by while the Susana was supplied with stores and food from the Dochra. Before resuming her course, the Dochra sent a radiogram to the Panama Canal authorities, asking that a tug be dispatched to the Susana's rescue.

The Dochra, owned by the Barber line and under charter to the North Atlantic and Western Steamship Company, is unloading 3500 tons of the 6500 tons of cargo on board at Los Angeles. According to First Officer Fred W. Best, the freighter brought from New York and Boston the most varied cargo ever arriving at a Pacific Coast port. Among her chief cargo items are forty pianos, 800 tons of soup, anchors, talcum powder, thirty-seven dories, pipe, steel, cement, furniture and rat traps.

New Coastwise Trading Service is Announced

A new coastwise trading service between Los Angeles Harbor and Mexican west-coast ports is to be opened next week with the sailing of the steamer Bergen, Herbert F. Simpson of Long Beach, organizer of the service, announced yesterday.

Transport of hardwood lumber from Mexican ports to the local market will be the chief purpose of the service, Simpson said, although west-coast fruits, vegetables and other products will also be carried.

Identity of the interests who purchased the Bergen recently for a reported consideration of $15,000, has been the subject of much conjecture in Los Angeles and San Francisco shipping circles, until Simpson announced his plans today.

For the last two years the Bergen has been operated as a mail ship in Alaskan waters, running from Bristol Bay, through the Aleutian Islands, and connecting with Seattle steamers at Valdez.

Motor Liners from Europe Will Run Here

In line with the development and growing importance of Los Angeles Harbor, the Johnson line is inaugurating a direct passenger and freight service from Scandinavian and United Kingdom ports to this port.

This service starts with the sailing of the motorship Balboa late this month from Stockholm and United Kingdom ports for Los Angeles via the Panama Canal. These motorships are 10,000-ton full Diesel ships.

Formerly the Johnson line motorships called at this port on irregular schedule, but owing to increase of business through this harbor that line has decided to place their whole fleet of motorships in this direct service.

PORT NOTES

Addition of a sixth freight vessel to its intercoastal fleet has been made by the Williams Line, John D. Chapman, Pacific Coast manager of the line, announced yesterday.

Increased cargo offerings, both east and west-bound prompted Williams Line heads to increase the service, Chapman said, and intimated that several other vessels will be added to the Atlantic-Pacific run during the summer. The Williams Line at present operates the steamer Willpolo, Willhilo, Willfaro, Willsolo and the motorship Kennecott.

The naval transport Vega, on her first trip to Pacific waters, will arrive at Los Angeles Harbor from the East Coast next Tuesday with eleven officers and 117 enlisted men to be assigned to various units of the Pacific Fleet. She also has 700 tons of naval stores for the Pacific Fleet.

The lone Army officer on board the Vega is Capt. O. H. Quinn, Air Service, and until recently a squadron commander at France Field, Canal Zone. He is en route to March Field, Riverside, his new assignment. During the World War Capt. Quinn saw active service as a pilot with the Second Pursuit Squadron, A.E.F.

En route to New York via the canal and Havana, the Pacific Mail liner Colombia is due at Los Angeles Harbor this morning from San Francisco. She will take on nearly fifty cabin passengers at the local port and will sail late today with a full passenger and freight lists for the East Coast.

A sister ship, the Venezuela, is due from New York and way ports, May 15. Sixty-two cabin passengers will disembark from the Venezuela at Los Angeles while she also has on board 1100 tons of coffee and other freight for local consignees.

First of the annual spring charters for the movement of Pacific Coast wheat from the Columbia River district were announced here yesterday with the booking of two British and one Dutch steamer for May and June loading at Portland. The latest charters are: British steamer Cape Ortegal, 3136 tons, Portland to the United Kingdom, wheat, p.t.; Dutch steamer Ootmarsum, 2209, Portland to the United Kingdom, wheat, p.t.; British steamer Largo Law, 2533 tons; Portland to the United Kingdom, wheat, p.t.

The new Standard Oil tanker, H. M. Storey and her sister ship, the W. S. Rheem, were also chartered today to load out 80,000 barrels of gasoline each at Los Angeles for the United Kingdom. Their departures will mark the first instances since the close of the war that west coast tankers have carried gasoline to Europe.

JURY ACQUITS BANKER

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EVERETT (Wash.) May 4.—Alex Livingston, former cashier of the Commercial Bank at Snohomish, accused of borrowing from the bank without authority of the board of directors, was acquitted by a Superior Court jury here late yesterday. No testimony was offered by the defense.

HAYNES OPERATED UPON

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes has undergone a minor operation at a Baltimore hospital, but is recovering rapidly and will be back at his desk in a few days, it was announced today at prohibition headquarters.

KNICKERBOCKERS FOR NEAR EAST

Irate Philadelphia Parent Sends Note With Present for Bundle Day

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.—Included in the 200 tons of clothing which represented Philadelphia's response to the State-wide call for "bundle day," issued by the Near East Relief, were two pairs of girls' knickerbockers. Accompanying them was a note from an irate parent, who expressed the hope that some unfortunate girl in Armenia would find them to be just as useful as a daughter of hers believed them to be fashionable.

News of Ships and Sailings in Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) May 4.—Early next week, probably on Monday or Tuesday, the two Hudson Bay boats which are taking on supplies here, will leave for the north to make the rounds of trading posts. The steamer Baychimo, which came across from Esquimalt earlier in the week, is completing repairs and overhaul and her load is shaping up. The other vessel is the Ruby, chartered from a Seattle firm.

On this voyage the Ruby will go as far north as is her custom. The vessels are leaving on a four months' voyage, being due back in port some time in August 20. The Lady Kindersley, locally built, which made her first voyage north last year, is being put in shape for her summer's work. This vessel will get away early in June, according to C. H. French, local manager of the fur trading department of the company.

The Isthmian Line steamship Steel Seafarer is in port with New York cargo and will load for the United Kingdom. The ship came from Portland. The officers report some lively times along the water front at the Oregon port on account of the strike.

The French Line steamship St. Louis will sail this evening for Europe via the sound.

The coastwise steamer R. D. Kingsley arrived in port from San Francisco with 1100 tons of cargo consisting of fruit, salt and general. The officers report a pretty brisk dusting coming up the coast. The storm set them back about twelve hours on British scheduled arrival at Vancouver.

TACOMA, May 4.—The Tidewater Company will have the trade next week among local mills, indications point, with steam schooners featuring among the craft now listed to load there. At the Tidewater the list of vessels to take cargo includes the Henry S. Grove of Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific lines. The Grove will take her Tacoma lumber cargo to Providence, R. I. The coasters Quinault and San Diego will also be in at that mill to load for San Diego.

The Northland, listed for the Baker dock today from San Francisco, is now due tomorrow. The vessel had an unusual amount of freight for Seattle and other down sound ports this voyage.

The Kinderdijk, of the Holland-American Line expected here this week is now scheduled for Tacoma, arrival May 9 or 10. The vessel has a large amount of wheat and copper with other freight to load here for Europe.

The Kentuckian of the United American Line is due at the Baker dock, according to local agents for this company, Saturday. The Kentuckian has considerable miscellaneous freight to load here.

The Japanese steamer Arizona Maru left for the Orient this afternoon via Seattle after loading about 1,500,000 feet of lumber at the port dock.

The Chattanooga City, of the Isthmian Line, sailed for east coast ports tonight. The vessel had a large amount of freight inbound and took lumber out from the Puget Sound mill.

The Colusa, of the Grace Line, will finish discharging ore at the smelter today and go in the Todd dry dock, after which the steamer will return here to load. The vessel has cargo at Seattle to take for Peru and Chile.

PORTLAND, May 4.—A five-day schedule will hereafter be maintained by vessels of the Luckenbach Steamship Company between Portland and other Pacific Coast ports and ports on the Atlantic side, according to announcement made today by J. G. Evans, local agent of the line. The fleet has heretofore worked on an eight-day schedule. The purchase by the company of four steamers from the Shipping Board makes possible the increased service.

A cargo of 600,000 gallons of creosote is to be brought to St. Helens late this month on the tanker Kingsbury for the use of a wood preserving company operating there.

R. H. Overstreet, a member of the stevedoring committee of the Federal Shipping Board, is on an inspection trip here, in advance of other members of the committee who are touring the ports of the country. Overstreet said his visit was not in connection with the strike of longshoremen now in progress here.

Sam Brodsky, general supercargo of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Company, with headquarters at Seattle, arrived this morning from Coos Bay, where he superintended the loading of a full cargo of lumber on the steamer Cape Romain. She had on board 2,500,000 feet for New York, dispatched by the Willapa Lumber Company.

E. E. Johnson, local agent for the General Steamship Corporation, has been advised that the Dutch steamship Salak of the Java Pacific Line will be sent to Portland for early June loading for Japan, Hongkong, Batavia, Samarang and Java.

SEATTLE, May 4.—With the name "President Jefferson" newly affixed to her bows, the Admiral Line steamship, formerly the Wenatchee, returned from Bremerton today. She is at present loading flour at the Fisher Flouring Mills and shifts to Tacoma Saturday. She is the first of the five big trans-Pacific liners of the Admiral Line to have her name changed in accordance with the company's new policy.

S. F. Alexander, president of the Admiral Line, left for the East today, presumably to complete arrangements for the intercoastal excursion of the steamship H. F. Alexander from the East Coast to San Francisco. The first stop will be at Havana May 30, with the liner scheduled to reach San Francisco June 11.

The steamship President sails for San Diego tomorrow night. The vessel has been fully equipped with radio telephone apparatus. Indications have been given that the vessel probably would be withdrawn from service shortly for the purpose of being overhauled and refitted.

A. Matthew, traffic manager of the Universal Shipping and Trading Company, left tonight for San Francisco to look after the schooner Commodore, which recently arrived in that port from Australia. It is reported that the schooner may be sold.

COOS BAY, May 4.—The steamer C. A. Smith arrived this morning from San Francisco to take a cargo of lumber.

The steamer Cape Romain went to sea tonight in tow of the tug Fearless, bound for the Columbia River to finish her cargo.

ASTORIA, May 4.—The steamer Edna sailed this morning for Los Angeles with 430,000 feet of lumber from St. Helens, 175,000 feet from Westport, 250,000 feet from Vancouver, and 440,000 feet from Linnton.

After discharging freight in Portland, the steam schooner Paraiso sailed this morning for Aberdeen, where she will load lumber.

The steamer Steel Ranger sailed this morning for New York, via San Francisco. She has lumber from Everett and general freight from Seattle, as well as 1,219,000 feet of lumber from Westport, 820,000 feet from St. Helens, 250,000 feet from Linnton, and 400,000 feet from Portland.

The steam schooner Davenport arrived today from San Francisco and went to Portland to load lumber.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company of London will open a passenger office in San Francisco, according to word received here today by Col. E. J. M. Nash, Pacific Coast manager of the company. With its affiliated companies, the Royal Mail is ... of the ... companies of the world. The ... its allies have a combined tonnage of 2,000,000.

The Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company ... the first of two new ferryboats for the Key Route ... [illegible] ... L. E. Caverly, chief engineer of the Los Angeles company, has been in San Francisco several days consulting with Key Route officials. The new boat will cost about $500,000.

Capt. Paul Chandler, general agent for Struthers & Barry at Hongkong, arrived in San Francisco today on the Pacific Mail liner Hoosier State. He said that shipping conditions in the Orient were showing a better tone generally. American shipping is getting its share of the new business, he said.

HUTCHINSON ESTATE FOUND TO BE LARGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 4.—Daniel Hutchinson, an aged and eccentric resident of Phoenix for years, living alone and economically, was found to be worth $250,000 on investigation of his estate after his death, which occurred at Riverside, Cal., ten days ago. Nearly all the estate is in notes, secured by good mortgages on Arizona realty.

After certain bequests have been paid, the major part of the estate is to be held in trust by the Valley Bank and Edward A. Marshall of Phoenix for the benefit of the testator's grandchildren, Irene and Daniel Hutchinson of Boise, Idaho, who shall not enter into control for thirty years. In the meantime the money is to be kept invested in first-mortgage loans on lands in Arizona.

ACCUSES CALIFORNIA

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 4.—Atty.-Gen. Galbraith of Arizona, on his return here from a tour of investigation to the Cibola Valley, Arizona, charged that an attempt is being made to annex thousands of acres of Arizona land to California by changing the course of the Colorado River near Cibola. He announced he would take legal action at once to frustrate the attempt.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by the Times for payment of Want Ads, as no mistakes can be rectified without them.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

Advertisements ordered for insertion in the daily or Sunday Times cannot be discontinued or changed after 5:30 p.m. of the day preceding date of insertion.

Advertisements ordered to appear for the first insertion in the Sunday Times cannot be countermanded after 12 m. (noon) Saturday.

Rates for display advertising will be furnished on request.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission or incorrect publication of advertising will be rectified only by cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered.

TIMES WANT-AD SUPREMACY.

THE TIMES averages 1000 more Want-Ads per day than any other newspaper in Los Angeles, while on Sunday it leads the second Sunday paper by an average of 70%. All Want-Ad readers are attracted by this stupendous variety of offerings; in fact, it is well recognized that no matter what newspaper a man subscribes to, he invariably reads THE TIMES when seeking Want-Ad information.

FOR SALE—OR EXCHANGE—

ORVAL OVERALL RANCH.
Located in the Famous
Lemon Cove District, Tulare Co., Cal.

146 Acres. $150,000.

We take great pride and pleasure in offering for sale, what we consider, one of the choicest pieces of property in Tulare county. From the standpoint of location, frostless, climatic conditions, fertility of soil, abundance of cheap gravity water, together with the opportunity for making big money on the investment, saying nothing about being all one could desire in a home place, we don't believe there's another property in the entire State that will surpass it, and that's saying a great deal. This property involves all the elements and requirements that go to make ranching a success and a pleasure.

This beautiful ranch of 146 acres is improved to 80 acres in vineyard, 26 acres citrus and 40 acres hill pasture. Over $20,000 in buildings, including a large nine-room house, situated on a knoll overlooking the valley, also a packing-house fully equipped. Nearly $10,000 in ranch equipment, including a big Holt 55; everything practically new and in perfect working order.

Concrete highway to Sequoia National Park passes the ranch, also golf course and bathing beach near; what more can you ask for? Owner will consider $50,000 in trade, some cash with good terms on the balance. We want to sell this ranch to some one who will appreciate its exceptional qualities and picturesque setting, as well as receive a good liberal income on the investment. If you are the one we are looking for, see, phone or write C. F. Balaam, 910 Van Nuys Bldg., Los Angeles, Cal. (Phone Broadway 3062) or get in touch with

ARIZONA NATIVE BORN ORGANIZE

State Society is Formed at Phoenix

Salt River Water Users Meet Demands

To Spend Millions in New Power Work

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, May 4.—There has been formed a State organization of Native Sons and Daughters of Arizona, this following upon the second reunion of the Arizona Pioneers' Association in Phoenix. It has been determined that within the State organization shall be local societies, of which the first is to be in Phoenix, to be followed closely by organizations at Tucson, Prescott, Globe and other points.

The first State president is Mel Fickas of Phoenix, who has been acting as secretary of the pioneers' association. Herbert Drachman, son of an old Tucson family and former president of the Arizona Pioneers' Historical Society, is vice-president, and Miss Birdie Fowler of Phoenix is secretary. An executive committee will represent four State districts.

DEMANDS PAID

The Salt River Valley Water Users' Association has arrived at the point where its receipts for sales of electric power are paying the annual demands of the government for return of the cost of the Salt River project. Part of this energy is derived from such additions as the million-dollar cross-cut canal, installed at the cost of the association and from association additions to the Roosevelt power plant.

Now there has been placed before the association a plan for addition of 47,000 horsepower to the present hydroelectric installations, this with expectation that a business in the sale of power will be worked up that will give the association an annual income approximating $1,500,000. It is told that the larger mines of Central Arizona now are paying about $2,000,000 for oil for power generation.

TO SPEND MILLIONS

It is expected that $6,000,000 will be spent in this power work, the main cost to be in the erection of a dam at Mormon Flat on Salt River, about half way to Roosevelt. A part of this cost may be defrayed by a new irrigation enterprise in the eastern part of the Salt River Valley, one that will need much power for pumping. It is probable that still more capital would be forthcoming from mining corporations at Ray, Hayden, Miami, Globe and Superior, where fuel costs are excessive at present.

There is some speculation whether the Paradise Valley irrigation plans eventually will not fall within the Salt River Valley Association, for little appears to have been done by the Paradise Valley promoters during the past year. In these plans are included utilization of the entire flow of the Verde River for power generation, this without injury to the agricultural priorities of the Salt River farmers. The gross cost of this project, inclusive of two storage dams, a long canal and electrical works, has been set as high as $15,000,000.

BRITISH MARSHAL HERE

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Field Marshal Earl French, Commander-in-chief of the British armies during the World War, arrived today on the Homeric for his second visit to America—a purely personal visit, he explained, without a mission of any form. He was greeted at the pier by a group of British war veterans. He exchanged radio greetings in midocean with Marshal Joffre, returning to France.

Involves Two in Theft

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MARYSVILLE, May 4.—Theodore Ragon, recently arrested in San Francisco and charged with the theft of amalgam valued at $800 from the Marysville Gold Dredging Company at Marigold in a signed statement made yesterday, the police said, involves two mining men of Grass Valley. The putative statement was made to Detective Arthur B. Riehl, and is understood to deal with disposal of the gold.

MINE OWNER INJURED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

KINGMAN (Ariz.) May 4.—Dave Wright, one of the owners of the Black Range mine at Oatman, was severely injured by an explosion of a large gas engine used for surface power at the mine. He was taken to the Tom Reed Hospital at Oatman and is reported to be out of danger.

Land Law Passage Big Job

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—California's next Legislature will have its biggest job in the passage of an "antialien land law that will hold water," according to Atty.-Gen. Webb. Mr. Webb made this comment late yesterday when told that Gov. Stephens had said he would submit an amendment to the present law to meet the objections raised by the State Supreme Court. Mr. Webb also said that no attempt would be made at the present time to carry the fight to the United States Supreme Court.

MALE FLAPPER IN NEW STUNT

University Grounds Idea is Meeting Opposition of Campus Cops

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, May 4.—The male flapper has figured out a new wrinkle at the University of California. He tacks his best photograph in a conspicuous place with the notation that any girl student desiring to become acquainted with the owner write down her name and telephone number. The campus cops are spoiling many a budding romance, however, for they are tearing down the photographs as fast as they appear.

MAKE JURY-FIXING CHARGE

Men to Sit in Gov. Small's Case Under Fire and Two May Be Excused for "Too Much Talk"

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WAUKEGAN (Ill.) May 4.—Charges of attempted jury fixing and bias on the part of jurors already selected and sworn today halted completion of the jury to try Gov. Small, charged with conspiracy to embezzle State funds.

Affidavits have been made charging that at least two of the eight jurors sworn in have talked of the case in the jury room and expressed an opinion, it was learned tonight, to disrupt the two panels and leave the case with only six jurors actually chosen and three provisionally passed.

MECHANIC EXAMINED

The jury fixing charge, made by the State, was disposed of in Judge Claire Edwards's chambers when Henry G. Garey, an automobile mechanic who had been charged by the prosecution, was examined by the court.

At the conclusion, the judge announced that the investigation "had fizzled out" and that the suspicion that Garey had been "seen" proved unfounded.

Immediately afterward affidavits of men who were dismissed after spending a night in the jury room were presented to show that some of the eight men already sworn in had discussed the case, in violation of the court's instructions, and had expressed an opinion.

MAY REOPEN PANEL

It is understood that the defense asked to reopen one of the panels sworn to challenge peremptorily one man, and that the State is considering exercising a similar privilege to get rid of another of the eight, providing the court consents. A decision was deferred until tomorrow, it was reported.

When court adjourned tonight all twelve places in the box were full, the last panel having been tentatively completed at 4 o'clock, with the seating of August Larsen, a gardener. One of the four may be unseated tomorrow by a peremptory charge, it was believed tonight. Both sides may still exercise their right to peremptorily remove any of the four, the State having the last charge.

Only eight men passed through the jury box today, the smallest of any day since the trial started a week ago last Monday. In the nine days 172 men have been examined.

McCORMICK DOORS SHUT ON REPORTERS

MARITAL RUMORS, HOWEVER, CONTINUE TO RUN RIOT IN CHICAGO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, May 4.—Barred doors and a haughty butler met all inquirers today at the home of Harold F. McCormick, but marital conjectures continued to hover above the heads of the family, despite denials that Mr. McCormick will wed Mme. Ganna Walska as soon as she secures a divorce. Emphatic denial is made that Mathilde, the 16-year-old daughter, has been won away from Max Oser, her Swiss swain. She makes it very clear that she intends to sail for Europe in June and become the wife of Oser as soon as the Switzerland red tape can be unwound.

Completing the triangle, comes the added rumor that Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, recently divorced from Harold F. McCormick, may soon take a second husband in the person of Edward Krenn, a Swiss, at present employed at her Lake Forest estate.

Howard F. Colby, heretofore official spokesman for the family, was inaccessible today. The butler refused to carry any messages to him or to any member of the family or to say whether or not a family conference was in progress.

Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick would not be interviewed, issuing a statement through her butler to reporters.

"Tell them to say anything they please," she directed.

TRY, TRY AGAIN FAILS

Couple, Separated and Reconciled Six Times, Divorced

Henry C. Barron and his wife, Effie M. Barron, found no virtue in the saying that if at first you don't succeed, try, try again.

Mr. Barron left his wife six times. They became reconciled six times and the sixth was the final. Yesterday Mrs. Barron was granted a divorce in Judge Summerfield's court. She charged that her husband was jealous. He also struck her, Mrs. Barron asserted. She was given the custody of a child and $10 a week.

Finger Print Plan Devised by Prisoner

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN QUENTIN, May 4.—A finger-print system for use in banks, insurance establishments and all other places where personal identification is necessary, has been devised by a life termer at the State Prison here, and is being studied by experts throughout the country, it was learned today. The system calls for but a single print and greatly simplifies the present processes employed by police departments, it is said.

The prisoner's plan has been approved by Chief of Police Vollmer of Berkeley, an outstanding finger-print expert, Harry H. Caldwell, expert of the Oakland police department, and others. Patents have been applied for in Canada, England, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

TROOPS ARE SENT TO SUMMER CAMPS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The War Department today began its preparations for the summer program of training already announced with the issuance of orders for the movement of a number of units from Fort Sheridan, Ill., to Camp Custer, Mich. Camp Custer has been designated as a reserve officers' training camp, citizens' military training and National Guard training camp.

Among the units ordered from Fort Sheridan to Camp Custer are the Second Infantry; headquarters Sixth Corps area training center, Training Battery No. 6, Sixth Service Company, Engineer Training Company No. 6 and Troop L, training center squadron No. 6.

In connection with the same general program, the department announced the transfer of certain units to Camp Devens, Mass., which likewise has been designated as a training center. The units affected are Battalion Headquarters Company, Companies B and D of the Thirteenth Infantry, ordered from Fort Andrews, Mass., to Fort Devens; howitzer and tank companies of the Thirteenth Infantry from Fort Revere, Mass., to Camp Devens.

Other troop movements ordered today were the transfer of Troop E, Sixth Cavalry, from San Antonio, Tex., to Eagle Pass, Tex., and Troop B, Fifth Cavalry, from Fort Clark, Tex., to Del Rio, Tex.

SEVERAL ARE KILLED IN TRAIN ROBBERY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, May 4.—A passenger train from Jalapa to Puebla was held up by a party of more than fifty men yesterday at Amatucan, four miles from Puebla, the passengers robbed and several of them killed, says the Puebla correspondent of Excelsior.

WESTERN PACIFIC REPORT

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—The annual report of the Western Pacific Railroad Company issued yesterday showed a net income added to surplus amounting to $2,808,-533 after deducting $50,000 for application to the sinking fund. After an allowance of $1,650,000 is made for the $27,500,000 of 6 per cent noncumulative preferred stock, this income is equivalent to $2.43 a share on $47,500,000 of common stock.

SEEKS GOVERNORSHIP

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BISMARCK (N. D.) May 4.—H. L. Stegner, Bismarck insurance man, today announced he would be a candidate in the Republican primary of June 28 for the nomination for Governor against Gov. Nestos, Independent, and B. F. Baker, Nonpartisan candidate. Mr. Stegner in his announcement said he was in favor of scrapping the entire industrial program of North Dakota, sponsored by the Non-partisan League.

UNITED CHINA PREDICTED

Minister Sze Believes Growth of Nationalism to be Result of Present Hostilities

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The growth of Chinese nationalism is bound to result from the present civil war in China, is the opinion of Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to the United States, who discussed conditions in his country today in the light of the present turbulent developments.

"The present fighting, which is limited to a section of the Province of Chihli, North China, is an inevitable incident during the period of readjustment from a monarchy to a republic," said Minister Sze. "I do not think that the fighting will last long nor can it be compared in any sense with the American Civil War.

QUESTION DOMESTIC

"If there is any person who fears that the movement may become antiforeign let him dismiss it from his mind at once. The question involved is entirely domestic. Neither side has shown any disposition to interfere with foreigners residing in China nor with their property. I am sure this disposition will be continued as long as the foreigners do not take sides or interfere with the contending parties.

"I have no doubt that the powers will observe strict neutrality and their declarations made at the Washington conference that they would 'refrain from taking advantage of the present conditions in order to seek special rights or privileges.'"

"The hopeful sign," Dr. Sze continued, "in the present situation is the eagerness with which both parties declared their desire to comply with the popular wish, that is, the calling of a people's convention at once for the discussion of questions for bringing about a united China and thereby facilitate the solution of the problem of national finance, the elimination of the military element from the government and the drawing up of a new constitution with particular reference to the procedure of electing a President. This is a good sign as it shows the growing importance of public opinion.

"The effect of the present disturbance ultimately will—irrespective of which side wins—result in the growth of nationalism. Judging from their declarations, both leaders of the contending factions are striving to give the nation what she most needs and the struggle came about because each of them believed that he and his party are the best agencies to carry out the popular program that will put an end to the period of transition and establish a united China."

Catholics and Red Unionists Nearing Clash

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, May 4.—Feeling is running high between the Catholics and the Red labor union over the attack made on a Catholic Young Men's Club and the desecration of images in the chapel. The Catholics declare that they will organize a monster procession to sign a protest and will go armed in the procession. The Reds assert that they will attack such a procession.

The government today declared that it would prevent the parade of the Catholics in the interest of social order. The Catholics reply that the Reds were not prevented from making a public demonstration against the Catholics, Spaniards, capitalists and property owners. They also assert that the Reds deliberately went out of the way in one procession to fling insults at the Spaniards and the Catholic Young Men's Club.

Meantime the city is divided into two factions. The Catholics are distributing dodgers in the churches urging the faithful to resent the insult to Our Lady Guadalupe, the patroness of Mexico, whose altar was desecrated in the church of the Catholic Young Men's Club.

BALTIMORE NURSE GUILTY OF MURDER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MONTROSS (Va.) May 4.—A verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree was returned by a jury in West Moreland county court here tonight against Miss Sarah E. Knox, Baltimore nurse charged with the killing of Mrs. Margaret L. Eastlake at Colonial Beach last September.

The jury stipulated that the verdict should carry a sentence of twenty years imprisonment in the State penitentiary. The verdict was reached after one hour and thirty-five minutes deliberation.

ASKS HELP FOR ALAMEDA BASE

Plea of Admiral Likely to Go Unheeded

Favorable to Maintenance of Mare Island

Money is Also Needed for Bremerton Yard

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Appropriation of $100,000 refused by the House to begin dredging for a new Pacific Coast naval base at Alameda, Cal., was requested today of the Senate Appropriations Committee, by Rear-Admiral Gregory, chief of yards and docks bureau, but Chairman Page of the committee, said there was "no immediate probability" of Congress authorizing the Alameda project. Senator Page and other committee members generally expressed themselves as favoring maintenance of Mare Island Navy yard.

Admiral Gregory asked that the appropriations for improvements at the Mare Island yard be doubled from $750,000 to $1,500,000, and also for $500,000 additional, to extend Pier No. 4, at Puget Sound (Bremerton, Wash.) Navy yard.

Chairman Page asked if the Navy Department had abandoned the idea of a new Pacific base at Alameda, and Admiral Gregory replied in the negative.

Senator Page said the Alameda project appeared now to have grown "less popular," and he added that it appeared wise to continue maintenance of the Mare Island yard "in view of the fact that there is no immediate probability" of procedure with the Alameda project.

Admiral Gregory replied that this was the department's view in requesting doubling of the House appropriations for Mare Island.

"It would be unwise in the meantime," said Admiral Gregory, "to let Mare Island go down hill."

Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, former committee chairman, said that the government ought to continue maintenance of Mare Island, which yard, he said, still could be used for repairing smaller naval ships.

"The idea of abandoning Mare Island and destroying $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 invested there by the government, does not appeal, I believe, to any member of the committee," said Senator Swanson.

Admiral Gregory said none of the modern battleships could be taken through the channel to the Mare Island yard, but that the Hunter's Point dock was available for the larger ships. Senator Newberry, Republican, Michigan, emphasized that much costly dredging of the Mare Island channel was required.

The doubled appropriations asked by Admiral Gregory for Mare Island were urged, he said, for protecting dykes and wharves. The department's plan, he said, was to prosecute extensive work on both next year and the appropriation of $1,500,000, he declared "was necessary and urgent!"

For the Puget Sound yard, Admiral Gregory, who formerly commanded that yard, said originally it had not been thought that so many and such large ships would use the Bremerton yard. It is proposed, he said, to extend pier No. 4 700 feet to make it 1200 feet in length, or equal to another pier there. The yard, he said, was "crippled" by not having adequate pier space since the enlargement of the Pacific Fleet.

Admiral Gregory asked the committee for $85,000 to buy a rifle range at the Puget Sound yard, stating that land prices were increasing. He also asked $25,000 for minor improvements at the yard. For the Pearl Harbor (Hawaii) yard, Admiral Gregory asked $200,000 for machine shops, $200,000 for storage facilities and $152,000 for water supply extensions. He also asked $80,000 for additional storage for navy mines at the Pearl Harbor ammunition depot.

"Pearl Harbor now becomes the outpost of the Navy in the Pacific, under the Arms Conference treaty," said Admiral Gregory. The Pearl Harbor dry dock, he added, was large enough to care for any naval ship in the Pacific.

For minor repairs at the Cavite (P. I.) yard, Admiral Gregory asked $150,000.

Purchase of two small tracts of land adjoining the Marine Corps barracks at San Diego, at a cost of $18,000, also was asked by Admiral Gregory, who said it was necessary to complete the San Diego base.

Don't Envy Beauty! Cultivate It—
Says Mme. Anna Bergeron
Women whom men admire and other women envy always have a good complexion. Striking beauty will lose its charm if the skin becomes dry and lifeless, or harbors blackheads, wrinkles or pimples. Cracked lips, rough hands, blackheads and pimples are nearly always caused by neglect of the skin, or by the use of something that is not agreeing with the skin, for the needs of the skin in the west are very different from the east.
The Key to Beauty toilet preparations are compounded to prevent the bad effect of western out door life and hard water, and positively will not grow hair.
Mme. Bergeron's beauty salon, top floor Haas Bldg., cor. 7th and Broadway, where every blemish that mars the beauty of a good complexion is removed including superfluous hairs, moles and birth marks by electrolysis. Inquiries and mail orders receive prompt and courteous attention. Phone 12937.
Mme. Bergeron, for 26 years a specialist in the care of the skin. Her preparations are sold at all the leading stores, proof that she is recognized as one of the West's most efficient beauty experts.

GEN. WOOD TO DECIDE QUESTIONS

President Will Not Give Advice Over Quitting of Philippine Governorship

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Harding notified Maj.-Gen. Wood that he himself must decide whether he shall retain the Governor-Generalship of the Philippines after September 1, or give up the office to fill his agreement with the University of Pennsylvania, to become its provost.

The President was represented after the conference as most anxious that Gen. Wood retain the Governor-Generalship, but as feeling that the government cannot stand in the way of his going to the University of Pennsylvania, should he so desire.

Gen. Wood was elected provost of the Pennsylvania University about a year ago, but at his request, and at the request of the administration, was granted a year's leave dating from last September. The university authorities, both in the telegram to Secretary Weeks and through Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, a trustee of the school, are understood to have taken the stand that they cannot extend the leave longer because of a number of projects awaiting Gen. Wood's assumption of office, notably the inauguration of an endowment fund campaign.

The President transmitted his views to Gen. Wood in the following cablegram signed by Secretary Weeks: "The President and Congress and all others who are in touch with insular affairs are most gratified with your work as Governor of the Philippines. I join in this sentiment. All agree it is highly desirable for you to continue your work there, but it is necessary, however, to advise you that the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania decline to extend your leave of absence. This presents a situation which you alone must decide. While the President and I would rejoice to have you remain, we do not feel that we should question your judgment as to your obligations to yourself and your family."

FLOWERS OF CALIFORNIA FOUND BEST

Angeleno Returns from Year's Tour of Europe's Floral Plantation Centers

Following a year's tour in Europe, which included trips to practically every large flower-growing plantation on the other side of the Atlantic, Mr. and Mrs. John Bodger of this city returned here yesterday. They were met by a large crowd of friends at the station.

Mr. Bodger is a pioneer flower-seed cultivator in Southern California. The trip was to inspect and compare the flowers grown in Europe with those grown in California. Mr. Bodger's conclusions after viewing the floral products of the other countries are that the flowers produced in California far exceed those of the foreign lands.

Leaving Los Angeles early in April, 1921, Mr. and Mrs. Bodger went to New York, where they sailed for England on the Aquitania. They visited Mr. Bodger's former home at Burnham, Somerset, Eng. He was attacked with a rather serious case of bronchitis, but recovered in time to maintain his itinerary, which was prepared by S. B. Dicks, who is said to have few equals as a seedsman globe trotter.

The first jaunt from England was made to Italy, where the aster crops were to be inspected. Although somewhat early, Mr. Bodger says that he saw enough to convince him that the crop does not begin to equal the California product.

The various seed-growing products of France and Holland were then viewed, but while interesting, the inspection did not disclose anything particularly striking, according to Mr. Bodger.

The seed districts of Erfurt and Quedlinburg in Germany were viewed and it was here that the finest asters in Europe were found.

The crops in England were badly damaged by heat. Mr. Bodger stated that he never saw anything that scorched crops as did the summer heat in England last year. Denmark was visited later and some good specimens were viewed.

Mr. Bodger and his sons have more than 1000 acres of flowers under cultivation, adjacent to Los Angeles, raising them for the seeds alone.

"Never again! I'll spend the rest of my life in California," Mr. Bodger said yesterday upon his arrival. He is now 76 years of age.

Union Provision in Contract Basis of Action

Musician Seeks Season's Pay from Orchestra

Other Proceedings Hinge on Result

Raising a question which has never been answered by the courts of this State, the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra yesterday broke new ground in defending a suit brought against it by John Fisnar for $2080, which, he contends is due on a contract to play the bassoon for thirty-two weeks.

The question is, can Mr. Fisnar compel the orchestra to pay him wages on a contract containing a provision to the effect that none but union musicians might be employed by the orchestra management? Yesterday Attorneys Meserve & Meserve and Mott & Cross set up the defense that such a contract clause limits the right to contract, is against public policy and is utterly void.

So far as is known, the point never before has been raised here and has not been ruled on by the California courts, so its answer will be awaited with considerable anxiety, no doubt.

ORCHESTRA DISRUPTED

The case dates back to the fall of 1920, when the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra was preparing to begin its fall and winter concerts. Shortly after rehearsals began the organization was practically disrupted when a large number of its players joined the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Adolph Tandler, director of the Symphony, was compelled to engage a number of players on short notice, and among them he obtained Fred Paine, a tympani player from Detroit. He explained that he obtained Mr. Paine because the latter was regarded as an unusually good tympani player and Mr. Tandler regarded the tympani as among the important instruments of his orchestra.

When Mr. Paine arrived the local chapter of the Musicians' Mutual Protective League refused to seat him, although he was a union player. League officials explained that it was not necessary to bring a man here from Detroit, because they could obtain in San Francisco several tympani players.

SUES FOR FULL PAY

Director Tandler held that he wanted Mr. Paine to play the tympani, and the league notified its members that they could not play with him. The upshot of it was that after a controversy lasting a month the orchestra management declared for the open shop and sought to recruit nonunion musicians. The season was so far advanced by that time that it finally abandoned the season's concert program.

Now Mr. Fisnar seeks to obtain pay for the full season, regardless of the fact that he did not play, declaring he was ready and willing to play. The orchestra contends that he fully understood the situation and that he had a right to quit and obtain employment elsewhere.

The defense declares that in answer to the question it will submit court decisions from other States to prove that such a contract as Mr. Fisnar held is against public policy and is void therefor.

Kendrick & Kendrick are appearing for Mr. Fisnar. It is reported that, if the Fisnar contract is held binding, many other musicians who had contracts with the orchestra will bring suit to collect their pay.

British Aviator Weds Pasadena Girl in London

Word has come of the marriage of Dr. Virginia Murray to Seymour Carlos Palmer in London, where Dr. Murray was attending clinics and lectures at the great Ormond-street hospital.

Dr. Murray is a Pasadena girl, and a graduate of Stanford University and medical school. She served in France during the war and after the armistice went with the typhus commission to Poland, where she served for nine months. She is the youngest daughter of Dr. Charles Pemberton Murray, and her mother was Edith Mandeville, both of New York.

Mr. Palmer served in the British navy, and for four years with distinction in the royal air force, in France.

MAN POSED AS SINGLE, SAYS WIFE

Husband Makes Love to Many Other Women, is Divorce Plea Charge

Martin Welter, head of the Golden State Hardwood Lumber Company, posed as a single man during all of his married life and told other women of his acquaintance that his wife was his housekeeper," according to the suit for divorce filed yesterday of Mrs. Alice Welter, 919 West Sixty-eighth street.

Mrs. Welter says in her complaint that ever since their marriage he has posed as a single man and has remained away from his home until 1 and 2 a.m., on an average of five nights a week since their wedding day. During all this time, she says in the complaint, he has been steadily keeping company with "two or three ladies," whose names are not mentioned.

Last Sunday, the wife states, she was visited at her home by two women, whose names she does not divulge, one of whom told her she had been keeping company with Welter for the past year and that he had repeatedly asked to marry him. The wife says the women refused to believe her when she said she was Welter's wife. The appearance of the two women caused such an uproar in the home, the wife says, she was compelled to call two policemen, who took the husband away. She says they found a revolver on him and he threatened to shoot her.

He frequently receives love letters from other women, she recites, and when she protested against this asserted conduct he struck her, threw her on a bed and choked her.

She asks one-half of the community property and alimony. His income, she says, is $300 a month. The complaint was filed through Attorney C. A. Stice.

NEWSPAPER BUILDING IS SET AFIRE

Crude Attempt to Burn Structure is Reported by Department Officer

An attempt to burn the building of the Los Angeles Record, local afternoon newspaper, at 612 Wall street, was frustrated shortly after 10 p.m. yesterday when Patrolman C. R. Stevens discovered a fire that had been started in the rear of the structure near a large wooden door. The police are searching for two suspects who were seen leaving the place shortly before the fire was discovered.

A huge pile of paper on which lumber had been stacked had been prepared for the arson attempt, it was reported by the police. The lumber had been brought to the lumber had apparently been brought to the rear of the building and placed against the wooden door which opens out of the room where newsprint paper is stored.

Fire Lieut. H. J. Griffin, who was in charge of the firemen who extinguished the blaze, declared it was undoubtedly a crude attempt to commit arson. The boards and paper had been carefully placed in position before the fire was started, he believes.

Detectives Knowles and Nathes were detailed to the investigation and reported they found a witness, Charles Burkhart of 625 San Julian street, who says he saw two men leave the vicinity of the fire about 10 p.m. He gave descriptions of the suspects. The stack of paper and lumber was more than half burned when Patrolman Stevens sounded the alarm.

GIRL HELPS POLICE SEEK MISSING SISTER

MOTHER FEARS SIXTEEN-YEAR OLD MISS IS VICTIM OF SOME EVIL

Aided by a younger sister of the missing girl the police began search last night for 16-year-old Mildred O'Keefe, who disappeared last Monday morning after leaving her home at 356 South Figueroa street. She was on her way to the Lincoln High School, but Detective Sergeant Stelzreide was unable to find anyone who had seen her that day. Mildred's mother, who made a tearful plea to the police to find her daughter, fears she has been the victim of some evil influence.

BANDIT FIRES AT BANKER

Ontario Man Escapes as Two Bullets Pierce His Automobile

C. Y. Dyke, assistant cashier of the Ontario National Bank, narrowly escaped death yesterday when a highwayman fired twice at him as he was driving along the Foothill Boulevard between Ontario and Claremont.

Mr. Dyke was returning to his home at 846 East D street, Ontario, after attending a meeting in Claremont. Shortly before reaching the intersection of Central avenue he observed a roadster with a man in it, parked at the side of the boulevard. Suddenly a man jumped into the road in front of the banker's machine.

"Stop!" cried the man, waving his arms. Instead, Mr. Dyke jammed his foot upon the accelerator. At the same instant the bandit drew a revolver and fired, the bullet shattering the windshield above the driver's head. A second bullet followed, passing through a side curtain, after whizzing past Mr. Dyke's ear.

Mr. Dyke drove immediately to the Upland Police Station. Policemen Louis Kronmeyer, Jedd F. Sawyer and Charles Haughs hurried to the scene of the attempted hold-up, with sawed-off shotguns, but the bandit had disappeared. They believe that the man sitting in the roadster was a confederate. The one that fired the shots is thought to be the highwayman that has been terrorizing motorists on the Foothill Boulevard for the last few weeks. Recently, at Arcadia, the bandit fired at one of his victims after holding him up.

STUDENTS .. STAGE .. MAY .. DAY .. FIESTA

Processional March, Dancing, Gymnastics and Drill Feature Program

The student body of Manual Arts High School celebrated May Day with exercises yesterday forenoon on Wilson Field. The program was presented by the departments of physical education of the school and consisted of dancing, gymnastics and drilling.

There were 3200 students in the grand processional march, which began the ceremonies. The Reserve Officers' Training Corps Band and the school orchestra played for the various numbers. The ensemble sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and the various divisions then enacted their parts.

A large class of girls did folk dances under the direction of Miss Mary Blanchard, and the boys' gymnasium club under direction of F. N. Featherstone did pyramid formations and tumbling.

THREE CENT CUT IN GAS ANNOUNCED

Rail Board Orders Rate Reduced in Los Angeles Dating from 2nd Inst

A change in the price of gas here, amounting to a reduction of 3 cents per 1000 feet, was announced yesterday by the State Railroad Commission. It is effective with all readings dating from the 2nd inst., and means that the cost to the consumer will be 73 cents a thousand for artificial or mixed gas in minimum quantities. The cost of natural gas is not altered.

The cost of these kinds of gas has been 76 cents since August 1 of last year. This has been due to a surcharge of 3 cents allowed the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, and the Southern California Gas Company, pending their applications for rate increases. The surcharge was authorized by the Railroad Commission because of the excess cost of oil to the companies. Now the commission wipes out the surcharge because the deficits in oil cost have been made up. The surcharge reimbursed the Los Angeles gas concern to the extent of $249,000.

Comes Here to Wed Daughter of Cartoonist

Arriving on the California Limited yesterday afternoon, Dr. Britton Buckley Evans of Morris Plains, N. J., was met at the station by Miss Mildred Homer Davenport, his bride-to-be and friends, and driven to the chambers of Judge Summerfield where they were married. He is 29, and she is 24 years of age. They will reside in Morris Plains.

Dr. Evans is the son of Dr. Britton D. Evans, famous alienist, who was a witness at the Thaw trial. Mrs. Evans is the daughter of the late Homer Davenport, cartoonist. The marriage certificate was witnessed by Mrs. Mary Ford, wife of Jack Ford, cinema director.

SEEIN' THINGS

[Why not share your chuckle with others? When you see something unusual, drop a note about it to the City Editor of The Times. Then we all can smile.]

A. G. piped this sign on a ranch house not far from the city: "Sitting Eggs for Sale." Well, why not? Columbus made 'em sit up and take notice.

A. T. M., strolling in Westlake Park enjoyed a chuckle when he saw a tame duck waddling about under a sign on a tree which read: "Tamarix Pentandra. Please do not pick it." Picking of municipal ducks outside the City Hall is strictly prohibited.

B. R. K. clips a heading from a Pasadena paper which surprised her. It said: "Miss Elizabeth Russell Luncheon and Hostess at Kitchen Shower." Let us hope, for the guests' sake, that Miss Elizabeth was young and tender.

"BEE KING" GUILTY

Charge of Assault With Intent to Murder Wife Upheld

After deliberating nine minutes, a jury in Judge Avery's court yesterday declared Fred Chapman, known as the "bee king of Burbank" guilty of assault with intent to murder his wife, Mrs. Georgina Chapman.

The evidence disclosed that Mr. Chapman, in a fit of anger, had invaded a children's party, attended by his wife and his seven children, and fired several shots at his wife, three of which took effect.

Sentence will be imposed Saturday morning.

Sawtelle Asks School Board for New High

The city of Sawtelle, which expects to be annexed to Los Angeles again soon, will not be satisfied until the Board of Education gives it a high school, a delegation of Sawtelle citizens told members of the board yesterday. Two high schools, in fact, would suit them better—a junior and a senior high school. The delegation consisted of Walter L. Armacost, Mayor; F. H. Hamilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and spokesman of the delegation, and A. J. Stoner, manager of the Sawtelle Lumber Company. New school buildings in Sawtelle will be contingent upon a favorable vote on the $17,400,000 bond issue, June 6, they were told by C. E. Seaman, president of the board. Members of the board will inspect today a proposed site for a Sawtelle high school.

INDIANS GIVEN FEDERATION DAY

Speaker Praises Clubs for Helping Red Men

Drama-Pageant Presented at Southwest Museum

Resolutions to be Acted on at Today's Session

BY MYRA NYE

The opportunity of California club women to advance the welfare of the Indian in a practical way is greater than any other group either of men or women in the whole world. This was brought out repeatedly yesterday in the three sessions of the California Federation of Women's Clubs in its twenty-first annual convention.

It was "Indian Day," with a notable address by John Collier on "The Indian; a Challenge to Our Present and Future," given in the morning in Bovard Hall, University of Southern California. A brief outline of her work in the general federation was given by Mrs. H. A. Atwood of Riverside, chairman of the Indian welfare department of the general federation, which includes 2,500,000 women of five different countries. A second address in the afternoon on the Indians was made by Joseph Scott, and, most noteworthy of all, an original Indian drama-pageant presented on the hill of the Southwest Museum as a memorial to that champion of the Indian, Helen Hunt Jackson. This drama-pageant was presented by the Wa-Wan Club, a music club with an Indian name and Indian traditions. It was directed by Miss Virginia Calhoun of an old and distinguished California family which has always been in sympathy with the Indians. The chief role was taken by a young Indian woman, a fullblooded Cherokee, and other Indians appeared, the musical accompaniment of harp and violin being also Indian.

WOMEN'S WORK PRAISED

"If one desired to make out a case for feminism," said Mr. Collier, "he could not find a better foundation for it than to contrast the action of American women toward the Indian with that of the American man. There is a movement which is now felt all over the United States which was started here in California by women, with Mrs. Atwood as its originator.

A movement not only to rectify the ancient wrongs of, but to conserve for the future the American Indian. To do this great thing, it requires a wide range of knowledge, a certain amount of legal equipment, a statesmanlike and a sympathetic interest in the Indian. The task has gone beyond imaginative sentimentalism or even philanthropy. The women are the only ones who have advanced toward the legal solution to the problem, a solution that must be dealt with by the whole country. The men must get back of you and help to lessen the evils of an autocratic bureaucracy.

Mr. Collier began with the early

People and Their Troubles

Elizabeth Jordan's Column.

"HATE SOCIETIES"

Recently the cable has brought us the news that two "hate societies" have been formed in Europe—one in France and one in England—whose pleasant purpose is to teach women to hate men! Indeed they go further than this. Their members undertake to avenge, so far as lies in their power, the wrongs men have done women. One society even asks its members to send in the names and addresses of men who have in any way wronged women, that a "black list" may be made and sent out for the protection of the sex!

All this, of course, is too absurd for serious consideration, and the makers of the "black list," if they make one, will promptly find themselves in the trouble they deserve. We have not yet reached the point where personal enmity and maliciousness can be permitted to work itself out in that fashion. But the birth of the new societies seems to have stirred up again those prophets of sex war who have been promising us all sorts of evils as a result of universal suffrage in this country.

SOME SOOTHING THOUGHTS

Most of us are not in need of reassurance as to our safety from the peril of a sex war. We know there will never be a sex war. A few nervous souls, however, need to be reminded just so often that any radical departure in existing conditions always brings a temporary and more or less unimportant upheaval in its wake. Also, it gives the "agitators" in every walk of life their opportunity. The unbalanced, the embittered, the fanatical can temporarily gain the limelight by shrieking their protests to the skies.

For generations these agitators have usually been men. They have mouthed and yelped and howled for a general upheaval, while the world, including its women, listened patiently until the shouters have worn themselves out. It has not occurred to women to say, "These agitators are men. They are making idiots of themselves. Consequently all men are idiots." Women, though proclaimedly not the logical sex, have not been so illogical as that. Instead they have said: "Give those poor creatures time, and they will wear themselves out. If they become too annoying, wiser men can soon handle the situation they create."

MEN'S QUICK-FIRE JUDGMENTS

It is this tolerant attitude which women now expect from men—expect but do not always receive. Every woman is familiar with the jovial type of lord of creation who, while apparently joking over "what you women are up to now" seemingly holds each woman he knows responsible for the fool performances of a few women radicals. Also, we know the nonjovial type, who is gloomily certain that "with women losing their heads the way they are nowadays, the world is going to ruin."

Women are not losing their heads, any more than men are losing their heads. In fact, looking at the world situation in the large, one sometimes wonders if most women are not keeping their heads rather better than most men! And neither men nor women are going to let the world go to ruin just now.

A final thought. If we really begin to feel alarmed over the activities of the lady agitators, let's take up a Sunday newspaper and look at the reproductions of their photographs!

Question: Who is the oldest Senator in point of service, and who in years, in the United States Senate?
T. J. L.

Answer: Senator Lodge is the oldest Senator in continuous service, having held office since 1893. Senator Page is the oldest in years, having been born in 1843. Senator Lodge will soon be 72 years of age.

Q.: Why does a dog stick out its tongue when it pants?
R. E. M.

A.: This is an unconscious effort to increase the evaporating surface of the body. Heat required to evaporate perspiration caused by exertion cools the body.

Q.: What constitutes the "supreme law of the land?"
F. K.

A.: The Constitution of the United States, together with foreign treaties and acts of Congress made under its authority are the supreme law of the land.

H. U. W.

Q.: What is call money?
G. A. C.

A.: Call money is money loaned on condition that the loan be repaid at any time the person making it calls for his money.

Q.: What are the various sizes of anthracite coal?
M. W. P.

A.: The trade names of the various sizes of anthracite coal are lump, broken or grate, egg, stove, chestnut, pea, No. 1 buckwheat, No. 2 buckwheat, No. 3, buckwheat and culm. The sizes range from lump, which will not pass through a screen, the openings in which measure six inches, to culm, which passes through screens with openings of five sixty-fourths of an inch.

Q.: What is the meaning of the saying "to carry water to the river?"
C. P. G.

A.: "To carry water to the river" is the French equivalent for the English saying, "to carry coals to Newcastle." Both illustrate the futility of taking a commodity to the source of its supply.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Plea for Dogs

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An article in one of our papers headed "Asks Council to hunt mad dogs" states that the Health Commissioner wants all stray dogs picked upon account of hydrophobia, declaring that a man died of it, due to a mad dog bite and that nine others are receiving the Pasteur treatment. I for one would like to know why? Some of the most prominent doctors in the United States have offered high rewards for one single case of hydrophobia, an almost unknown disease. The writer is not an Englishman but I say all honor to the English nation for prohibiting Pasteur institutions and treatments in their country. Mad dogs are also unknown there. Don't torture a dog with a muzzle but give him all the water he needs, if the poor animal gets overheated and temporarily out of his head is absolutely no indication of madness, but alas, there is a general cry about mad dog and frequently some policeman who does not know any better, kills the poor animal. Had the poor dog bitten anyone of his tormentors in self defense, he or she is rushed to one of the Pasteur institutions where a good stiff sum is charged for the so-called treatment. This is radically wrong. If anybody dies from the effects it is nothing else but on account of the poor condition of their blood. In my humble opinion Pasteur did only one act worth mentioning during his life time as far as the dog is concerned. He stated that if a dog bites you, secure him, and if he drinks and eats turn him loose. There is nothing wrong with him. This certainly would satisfy the person who might have been bitten a great deal more than living in continuous fear and doubt after the animal has been killed. Until a few months ago I had a little dog who had a slight attack of stomach trouble. I took him to a man who advertises himself as a veterinary. This man claimed it was a case of toothache. He pulled out a lot of teeth; about ten of them in the most brutal manner. He broke the dog's jaw, which latter I have in my possession as evidence against him. The poor dog died in terrible agony two weeks later. The City Prosecutor has informed me to sue this fellow for maltreatment but I have no means to hire a lawyer. I have notified every veterinary in town about it, also the S. P. C. A. of which I am a member. Many people have gotten dogs from the society because this fellow mistreated their pets which died on account of it, yet such a man holds a license in this city. There seems to be no justice for a poor man and his best and only friend, the dog.

Likes the Idea

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your fine editorial, "All-year-round Schools," is very much to be commended.

School year divided into quarters, three months each of twelve weeks gives one week at the end of each as a vacation week.

Teachers as well as pupils need a three-month vacation as a rule. The teachers should have their salary check every month and some years they ought to teach, if healthfulness permits, so as to earn a six months vacation for approved advance study. Our present half-day session pupils doubtless have fine nature-study teachers so that the other half-day spent in parks, fields and forest can be great out-of-door education.

Nature studies in the hands of finest teachers can make for health, choice English, spoken and written and the finest by-product of character.

Field study trips of a week or three months away from home in higher elementary grades and all of the high school can make for broad-minded, healthful youth. The quarter idea and plans are fine.

Sore Feet the Cause

LONG BEACH, May 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Too little learning in one's profession is a dangerous thing. This is exemplified in the shoe business more than in any other line. If a doubt exists one has only to look at the myriads of women who sit down at the first opportunity—not because they are tired, but because of aching feet. If a man took a horse to a typewriter shop to have it shod, the proprietor in all probability would ask: "What the H—— Bill?" as we used to say in the Army. Nevertheless when it comes to a human being, the first fellow who can knot a cravat without a wrinkle is employed to sell shoes; and we wonder why we cannot get a fit.

Sore feet ruin dispositions. No one knows how many homes have been broken up on account of tight or ill-fitting shoes. No one knows how many men have been sent to the "pen" because the court's pet corn was being cruelly assaulted by "tough"—piece of leather. Why even today my sweetheart didn't want to remain with me any longer, but said she had to go home because her feet hurt. Who knows when she reads this letter she may get peeved at me and I'll lose my happy home. But I felt that I simply had to get this off my chest and insist that in some manner or means, even if Congress has to forget the bonus for a while, a law should be passed preventing anyone who does not have a thorough knowledge of his business from becoming a shoe salesman.

ARTHUR QUIRT.

A Veteran Speaks

SAWTELLE, May 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am a veteran of both Spanish-American and World War, and disabled by disease at middle age, am spending what days are left to me at the Soldiers' Home. I read with horror the doings of the Ku Klux Klan, and it makes my blood boil, and I wish with all my heart that I could go forth in Uncle Sam's harness for the third time, to suppress such cowardly assassins as this bunch has shown themselves to be. One of their leaders calls attention to the fact that he has served his country in two wars. If this is true he did not show it on the night of the Inglewood affair, when one brave and determined man made them run like a lot of rabbits, and they squealed for mercy when they saw he could not be bluffed, and even if he did as he says, serve his country in two wars, does that give him the right to persecute any of his fellow-citizens, who may happen to differ with him. In my army experience in two wars, and especially the late war, I have seen Jew, Protestant and Catholic suffer, and fight side by side to down a common foe, there was no thought of religious difference then and no desire to tar and feather a brother-soldier because he was a Jew or a Catholic. No, the business of the day was to "get the Kaiser," and the job was done with neatness and dispatch. If this man's army and war experience has made him thirst for the blood of those who differ with him, then I would like to see his military record of what he has been through, for I want to say that my war experience has made me very meek and humble, for I have seen men suffer and die that others might live. I am a Catholic through the same accident of birth that has made this man a Protestant, but I do not thirst for his blood on that account. In spite of my religion, and I am not ashamed of it, I feel that I have served my country well. I have not much longer to live, but before I die I would like to see this cowardly and un-American organization wiped from the face of the earth.

Why So Many Hobos?

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The "high cost of living" is a very important factor in the progress of ideal United States citizenship as well as healthful home life. Everybody is "just rooming" or "housekeeping" or "home-building" and most people cannot endure more than one or two decades of either and change from one to the other.

"Taxes by good citizens are promptly paid" and yet how many pay none and cannot register for voting.

If profiteering exceeds 25 per cent we often wonder about the assessed valuation of rooming and home-rental property. How much of our high rents are due to the "cost of high living," for one of the factors of "home thrift" is living within one's income.

Should our assessed valuation of rooming or home-rental property be very much increased because of the profiteering rental net incomes or should the rent charges be reduced and listed in accord with present assessed valuation so that the net profits are not exorbitant profiteering; is there no limit?

Usury is well defined and established in highly civilized and decent communities. Why is rent profiteering permitted and not yet adjusted on some well organized fair rent plan?

"The individual is the unit of citizenship and the family is the unit of civilization." Why are there so many hobos?

Interesting Facts About "The Leonard" Refrigerator

The interior of the Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator is so arranged that the largest possible cooling surface is exposed to the air in the ice chamber and a continuous circulation of air is kept up as long as there is ice in the box. This not only cools the air, but dries and purifies it—an element which is important in the keeping of all kinds of foods.

Approved by Good-Housekeeping Institute.
"Like a Clean China Dish"

Leonard Refrigerators may be had in various styles, sizes and prices—to suit every type of home. Every "Leonard" has:

Ten walls of insulation to protect temperature and make a genuine saving in the amount of ice used.

DOING PENANCE

Eight persons sent to jail in one day for speeding is a local record that fills the average citizen with hope. When folks are locked up in jail and their machines are chained in the garage they behave right well and are not terrifying everybody.

MEN AND THEIR TOGS

The tailors and clothiers of America report that suspenders have come back into their own. Men may wear belts for show or for the upkeep of their light summery togs, but for the reliability run the good old ironclad suspender is in command of the situation. It is also announced that grandfather's nightshirt is once more in good form. It is all right to have a few sets of pajamas in the family—for travel or sickness—but the nightshirt is not only de rigueur but comme il faut. It is also otium cum dignitate. That is because President Harding is wearing one of them. Long may it wave!

STRAWS IN THE WIND

The straw hat now shows which way the wind blows, but it is a rather costly device to measure the direction of the zephyrs. It was believed last fall that the alfalfa lids this season would be lower-priced. The hay market is considerably reduced since the war schedule and there are other competent reasons for a reduction in the cost of the summer helmet. But, gee whiz! there is nothing to it. A classy lid will set a fellow back $8 or $10 and it isn't a Panama, at that. When a guy has to spill a dozen bucks for a bean guard that won't even make a decent horse's breakfast there is something wrong somewhere.

BIRD OF EVIL OMEN

William Z. Foster of unsavory strike notoriety, who was working with the Reds in Russia for a time, was permitted to make one of the May Day speeches in Chicago. He said that the Federation of Labor had ceased to function; that Gompers's brain had gone to seed; that the only progress making was in the direction of radical Socialism and that Germany would soon be in the hands of the Russian soviets. If Foster would drain a flagon of carbolic acid some Sunday next week the world would be materially sweetened. Although few now take him seriously, he is always a potential trouble-maker with the unlettered.

FACING THE FILMS

In connection with the petition of sundry religious folk of Chicago for the exclusion of the Arbuckle films from their fair city the Municipal Council has issued an invitation for the portly and amiable artist to visit the town in person and offer such argument as he may have against the granting of the petition. There is a strong belief that the Chicago Council is very willing that the Arbuckle films be shown and the personal appearance of the fat comedian would solidify the sentiment in his behalf. Chicago was never very particular or exclusive as to the character of its entertainment and there is no disposition to jump on Roscoe to this day.

KEEPING STILL

A husband shot his wife the other day in order to make her keep still. This seems a rather harsh and peremptory process, but it has the merit of efficiency. When a lady is filled full of hot lead she surely does lose her voice. At the same time the treatment is not to be commended—or even condoned. Under the magnanimous provisions of the Nineteenth Amendment all women have the right to broadcast their voices as fancy pleases. Why should anybody keep still, anyhow—least of all a woman? If she does the keepers of the Eighteenth Amendment will be on her neck. They will not willingly suffer anyone to keep still—even if they are just watching the moonshine.

KEEPING SUNDAY

A preacher asks members of his congregation to bring picnic dinners with them to the Sabbath morning service. After Sunday-school all are expected to visit a neighboring park, where they can refresh and rest themselves against the time of vesper service. It all sounds very innocent and comfortable, but there are members of other congregations who insist that this particular minister is running a free-for-all Sunday barbecue and should either reform or be disciplined. It is hard to please some folks and secure that devout and heroic observance of the Lord's day which they would wish upon their neighbors. It is almost necessary for a preacher to learn boxing in order to defend his creed against all comers.

CITY OF IMPASSIONED PROGRESS

There is no reason why the Los Angeles Pageant of Progress should not be the most impressive exposition of the year. The eyes of the whole country have been directed at the City of the Angels. At a time when industry lagged and enterprise halted the men and women of this community were pressing forward at full speed. The city has had a building program that has hardly been paralleled since the flood. The industrial advancement of Los Angeles is classed with the miracles as an achievement. There are three thousand factories now where there were virtually none a short span ago. The gates of the Orient have opened to the commerce of Southern California and one of the world's great ports lies at our feet. The point is that Los Angeles can give the nation something worth looking at. That is what we purpose doing.

STATESMEN VERSUS POLITICIANS

One of the unfortunate tendencies of popular government in recent years has been to replace conscientious statesmen by conscienceless politicians. The number of statesmen in national life has decreased perceptibly since the days of Blaine, Tilden and Hoar, while the breed of politicians has grown and multiplied like a colony of guinea pigs. Despite the fact that the professional politicians have gained a very bad name for themselves in all countries, the State of California is wholly under their control.

Out of the 7000 State employees there are probably not fifty who do not make a business out of office-holding, who are not members of an organization formed for the purpose of gathering the spoils of office.

There have been statesmen in California, but not of recent years. The race is extinct. And the politicians have made a highly profitable business out of exploiting the taxpayers. The cost of State government is higher per capita here than in any other American commonwealth; it is more than three times the average of other American States. That is the price we pay for turning our government over to a political machine.

Politics has become a filthy game, and honest people keep out of it. This is as the politicians wish it to be. If it were to be purified honest men might be found who were not averse to standing for office. There are, of course, some exceptions, but only enough to prove the rule. We have managed thus far to keep our courts out of the mire; but even the courts are threatened. Unless we can find some way to purify State politics the courts, too, will end by becoming contaminated.

California will elect this year a Governor and a State Legislature, and the professional politicians coolly announce that they have the situation well in hand. The machine has lieutenants, all of whom are on the State pay roll, in every Senate and Assembly district. These lieutenants look the field over and select the candidates whom the machine supports. The list is vised by overlords at Sacramento and San Francisco who pay particular attention to "previous performance." They have applied the methods of the bookmaker to politics.

To illustrate: the machine has announced that it will have candidates in the field against every Senator and Assemblyman who voted in the last Legislature against the King tax bill, which increased the cost of the State government nearly 50 per cent. On the other hand, the machine will reward those who were faithful to the politicians, and false to the taxpayers, by making their campaigns for them.

Practically every speaker campaigning for the present administration is on the State pay roll. They are palpably talking for their jobs; yet, curious to relate, they succeed in getting themselves invited to address women's clubs and other civic organizations, and those who listen to them fail to get a glimpse of the leering politician back of the mask of "public service." Viewed in the light of their own interests they are not to be blamed; for if any one of them were to perform a genuine public service by exposing the methods of the machine he would be fired from Sacramento by wire. Everyone must choose between the people and the machine. He cannot serve both.

Politicians court popularity by cozening to organized groups in the electorate. For them the people as a whole does not exist. They have learned the habit of trimming and evasion; and it is only when they quarrel among themselves, as when Jack Neylan broke with Gov. Stephens, that the people get a glimpse of actual conditions.

Astute politicians know they must please these organized groups, at all hazards and any sacrifice. That is why the Legislature occasionally, but very rarely, passes a good law. They are willing to give the people anything they want, provided it does not reduce the volume of the loaves and fishes. On that they are adamant.

Commenting on political conditions in England, the London Morning Post recently said:

> The difference between a statesman and a politician is roughly that the politician is solely intent to please, while the statesman is solely intent to do the best for his country, whether it pleases or not. The definition of a statesman is one who dares to say No when it is politically expedient to say yes. . . . We do not say that a statesman should never compromise. He must. In an imperfect world it is sometimes necessary to take less rather than to lose all, and to use the instruments available. What is essential is that the motive should be honest. No politician who is entirely preoccupied with finding out what the largest mob, which is also the most ignorant, desires at the moment, in order to give it to them, is a statesman.

Keeping these things in mind, it is easy for any citizen to distinguish between a statesman and a politician. We cannot recall to mind a public official in California in ten years, outside the courts, who dared to say No when popular clamor said Yes. And this condition offers the only hope for the taxpayer for relief. If a loud enough clamor were to go up against crushing taxes some ambitious ones in the State machine would break away and help to wreck it. The trouble is that we have come to regard excessive taxes as inevitable, that we wear our chains too meekly, that too many have come to regard the professional politicians as invincible.

The electorate of several States have forced their Legislatures to reduce the cost of State government by retiring to private life those who were responsible for State extravagance. Why cannot the electorate of California follow suit?

TRICKS OF THE TRADE

The amiable son of Nippon who supplies our green goods has not forgotten how to cap the boxes of strawberries. The fact that it is forbidden does not greatly hamper his dexterity. The berries whose better nature has been soured or that have been bruised by harsh contact with the world are invariably found in seclusion in the bottom of the box. The grand-stand glad-handers are in the front seats or at the top of the column.

BOON COMPANIONS

They are introducing the horned toad into the boudoirs of Paris. It is set forth that a number of fashionable dames have taken them into their homes as pets and would pin them on their hats if they could. All those in favor of having a horned toad as a bosom companion say "Aye." The nays have it.

A VALUABLE CITIZEN

The general citizenship of the community, as well as the membership of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, will be interested in the celebration on Sunday of the fourteenth anniversary of Dean MacCormack's rectorship in that parish.

Under his leadership the parish has advanced, numerically, financially and in the things of the spirit, as have few other units of the same type in this country.

Its communicant list has grown from less than 800 to over 1600, in spite of the difficulties confronting a downtown church in maintaining a stable membership. In addition, the church has ministered to a tremendous transient congregation.

The parish, largely through his sagacity and his patience in business matters, has been transformed into one of the most substantial in the diocese.

In matters affecting this particular diocese of the Episcopal Church, Dean MacCormack has for years played a leading and a highly intelligent role. Likewise, his influence has been felt in the church at large in America.

Nevertheless, he has not been one-sidedly a churchman. Exceptionally gifted as a speaker and possessing a rare felicity in phrases, he has been constantly in demand at public gatherings. Profoundly human in his outlook on life, his common sense and cordiality have bound to him as strong friends hundreds of persons outside his immediate congregation, men and women of every faith and of none. He is one of the community's assets, and his fourteen years here have been beneficial to Los Angeles, as well as to St. Paul's.

INSANITY AND CRIME

How shall we frame laws that will protect from criminal punishment individuals who are not responsible for their acts of violence but are the victims of diseases or pathological or chemical conditions, without affording a loophole through which vicious and adroit scoundrels can escape? This is one of the most serious problems by which society is confronted. It is attracting the attention of the medical fraternity, as well as of the humanitarians.

Insanity is rightly held to be a defense against punishment for crime. But the term insanity is something of an abstraction. Under the old standards a man was held to be sane if it could be shown that, at the time the offense was committed, he was aware of the nature of the act and the consequences thereof.

But scientific research has disclosed various diseases which affect the mentality of the individual that were heretofore unsuspected. Hidden traces of abnormal conditions have been found that, when corrected, remove the vicious tendencies, the pathological or chemical conditions that weaken and render impotent the human will.

Are we to continue to treat these victims of physical conditions as conscious criminals? If not, where is the line to be drawn that will protect the innocent without endangering the public safety?

Dr. Max G. Schlapp, professor of neurology at Post-Graduate Medical Hospital of New York, recently gave a remarkable interview on this subject. He is said to have done "a great deal of pioneering in the field of criminal mentality and the neurological aspects of criminality." He said, among other things:

> Twenty years ago the very term "endocrine system" was unknown and the science of the ductless glands had no standing. Today our knowledge of the endocrines and their influence on every function of the nervous system in man promises to revolutionize our whole understanding of human behavior. We know that many men commit crimes because their thyroid glands or other glands are out of order. We understand now that many unfortunate human beings are unable to control themselves under temptation or in the face of other arousing stimuli, because there is some derangement in the glands. It is now certain that these endocrine organs control the workings of our nerves altogether, including the workings of the brain.

Granting this to be true, what are we going to do about it?

Dr. Schlapp goes on to say, "At least the well-informed among us know that many men who commit crimes are not responsible for their acts, but are the victims of pathological or chemical conditions . . . that many men in our prisons should be in hospitals and sanatoriums . . . that a very large proportion of the men sent to prison for felonious breaches of the law are sick men who can be cured of their illness. But we continue to treat these men as pariahs and monsters. We continue to torture them and cage them and judge them according to stupid and obsolete standards. And we fail to give them help or light, though both are at hand."

But Dr. Schlapp recognizes the danger of the interference of maudlin sentimentalism in the trial and punishment of those guilty of criminal acts. He has not been able to fix the line of differentiation between the victims of disease and the conscious criminals. He says, "There are many criminals who are dangerous, rapacious and intractable—even though they may be victims of the troubles we now begin to understand. . . . Society must protect itself against these people, and in the present state of progress we have no better way than confining them where they can do little harm." Then he proceeds to ask, "Are we to go on hating and abhorring a man who breaks our rules, or shall we, because we know what happened within him, sympathize and help him?" And he comments, "This is by no means merely a humanitarian problem, but an economic one, for the cost of punishing men for acts opposed to our codes is one of the largest charges against taxation."

That insane persons should be treated as criminals is intolerable. But, judging from past experience, the trouble we shall experience in the study and solution of this problem is not that we shall do too little, but too much. Few men or women are perfect physical specimens. Unscrupulous lawyers will be ready to offer the slightest physical defect as an evidence of mental derangement.

Science is always instructive, but often misleading. To the squabbling of attorneys in our criminal cases will be added the wrangling of experts and near-experts. To enter that field we must seize our courage with both hands, lest it escape us. But, whatever the inconvenience and the burden, we cannot afford to continue to fill our prisons with individuals who are not mentally responsible for the infractions of the written law which they have committed. The responsibility for administering criminal justice is the real "white man's burden."

RIPPLING RHYMES

NOTHING NEW

I saw a girl, a social pet, light up a costly cigaret; she blew the smoke around her head and mournfully I sighed and said, "Great Caesar! Whither do we drift? These modern women are too swift. I guess I am behind the times; I'm always seeing sordid crimes and vicious customs, all day long, where others notice nothing wrong. But in the old days gone to seed, no women used the filthy weed." I make such statements off the reel; I always like to make a spiel of dear dead days beyond recall, when sin was not on earth at all. But when I sit me down to think, I find my spiel was on the blink. The women of the bygone years were wedded to the pipe that cheers. My grandma had an old clay pipe and smoked a weed that smelled like tripe. The housewives used to blithely puff; when tired of smoke they tackled snuff; I see them smoking in a row and slinging gossip to and fro. An old clay pipe is worse, you bet, than any modern cigaret. My moral feet are always cold, such sinful customs I behold! Yet ever when I look behind and call old customs back to mind, I see that granny put up grass just like the giddy modern lass.

A TIP FROM A WAITER

Not so very long ago the head waiter on a diner of the Great Western Railroad compelled attention because of his diligence in serving the patrons of the road. His eyes, his hands, his feet, as well as his brain, were active to see to it that none wanted. This head waiter suggested the thought that he was contributing his bit toward improving conditions.

Industry is not going to recover unless all accept the personal responsibility which existence has placed on everyone. Conferences at Genoa or Washington or Kankakee may point the way, but only conscientious effort on the part of all will evoke real prosperity-creating industrial life.

And in the meantime, while waiting for that recovery, the example of the railway waiter can be followed—the example of efficient service.—[Chicago Journal of Commerce.

THE VOGUE FOR SHELLEY

BY WILLIAM FOSTER ELLIOTT

Of all facts connected with the present-day renascence of poetry and public interest in it none is more likely to intrigue the mind than the way the much-criticised "younger generation" are taking up Shelley. For Shelley is really being taken up. Statistics are, of course, unavailable; but a fair amount of inquiry around libraries and second-hand book stores makes this statement safer than most such generalities. And the interest shows no symptoms of being a mere fad.

It seems incongruous at first. The contempt with which most of today's youth regards the "classics" is so notorious that it fairly ranks as a social phenomenon. Dickens, Scott, Thackeray, they mention (if at all) with derisive politeness; Mark Twain bores them to tears; no words can express their abhorrence of Longfellow and Tennyson. Any reputation of over five years' standing they suspect, and one of a decade they assail with astonishing bitterness. Yet they read the "gentle Shelley." In the name of all that's marvelous, why do they?

Now I belong to this younger generation and took up Shelley long ago; so when this question was suggested to me as worth the comment of type I did not shrink from the task. Far from it. Why do they like Shelley? Nothing could be simpler than that. Shelley was the rebel incarnate; all young people today are rebels; therefore they like Shelley. Q.E.D. So I plunged, and found the water both deep and cold.

But during the swim back to shore certain ideas came, stimulated perhaps by the unusual activity. After all, this theory of the arch-rebel has its points. It is quite possible that Shelley's refusal to accept any doctrine that did not fit his personal experience has been the beginning of many an enthusiasm for his poetry. "A fellow-feeling," etc.

But only the beginning. None of Shelley's best poetry features the rebel very conspicuously. That job he instinctively left to Byron, who made a sublime mess of it. No, things like the "Adonais" and "Prometheus Unbound" are nearly pure poetry, and destructive only by implication. And no true reader of Shelley reads "Queen Mab" more than once.

So one must look in his poetry, not his propaganda, for the reason Shelley is being read by the younger generation. Can one find it in "Tonight," that flawless bit of imaginative music, or in the "Ode to the West Wind" or in "Epipsychidion," most Platonic of love poems since Dante's "Vita Nuova"? One can, emphatically.

People turn to poetry when they are hungry for esthetic and spiritual stimulus that more obvious art-forms or accredited religious institutions fail to give them. They turn to it also when they are weary of realism, of noise and dirt and penny-pinching, of the treadmill and the ball and chain. From all these poetry offers a way of escape; above the emptiness of them all poetry holds a promise of enduring reality.

Consider this maligned "younger generation." They are hopelessly sophisticated; critical beyond measure; impatient of order, restraint, convention; flippant and egotistical—or at least they are often called all these in our current literature. But look beneath the surface.

For the last hundred years every one who could think or write has concentrated his energies on destruction. A young man or woman growing up today finds nothing stable, no creed that is not threadbare, no philosophy that is not full of holes. The past three generations have taken beauty away from him and given him in lieu thereof the modern city. They have given him also bad nerves and an overstimulated brain. And now his disposition is criticised and he is told to read Tennyson! He would be quite justified in saying with Shylock, "The villainy you teach me I will execute."

But, in general, he says nothing of the sort. Instead, he turns passionately toward anything that offers beauty he can understand, religion he can accept or hope for the future he can think worth working for. And in so doing he has found Shelley; and in finding Shelley he has found these other things.

In subconscious revolt against his environment and his sophistication of mind, he turns to the poet who was most purely poet of them all. Extremes beget extremes. There is no paradox in it; but there is a very real hope for the future of poetry in our country and a definite proof that the younger generation is not so black as it is sometimes painted. Give these thousands who are now reading Shelley a few years more and they may produce another like him. One such would be well worth all the present's reckless expenditure of critical ammunition.

HANSIE SCORNS WHITE WOMEN

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Hansie is a Mojave Indian girl of 19 who was educated at the Riverside School, and mighty well educated, too. She has a father who owns a big cattle ranch, but, owing to an improper romance, even as a white girl, she found herself in the care of a Los Angeles probation officer.

Hansie's Indian lover had offered marriage at the eleventh hour, but it was characteristic of Hansie that she turned him down.

"I don't like him any more," she explained briefly in her liquid, rather Spanish accent.

And that is how Hansie came to work for me. I was a better alternative than a detention home. And for five months I harbored a most candid friend in my home. There was positively no guile in Hansie. When she spoke at all it was the plain, unvarnished truth. But she often did not speak for days.

After one of these interludes she said:

"You think I am sulky, don't you."

"Why, no. If you don't want to talk, why should you? I do enough talking for both of us, don't I?"

"Yes, you do. All white women talk too much. But you did think I was sulking, didn't you?" she persisted.

"No," I said, "were you?"

"Yes, I was. I was mad at you. But I can't make you mad, can I?"

"Do you want to?"

"Yes, I wanted to. I don't any more."

On another occasion she passed a few remarks on some of my visitors.

"That girl looks good, but she sure sticks her stomach out. She doesn't walk right. White women hardly ever do. They either push out their chests or push out their stomachs or flop forward and stick out at the back. They should lift themselves up straight, hold their shoulders up, not back."

"Perhaps it is the high-heeled shoes," I suggested.

"No. I wear high-heeled shoes, but I am straight. White women can't walk right in any kind of shoes or in their bare feet. They just stand wrong, anyway."

Hansie certainly did wear high-heeled shoes and she had eight pairs and silk stockings to match.

She was also a genius at sewing. She blew her first month's wages on shoes and her second on a beaded satin gown. The gown was a marked-down bargain. She made it over, appliqued twenty more skeins of beads on it, made a gorgeous girdle and stood forth a glittering fashion plate. When she was fixed up for her afternoon out she took half an hour on her hair alone, rouged her cheeks, beaded her eyelashes and strolled forth with the air of a princess.

And one day she announced:

"When I get a hat, a silk slip, a fur neckpiece and a wrap I am going to leave."

"Oh, I shall be sorry, Hansie. Aren't you happy here?"

"Oh, you are all right. But when I get my things I want to go back to the reservation and show them. And I won't have to work then."

"Who does the work in the reservation?"

"The old women. The young ones don't work. I won't work any more till I am old."

Hansie had been taught stern hygiene at the school. She was vastly more particular than I. It was my amiable habit to wash all the dishes on her day out that she might not be penalized for her holiday. But one day she remarked:

"You better leave those dishes. You don't wash them good enough. I'll do them right when I come back."

Amazing, wonderful Hansie.

She also regretted my imperfect sewing on one occasion.

"I can sew better than you. You go out and do your garden. I'll mend those things."

And she always made a superlative job of them.

But Hansie hated to cook. She would wait upon me, but she would not do it herself. However, one day I was sore pressed and Hansie magnanimously undertook to provide the menu. "Anything you like, give us an Indian dinner," I conceded gratefully.

So she bought the most expensive cuts of veal, green peppers, corn, tomatoes and canned asparagus tips and proceeded to show me what a family dinner ought to be. She did wonderful things with that veal chopped up with the corn and paprikaed to scorching point, stuffed into the peppers and baked in butter. She heated the asparagus tips in cream (not milk,) she sliced the tomatoes and grilled them with chopped onion on top, and she provided individual hearts of lettuce for salad and pineapple and cake for dessert. And for a lady who had always insisted she did not know how to cook it was positively epicurean.

"Is that how they live on the reservation?" I asked, wonderingly.

"The ones that know anything do," was her curt reply.

"If you cook like that for a husband, Hansie, he'll be faithful forever," I surmised.

"Well, I won't. I don't like to cook," was her only comment.

After five months Hansie's wardrobe was supreme. She bought a new trunk and packed it with white tissue paper. But she spent the last cent of her capital on her fare.

"Aren't you sorry to leave us?" I asked wistfully. "Don't you care a bit?"

"No," said Hansie. "I don't care. I like you, all right, but I am glad to go. Maybe I'll write."

She left us resplendent, triumphant, dignified, serene. And that was her way of crushing out all criticism of the improper romance. She was going back to face the clan—gorgeous, competent, stylish, imperturbable.

"You read an interview about him in the New York Planet?" flashed Cairns. Hardin gave him a cunning glance that was sufficient. Hardin had seen the interview in the Planet or some syndicated supplement. He had learned the habits of Forsythe.

"I was afraid he'd got you," said the Sheriff.

"The dirty, murderin', black runt. Think's he's got us cornered. And he can shoot the eyelid offen a swamp rabbit at a hundred yards with that rifle of his'n. Look at my face! Filled my eyes chock full o' muck or I'd have got him. An' I'll get him yet."

He picked up his pistol and they saw he had been cleaning it.

"Got that choked with mud, too," he said. "I slid back in some of a hurry, knowin' how the black cuss can shoot. And thet ain't the worst of it. I suah got to git out of this swamp now or I'll die of fever. Look at thet!" He exhibited his flask—empty.

The Sheriff's face was so gloomy that Cairns smiled and Blatchley laughed aloud. On the laugh a bullet furrowed through the brush above them, searching them out, a messenger of gravity.

"It ain't no laughin' match," said the Sheriff. "Thet coon means murder. I know the breed, gentlemen, an' I'm not stretchin' the facts. He's plumb, starin' mad right now. "What about the shots?"

"Don't mean a thing in this neck of the swamp. Who's to hear them, except Hardin? Mind you, if Hardin thought Humpy was tryin' to shoot us up, he wouldn't stand fo' it. No, suh, not if he did plan to kill this Forsythe. But Humpy does all the providin' fo' Hardin, an' Hardin'll jest think he's after rabbits or shootin' at a mark. No, suh, we got to git thet niggeh, an' we got to git him befo' nightfall, or he'll git us."

"Then how about shouting for Hardin?" asked Cairns. "You say his cabin isn't far away."

"Likely as not he's off in the swamp, moonin' around, lookin' for kidney-root or some one of the herbs he uses. He's partly deaf, ennyway, an' when he's got something in hand he's deaf, dumb, an' blind to ennything outside. We may try it later. But I'm goin' to git that Humpy. No niggeh can shoot at me an' git away with it."

It was apparent that the Sheriff thought no more of killing Humpy than he would of shooting a mad dog, aside from any question of self-preservation. But how he was going to do it did not seem clear.

"All I want to do is to git down close to the bank so's to git a glimpse of him," said the Sheriff. "Up to forty yards I'm nigh as good with this six-gun as Humpy and his rifle. I want you to draw his fire. While I snake down you interest him with a hat or two. Then when I whistle soft, shake the bushes round to yo' left as if some one was wigglin' through 'em."

He went off, burrowing in the muck, his cleaned gun stuck in the back of his belt, plowing a way for himself, using his knowledge of the morass to put hand or knee or elbow on some spot that kept him from sinking, never stopping, wriggling with the dexterity and swiftness of a huge snake. The exhibition of the hats brought three bullets, making their perforations in the felt. Then came a low whistle.

Stretched out flat, slanting athwart the round of the hummock's flank, Cairns reached gingerly upward and clutched at the roots of the springy bush that crowned the knoll and shook them. A missile swished through, barely missing his knuckles. Then another, and then the sound of the Sheriff's revolver, followed by a queer cry, hoarse, yet somehow shrill, the yelp of an animal, rather than sound of a human being. And they could hear something thrashing on the other side of the slough. Then a dull splash.

"All right," said the Sheriff. "I got him. Now we'll git that log."

He was close to the log when they straightened up and saw him. Across the sluggish slough eddies were spreading. And a quantity of big bubbles formed and broke, as if the eels were gathering to feast and disturbing the muddy ooze.

"It was Humpy, suah enough," said the Sheriff. "He got right anxious when you shook that brush an' showed himself the same way. He must hev been lyin' on his stomach in some jimson weed. Ennyway, the weed wiggled, an' I let him have it. Must have got him head-on," he said in a professional manner. "He comes floppin' out on the bank, lettin' out one whoop, tryin' to stand on his head, fo' all the world like a chicken with its head cut off, spinnin' in circles, an' thin flopped inter the slough! The weeds hev got him now an' the eels 'll get him later. Dern his black hide, tryin' to shoot the Sheriff of this country."

They got the log and found that it reached across the slough, setting it in the slimy grooves where the planks had lain and pegging it on one side with broken boughs from the brushwood so that it would not be so likely to roll and throw them off. They were already wet through with slime and water, and so hitched across the log, astride. Cairns and Blatchley were conscious of a close grip of their hands and a careful balancing of their bodies as they made the primitive bridge, the feeling of the corpse of the hunchback, somewhere in the ooze, strong with them. But the Sheriff was nonchalant.

"Reckon we-all can pick up his boat along this side of the slough," he said as they stood on the farther side. "It's firmer ground here on the island, an' we'll git the boat later and row round the loop."

"Reckon we'll hev a passenger?" he asked, looking keenly at Cairns. "I don't know if we can take Hardin along unless you develop somethin' mo' definite than you told me."

"I may be able to furnish you with that, Sheriff," said Cairns.

The cabin was built of logs, with a clay chimney at one end. One side of the crude edifice was smothered in a vine of yellow jasmine.

The Sheriff knocked on the door and entered without waiting for a reply. Cairns and Blatchley were both surprised at the neatness of the place.

An old mahogany sideboard stood against one wall of the main room. On it was a thing of glass and lead that looked like an aquarium, only unusually high and covered with a glass lid that appeared movable. Inside there appeared a miniature jungle of thick, juicy leaves and stems, cactuslike, lifting from moss. And bright as a flame in a dark place starred out two scarlet blossoms. Rather they seemed like two vibrant butterflies, hovering, living—two perfect blooms of the Butterfly Orchid.

A door opened and a little man came in. Legs crooked as a dog's, a face that, though wizen, held a great breadth of kindliness, bald, wrinkled, welcoming. Through the door came a queer smell as of herbs brewing.

Court Affirms Conviction on Bigamy Charge

Department No. 1, District Court of Appeal, yesterday affirmed the judgment of conviction in the case of Emil Pitzer, charged with, and found guilty of, bigamy in Judge Reeve's court.

It was charged by the prosecution that Pitzer married Marie M. Sims when he was already the husband of Edith C. Pitzer. The defendant asserted that he was in no position to marry the latter-named woman for the reason that at the time he was the husband of Mary T. Pitzer, whom he married in New York in 1905.

The court held that the evidence as to this ceremony was not sufficient, as the marriage certificate was not certified as required by law, and there was no testimony to show that the officiating justice was authorized to solemnize marriages in New York.

FINED FOR DRIVING WITHOUT LICENSE

Found guilty of driving a motor stage without a license from the State Motor Vehicle Department, Harry Glynn was fined $200 by Police Judge Chesebro yesterday afternoon. Evidence that Glynn had made arrangements to transport several persons to San Francisco for a fixed remuneration was introduced.

G.A.R. TO CONVENE AT RIVERSIDE

Annual Encampment of California and Nevada Will be Held Next Week

The fifty-fifth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic of the Department of California and Nevada will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week at Riverside. Dr. Lewis S. Pilcher, the Commander-in-Chief, who is a physician of New York City, will be present, and the governors of California and Nevada have been invited.

Conventions of affiliated orders will be held at the same time. These are the Women's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G.A.R., the Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and the auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans.

William H. Noll of Los Angeles, Department Commander, said yesterday that the parade would be held on Thursday.

Dr. Pilcher will arrive Monday at 2:35 p.m. on the Santa Fe and will be welcomed at the station by delegations from the G.A.R., Chamber of Commerce and County Medical Association. He will stop at the Ambassador until he goes to Riverside with the delegates from Los Angeles.

IN PUBLIC SPEAKING

A class in public speaking under auspices of the Los Angeles Speakers' Club will begin today at 7 p.m. in Music Hall, 332 South Hill street.

FOUR ATTORNEYS SEEK ADMISSION TO BAR

JUDGE REGARDS PRESENCE OF QUARTET IN COURT AS SIGN OF SPRING

There are many signs of spring outside of the covers of the almanac.

Some say it has officially arrived when the busy housewife begins to take down the curtains and dust the bric-a-brac; others when father begins to take his daily dose of sarsaparilla for his rheumatism; still others date it from the time when the trailing arbutus begins to chase us back to childhood, and the crocus, wild mustard, poppy and other flora begin to deck the landscape, and there are those who say that spring is not really here until the bock beer signs greet the passerby and the garbage man begins to take up his collection of empty tin cans and other disreputable impedimenta that clutter the back yard.

So there are as many signs of spring as there are diseases the latest patent medicine is good for—but U. S. District Judge Trippet has a new reason for believing that spring is not far behind "if winter comes."

Yesterday four attorneys were presented to his court for admission to practice. Edward H. Wehrle, who offered them to the consideration of the court, gave their names as Charles H. Sharnickous, Elias Hoffman, Thomas P. Menzies, Jr., and John A. Tucker.

"Looks as if spring were really here, when lawyers appear in such number in this court," said Judge Trippet.

And who shall say that the reason given by the junior United States district judge is not as good as the guess that the glorious season is not here until fishworms are to be dug up in the back yard and Johnnie has a stone bruise on his heel?

CALL CHAMBER TO ACCOUNT

Members Ask Accounting of Campaign Funds

Long Beach Stirred by Echo of Harbor War

Trouble Dates Back to Recent Bond Election

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, May 4.—Demanding an accounting for the money spent by the Chamber of Commerce in the recent bond campaign and for an apology by that organization for certain personalities indulged in in advertisements and literature Gen. A. P. Hanson, president of the apartment-house section of the Chamber of Commerce, and one of those who openly fought the harbor-purchase proposition on the ballot at a recent election, today presented a petition that caused a distinct stir among the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting today.

The petition was signed by ten members of the Chamber of Commerce, including Gen. Hanson, C. J. Walker, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, Scott Alexander, owner of Hotel Alexander, and H. S. Callahan, T. G. Harriman and Fred Hoffman, all heavy downtown property owners, who were included in the personal attacks made by proponents of the harbor bond issue in full-page advertisements authorized and paid for by the Chamber of Commerce, of which organization the ten men signing the petition are members and helping to support.

The Chamber of Commerce is charged with spending thousands of dollars in advertising and publicity in an effort to put over the harbor proposition, which was decisively defeated recently at the polls. The petition presented today asked the directors for a full accounting of all the moneys spent in such a manner, including receipts and expenditures. After fully an hour of discussion, much of which was heated, the petition was referred to the executive committee for action and report at the next regular meeting.

Scott Alexander, who was present at the meeting, stated that legal action would result if the directors refused to comply with the terms of the petition regarding the accounting, and insisted that the clause demanding an apology also will be adhered to. If the apology is not forthcoming Mr. Alexander intimated he would be forced to resign from the Chamber of Commerce. "If I do," he said, "I will take many of my friends with me."

Coroner's Jury Says Shooting Was Justified

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 4.—Members of the posse that last night shot and killed Henry Brandstetter, fugitive wife-murderer in the mountains seventy miles east of San Diego, after a man-hunt lasting several hours, made up the coroner's jury that was summoned on the spot and returned a verdict exonerating the man or men whose pistol ended Brandstetter's life.

Coroner Schuyler Kelly, who was on the scene, said he was unable to obtain enough citizens to act on the jury and of necessity had to use members of the posse. The jury found that Brandstetter's fatal wound was "inflicted by officers of the law who commanded the deceased to halt, as he was a fugitive from justice, having killed his wife a few hours previously. We exonerate the officers of all blame in said shooting of the deceased."

It was learned today that when Brandstetter killed his wife, he committed a double murder, as Mrs. Brandstetter's unborn babe died with her.

HANSEN OPPOSES PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, May 4.—The policy of the public ownership of public utilities was vigorously opposed by Ole Hanson, former Mayor of Seattle, in his address at the annual meeting and banquet of the Chamber of Commerce at the Mission Inn last night.

The speaker drew on his personal experiences and observations in the State of Washington, where he was an ardent proponent of State and municipal ownership when he was a candidate for office. Technical men or competitive executives, he maintained, were not secured in the election of a popular politician to office; the people will not countenance the payment of salaries sufficient to attract and hold men competent to supervise and run great public works.

A. M. Lewis, who last year served as president of the Business Men's Association was elected president of the chamber for the ensuing year. The other officers include Phil G. Rimell, first vice-president; E. B. Culnan, second vice-president, and W. B. Clancy, treasurer. C. E. Brouse, the retiring president, was tendered a vote of thanks for his services during the past twelvemonth.

BURGLAR AND PET CANARY

Ventura Woman Refuses to Provide Eggs for Songster

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, May 4.—Mrs. Tom Hardaman of Palm street heard some one knock. She was lying down; she did not answer.

Then she heard the visitor come along the hall and open the door to her room. She sat up and confronted a man carrying a bird in a cage. "Something for the bird to eat," said the intruder.

Mrs. Hardaman replied she had no birdseed and suggested a store. The visitor said all his bird ate was hard-boiled egg, and they didn't sell them at stores.

Mrs. Hardaman told him she was not inclined to cook eggs and recommended his leaving instantly.

He complied and officers are now searching for a burglar who carries a caged bird.

TO CROWN MAY QUEEN AT POMONA

Woman's Day at Claremont School to Feature Unusual Program

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, May 4.—Plans for Pomona College women's day, to be held May 6, are nearing completion, with indication that this will be the most complete and festive May Day in years. An unusually large number of Southern California high school girls are planning to attend as the college's guests.

A new feature of women's day is the May queen, to be crowned at the luncheon dansant Saturday noon. The women are establishing a tradition for May queens for all future May Days. The name of the favorite girl has been kept secret since the election several weeks ago. She will be one of three of Pomona's most charming co-eds, selected from the senior class.

The May masque, the most elaborate part of the program, went through a dress rehearsal last Saturday, and promises, with some careful smoothing down in this week's rehearsals, to be exquisitely done. The dancing, which is the main feature of the masque, is being directed by the physical education department, under the auspices of the Misses Alice Evans, Mary Woodford and Ruth Chandler. One of the quaintest dances will be given by a group of Claremont grammar school youngsters, who are taking a very active part in the production.

A delightful part in the day's activities will be the musicale and tea at Bridges Hall, when the college women will have an opportunity to become acquainted with the younger girls, many of whom will belong to the freshman class next year.

REOPEN HEARING

Project of Negro Amusement Center Urged at Santa Monica

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 4.—A second attempt will be made by the Ocean Frontage Syndicate to persuade the City Commissioners to so amend the zoning ordinance that permission can be secured to erect a negroes' bath-house and amusement center at Pico Boulevard and Ocean Front, it was announced at the City Hall today.

More than 300 white residents of this city were at the City Hall Monday when the City Commissioners had a hearing and denied the request, after several hundred property owners had protested against the improvement, which, according to the syndicate, would bring 60,000 negroes to this city.

Charles S. Darden, president of the syndicate, petitioned the City Commission to rehear the matter as some of its advocates were unable to attend the hearing Monday.

Court Forbids Long Beach Man to Drive Car

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, May 4.—Martin J. Quinby, 76 years old, died today at the Seaside Hospital from burns sustained when his clothing caught fire from a toaster while the aged man was preparing a meal in his apartment at the Rivera Hotel, Broadway and Chestnut.

With the exception of his feet, practically every part of the man's body was severely burned. Mr. Quimby was employed at a local dance pavilion. The police are endeavoring to locate a sister, believed to live in Pasadena. The body is at the Mottell undertaking parlors.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Funeral services for James A. Daly, attorney and vice-president of the First National Bank, who died Wednesday, will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Patterson & McQuilkin undertaking chapel.

The services will be conducted by Dr. George Rourke of the First Presbyterian Church and the interment will be at Sunnyside. Various business interests of the city will be represented at the funeral, including the officers and directors of the First National Bank and members of the Long Beach Bar Association.

MUST ABANDON CAR

Richard Caples will spend 180 days in jail if he drives a car for six months, as the result of a sentence imposed today when he appeared on the charge of reckless driving.

Caples was arrested and held under $2000 bail on three counts, driving in an intoxicated condition, failing to stop and render aid after an accident, and reckless driving.

His arrest followed the knocking down of Mrs. A. L. Riley at Ocean and Cedar. Mrs. Riley escaped with slight bruises, and Caples was arrested after officers had followed his car several blocks.

The charge was reduced to reckless driving and he was fined $500 and given a jail sentence of 180 days, which the court suspended provided he does not drive for half a year.

APPLE GROWERS MEET

Yucaipa Valley Ranchers Elect New Officers

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, May 4.—Sixty members of the Yucaipa Apple Growers' Association, the largest association in the valley, held their annual meeting today. F. H. Gilmore was elected president, with C. H. Smith as vice-president. Other members of the board of directors are F. E. Dillon, O. B. Hawk, E. M. Marks, J. W. Puls, Martin Lindblom, W. J. Knapp and W. S. Dodge.

George Morrell read the financial report. The returns were not as good as were expected early in the year, but were better than they have ever been. The fruit sales totaled about $212,000. There were about 125,000 boxes of packed apples.

The overhead cost this year was 76 cents per box, 40 cents of this for packing and grading.

This is the largest association, but represents only about a third of the entire crop.

MARINES COMPETE IN NATIONAL SHOOT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 4.—Twenty of the best rifle and pistol shots attached to the Marine Corps will barrack sand the Fifth Marine barracks and the Fifth Marine Brigade in the divisional small-arms competition at Mare Island beginning Monday.

One of the important trophies at stake is the San Diego trophy, won last year by the local marines.

Sharpshooters from the various Mine Corps detachments on the west coast will compete. The nine men scoring the highest percentages will compete with the all-Atlantic Coast Marine Corps team at Camp Perry, O., next month.

BURGLARS RANSACK PORTERVILLE HOME

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTERVILLE, May 5.—Officers have discovered no clews to burglars who ransacked the John E. Carr home here last night, stealing about $1400 worth of jewelry and clothing.

The robbery was committed shortly before midnight, discovery being made by Mr. and Mrs. Carr, returning from a dinner party. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear window and a trail of burnt matches led through the house. A blanket had been torn from a bed and loot dumped into it. A $1000 diamond and sapphire ring was the most serious loss. Tramps are believed responsible.

PROTECT FORESTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTERVILLE, May 4.—Sequoia forest service under direction of Forest Supervisor F. P. Cunningham moved today from winter headquarters at Porterville to summer quarters at California Hot Springs, where they will remain until the close of the fire season in the fall.

Last season was the most disastrous in fire loss in the history of the forest and the fires were "man made." Regulations are to be most drastically enforced this season and woe betide the forgetful camper.

PUT ONE OVER ON THEIR DADS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, May 4.—A most entertaining fish story has just been uncovered here, a story that some of the old-time and expert anglers have been trying to keep under cover.

The opening day fishing was a disappointment because of high waters and muddy streams. Even the most expert, the fellows who come early with a full creel, came dragging back at the end of a long, hard day with only a few speckled beauties.

But two boys, just youngsters, Andrew Guerth and Fred Gowland, both sons of anglers of repute, came back with the biggest catches. Gowland had twenty-five of the finest brook trout ever brought to Redlands, while Guerth had twenty.

And the boys wouldn't tell where they got them.

DENIES CHARGE OF BEING BRAINLESS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VENTURA, May 4.—That her husband told her she had no brains; that women in Missouri do real work and that married life was too expensive and he was going to quit it, are the allegations made by Roberta Watson in her suit for divorce from Landon Watson.

They were married in Ventura last November. She also charges that one day in March he struck her such a blow that it left her unconscious.

COMPANY TO BUILD BIG GAS CONTAINER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, May 4.—Construction of a gas holder of 6,000,000 cubic feet capacity, to cost more than $100,000 has been announced by the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company. Work will be started immediately. Facilities at the plant were nearly doubled two years ago and must again be increased to meet the requirements of the city in the next few years, General Manager H. H. Jones said.

CONTROL THE BUSINESS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, May 4.—Shannon & Bell, who recently purchased the Majestic and the Liberty theaters here, for about $60,000, gained entire control of the motion-picture business in Redlands today by the purchase of the Grand Theater, from Fred Linnert. The firm has announced that they will close the Grand Theater for the summer months, but will probably open it again in the fall. The Grand and the Liberty are on West State street, while the Majestic serves another part of town, being on North Orange. The Grand property was valued at approximately $30,000.

PREPARE ENTERTAINMENT

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, May 4.—The Riverside Realty Board has completed plans for a unique welcoming of the 400 or more Pennsylvania realtors who will arrive here May 25, en route to the national convention. Two thousand oranges will be distributed at the Union Pacific depot on the arrival of the special train. The Sherman Indian band will be on hand to welcome the visitors, who will have their choice of personally-conducted tours through the orange packing-houses, a motor trip through the orange groves, and up Mt. Rubidoux, and organ recitals and other forms of entertainment at the Mission Inn.

SET ELECTION DATE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAWTELLE, May 4.—An annexation election to determine whether or not Sawtelle shall be annexed to Los Angeles will be held on June 2, the City Trustees have announced. Petitions carrying the names of 1101 citizens were filed with the board, asking that the special election be called. The total registered vote of Sawtelle numbers 2440.

Mayor Locked Out So Visits City Council

Mayor Cryer was locked out of his own office yesterday.

Having police department, harbor board and other mighty municipal matters on his mind, the Mayor left his home yesterday morning without the keys to his office. It was open when he arrived, and all went well until the Mayor returned from lunch when he found the office locked until the usual reopening hour of 2 p.m.

So the Mayor went to the Council chamber where he was greeted and asked to say what was on his mind to lay before the Councilmen.

"Nothing official," said the Mayor. "Forgot my keys. Looking for a place to loaf until 2 o'clock."

APPOINTED DELEGATE

Councilman Sanborn to Attend Presbyterian Assembly

Councilman Sanborn has been appointed as delegate to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which is to be held at Des Moines, Iowa, beginning May 8. The Councilman will be given a leave of absence by the city to attend the assembly, and while East also will attend the convention of city planning experts to be held at Springfield, Mass., in June.

The Council yesterday authorized G. Gordon Whitnall, secretary-consultant of the City Planning Commission, to attend the Massachusetts convention, and appropriated $450 to pay Mr. Whitnall's expenses for the trip and $180 for Councilman Sanborn's additional expenses.

STARS PREPARE FOR NET PLAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, May 4.—William Tilden II, world's singles tennis champion, and Vincent Richards, with Tilden, world doubles champion, today opposed each other in practice warm-ups preparatory to the East-West tennis matches, which open Saturday. They lobbed the ball over the courts of the Berkeley Tennis Club, in which the sectional matches will be played. No scored games were played.

Jack Dempsey is Willing to Face Willard

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, May 4.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, referring to announcements in the United States that arrangements for a bout between him and Jess Willard were progressing favorably, said he would be glad to meet Willard. He was also ready to meet the winner of the Carpentier-Lewis bout in London, he declared.

"Sure, I'll be glad to meet Willard again," said Dempsey to the correspondent. "He was once champion and ought to be given every chance to regain the title. Whenever the time, place and conditions are decided I'll be ready to sign up.

"Willard is a good, clean, game fighter, and I would enjoy another match with him. I am in fine shape and haven't a doubt that I can easily repeat my victory over Jess."

"Please remember me to him and the other boys," continued the champion, "and tell them I shall soon see them in God's country, as I leave Paris for London at the end of the week for the Carpentier-Lewis fight and expect to sail on the Aquitania May 13, arriving in New York May 20. I shall then go west to fulfil a theatrical engagement.

"I had hoped to give a few boxing exhibitions in England and Ireland, but I'm afraid I won't have time."

TO HONOR ANSON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—John A. Heydler, president of the National League, announced today that his organization would erect a memorial over the grave of Adrian Anson.

Pitcher Jim Scott Starts Own Winning Spurt

Vernon Tigers Drop Contest by 5 to 4

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

Despite the well-known fact that all which glitters isn't gold, San Francisco managed to win a ball game yesterday, resuming undisputed occupancy of first place.

Standing none too firmly behind Death Valley Jim Scott, they managed to wham the Tigers, 5 to 4, and staged a bewildering batting extravaganza entitled, "The Chasing and Chastening of Jakie May." This was the real shock of the afternoon. Not only had the good people of this town come to look upon Jakie as a bonded article, and yet as invincible as bootleg hootch is against those who would fight it, but the current month was regarded as belonging to him. Jakie and May are playmates, and regarded as belonging as much to each other as Josephus and Bohunkus. But in the fifth, Jakie's heretofore mystery ball became an open book, the Seals mistook him for a May pole and began winding runs around him. Jess Doyle then stepped into the carnival, and while he pitched shutout ball, never were the Tigers able to untangle those runs so artfully wound around Jakie.

STARTS OWN RALLY

Scott, after being soaked for three runs in the first inning, decided he had taken enough beating for one afternoon, and allowed but one more tally, henceforth and forever more until next week. Also he started his own winning rally.

San Francisco played the game according to the Morse code. It was an afternoon of dots and dashes—Dots Miller on the bench and his hired help dashing around the bases.

The Tigers were beaten, but we will tell the world there was one spot where they were not crushed. That was at third base. J. Carlisle Smith started the day with a home run, and was still holding his head high at the finish. Mr. Smith batted like an entire ball team against Scott. He drove in all of Vernon's runs, three with a homer in the first, and the final with a double in the third. His home run was over the left-field fence and his double a line drive against it. Having accomplished the feat of driving the ball over the fence the first time, the next time he tried the experiment of knocking the fence down and almost succeeded. Both blows came with two down and somebody on, and, therefore, were in the nick of time. It is well-regulated batting of this sort which exalts the soul of the meanest ticket-moocher.

A DECORATION

Gene Valla was not in left field. Instead, he sat on the bench with a $100,000 porus plaster on his back. There was nothing wrong with his back, but he wore the plaster merely as a suitable decoration. Possibly Gene doesn't like the kind of pitching which May shoots. Anyway, in lieu of him, Joe Kelly played left field, where he could tilt his $250,000 chin toward the sun, when looking for fly balls. Joe's chin is even longer than last season, and seems to be showing more of an upward trend, due probably to natural growth and evolution, and frequent pointing of it toward the sun. He is the league's best pointer. Soon he should be able to take fly balls on the chin without using his hands.

Hawks doubled, with two gone in the first, and Hyatt walked. Smith then spanked his homer over the clock. French dropped a rather difficult fly by Scott in the fifth, and was forced at second on a play neatly executed by Sawyer, at the receiving end. Kelly doubled See to third, and Kamm scored both runners, with a center-field single. Kamm stole second. Ellison whiffed and O'Connell grounded. This left Vernon one run to the good. The Tigers benefited themselves with another in the third. One down when Walsh fumbled a grounder by Hawks. Hyatt flied to left. Smith doubled to the fence, and Hawks skimmed over the plate. Sawyer out, Kamm to Ellison.

SEE LESS SUCCESSFUL

Scott solved May with a double at the start of the fifth. See was far less successful and fanned, May solving him. Then Kelly solved May some more with a triple that counted Scott. Here the K.K.K. combination got busy. Meaning that Kamm knocked Kelly in with a double. Ellison provided the final solution of May with a single that scored Ellison. Doyle pitching. O'Connell forced Ellison, and was flagged stealing second on the gilded seat of his cloth-of-gold trousers.

POLY DEFEATS PASADENANS

Polytechnic High School racketers defeated the Pasadena prep tennis team at the L. A. Tennis Club courts yesterday afternoon, by a score of 17 to 0. Compton and Stockton starred for the Mechanics, while Mooney was the satellite performer for the Crown City lads.

She Cops the Prize

Autoist Defeats Eight Rivals

Here is Mrs. Bertie Randall, driving a Hupmobile, in which car she ambled off with the top prize yesterday afternoon at Exposition Park in the ladies' driving contest, which is part of the Call of the Open Road program.

FAIR ONES SHOW CLASS

Success Crowns Ladies' Driving Contest at Exposition Park; Gentle Pilots Compete Again Today

The first day's events of the ladies' driving contest held yesterday at the race track in front of the grand stand at Exposition Park under the auspices of the Motor Car Dealers' Association, and which is a part of the Call of the Open Road program, drew an enthusiastic crowd of motor fans of both sexes, although the feminine persuasion was evidently in the majority. It was a critical as well as an enthusiastic audience; one that showed a keen knowledge of driving ability as well as motor-car values.

The purpose of the contest—the second annual one, the first having been held last year—is to educate the motorist in those essentials that are necessary to good driving under ordinary traffic and road conditions, toward the end that accidents may be reduced and the loss of human life brought to a minimum. One male spectator remarked; "If every driver, whether male or female, was compelled to take such a test before securing a driving license, there would be a far less number of accidents."

NINE CONTESTANTS

In yesterday afternoon's events there were nine contestants, the entries being confined to cars of not over 115-inch wheelbase. After a stiff oral examination covering city and State traffic rules, the contestants were required to drive through a figure eight marked by stakes; then pass a brake test at 15 miles an hour and stop the car within a given space; the last number and the hardest, was the parking at the curb within a very restricted space. In the last, time in getting in and getting out is the all important factor.

Mrs. Bertie Randall, driving a Hupmobile touring car was the winner, Mrs. Lillian Yeager in a Dodge was second and Miss Paul Evans in a Ford sedan was third. The first two will be awarded silver loving cups. The following are the entrants and their scores: Mrs. Bertie Randall, Hupmobile, 961; Mrs. Lillian Yeager, Dodge, 943; Miss Paul Evans, Ford, 937; Miss Bessie Womer, Maxwell, 918; Mrs. H. C. Peckham, Earl, 917; Miss Marjorie Dougan, Essex, 897; Mrs. Mae De Lano, Chevrolet, 893; Miss Marie Hammer, Dort, 878; Miss J. Gallaghan, Velie, 839.

Today's contest will be for cars with a wheelbase of 116 inches and over.

COMPETE TODAY

Those who will compete today are Mrs. Martha Shields, Stephens Six; Mrs. Leland Foulke, Templar; Miss Eva Mae Swinger, Willys-Knight; Miss Dorothy C. Putnam, Studebaker Big Six; Mrs. R. C. Garland, Reo; Miss Gertrude Valentine, Haynes; Mrs. L. C. Earley, Lexington; Mrs. Bertie Randall, Marmon; Miss Marjorie Dougan, Hudson; Mrs. William Jones, Buick.

The judges are Mrs. Rowland Crocker, A. M. Young, George Stevenson and Captain Cleveland Heath. Owne Bird is clerk of the course.

U.S.S. Nevada Baseball Team Captures Flag

The hard-hitting sailors from the cheer-up ship Nevada captured the baseball championship of the seventh battleship division by winning five of the six games played.

The Nevada's team piled up the mighty total of 83 runs in the six games, an average of thirteen and eight-tenths runs per game.

Hard hitting on the part of the Nevadans contributed largely to their success in capturing the flag, although much credit is due Marston, their star, who performed the iron man stunt by beating the Pennsylvania team on two successive days.

Stubbs, center fielder, who came to the Nevada from the Naval Academy, where he was lead-off man of the first team and was considered one of the best sluggers at the institution, leads the team in batting and fielding.

MRS. SCOTT IS STAR ON ALLEYS

Oldest Woman Bowler Wins Over Younger Rivals

Former Champion Leads Over Mrs. Humphreys

Mrs. Cy Taylor is Awarded Handsome Prize

BY ED O'MALLEY

Enthusiasm was the watchword at the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress yesterday afternoon when the ladies individual matches were pulled off. The grand stand was packed to the guards with rooters and bowling fans, among the leaders being Dana Hayes, distending his lungs for Mrs. Scott who proved to be the winner.

Mrs. Scott's victory was about the greatest that ever bobbed up on the maple alleys. She is the oldest woman roller in America, and has been seen on local alleys during the last twenty-two years. Mrs. Scott, in 1912, won the Pacific Coast championship, and has always been regarded as one of the best pin getters in the business.

IN TOUGH LUCK

She rolled in the team events and doubles of Wednesday, but played in tough luck, getting ten splits in one game. Nothing daunted, however, she came back strong yesterday, showing in her best form. She rolls a straight-cross-alley ball that is sure a pin disturber, when her arm swings true.

Mrs. Scott tossed a mediocre ball in the first game and soon dropped out of special attention. Suddenly, however, in the second game, she found the alleys. It was then she began eating up the maple fairways and devastating the forests. In the early part of the game she copped four straight strikes, driving consternation into the hearts of the leaders, and from that time on her work glittered like a three-diamond special. It was here that she quickly crept up and passed the leader, Mrs. Humphreys, amassing a game of 219, which is probably the biggest single game ever made by a woman in a tournament. She was innocent of an open frame and kept the board man busy.

TAPERS OFF

Mrs. Scott tapered off somewhat in the third game, and it looked for a spell as if Mrs. Humphreys, the runner-up, would overtake her, but the latter lost her chance in the seventh frame with a bobtail strike, and the day was won. Mrs. Scott's total pins for the three games were 547, Mrs. Humphreys, who finished second, made 522, and Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Warner were tied for third with 508 each.

In bowling down Mrs. Humphreys, who is the champion of America, Mrs. Scott accomplished an egregious task. It is the consensus of expert opinion that Mrs. Humphreys is the best woman bowler the world has ever known. Mrs. Humphreys has won many championships, and is the present queen of the alley, in America. She was hardly at her best, yesterday, getting several bad breaks, but even at that tilted an excellent average.

Mrs. Scott was presented by Secretary Forman with a handsome gold and diamond medal emblamatic of the Pacific Coast championship. As Mrs. Scott rolled 219 she had the high game, but was not eligible to this prize by virtue of her winning the championship. The second trophy therefore went to Mrs. Cy Taylor, who was next high, with 202. Mrs. Cy Taylor also won the prize for the all events with a total of 1489. Mrs. Taylor was the only southpaw bowler of all the contestants. She is an excellent roller, and should be a dangerous competitor at all tournaments of the future.

In the doubles up to date, Tschirgi and Nunn lead with 1199. Nunn is also high in the singles with 560. These bowlers are with the Crystal Barber Shop, which team is in first place, with a total of 2746. The scores of yesterday's bowling, follow:

THOMSON WILL COACH IN EAST

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HANOVER (N. H.) May 4.—Earl J. Thomson, world champion hurdler, has reconsidered his intention to return permanently to his home in California and will act as coach of the freshman track team at Dartmouth College next year, it was announced today. Thomson, who now is a student at the college, will attend the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration while acting as coach.

Fencers Stage Tourney Here Next Month

On June 4 there will be inaugurated the first annual fencing tournament ever to be held in Southern California. The Ligue Francaise, an organization backed by the French government, is offering three medals, gold, silver and bronze, to be contested for by members of the Amateur Fencers' League of America.

With the offer of these medals, to be presented annually on the 4th of June by the Ligue Francaise, the Fencers' League is to conduct an open tournament. The contest will consist of fifteen bouts, six fencers, each to fence every other contestant.

Elimination contests for this tournament will be held on the night of May 15 at the Los Angeles Fencing Academy in the Union League Club Building. This elimination is open to all prep fencers who are members of the Amateur Fencers' League. Registration for the contest is necessary on or before May 15 and all fencers wishing to take part should notify the A.F.L.A. secretary of their intention as soon as possible. No registrations will be considered after 6 p.m. May 15.

MILLER IS VICTORIOUS OVER IKEDA

Middleweight Wrestling Champ Takes Verdict in Eight-Round Mat Bout

BY LEEPSON BOWNES

Walter Miller

Before a howling mob which packed the Los Angeles Athletic Club gymnasium to the bursting point last night, Walter Miller succeeded in winning the Japanese middleweight championship of the world from Ikeda by a judges' decision and is now entitled to wear a silk kimono and squat down on the curb while waiting for street cars.

As a wrestling match the bout was nothing to write home about. The Japanese grappler was manifestly there to stick the limit and spent most of the evening flat on his tummy in the middle of the ring. In that position he looked as if he weighed a ton and Walter apparently couldn't have turned him over with a derrick and a couple of crowbars.

The real match of the evening was a preliminary between Art Gilman and Mack McGill, middleweights of the club, who put on a three-round struggle that was a bear. Gilman was the stronger, but McGill was too clever and the only opening he left was one in his tights. In the middle of the third round McGill got a body scissors and a headlock clamped on Gilman and got the judge's eye. Calvin Patton flopped Tom Pierce on his wishbone in the curtain-raiser.

Elmer Ponder Smears Whitewash on Oakland Outfit

HARRY KRAUSE LOSES DUEL

Angels Prove That They Are Getting Down to Business and Will Be Dangerous in Close Games

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Harry Krause pitched well enough for the Oaks today to win in ordinary conditions, but Harry had the hard luck to be up against Elmer Ponder, who pitched even a better brand of ball, so the Oaks lost again, 2-0.

Krause and Ponder had the upper hand of the hitters all afternoon, for Krause, in losing the game, allowed only five hits, while Ponder held the Oaks down to four. Only one error was made, Brubaker fumbling a ground ball from the bat of Deal in the fourth and that miscue did no damage. Both the runs made off Krause were earned.

The way the first run was made in the sixth shows that the Angels are settling down to business and will be dangerous in close games, those games where one run turns the scale. Dixie Carroll opened the sixth by coaxing a pass out of Krause. Harry issued only two all afternoon and one of them was cashed into a run.

McAuley bunted Carroll to second and while Deal was at bat, Carroll stole third so cleanly that he beat the ball to the bag. Just as soon as Carroll had dusted himself off at third, Deal cracked the ball through the infield and the Angels had the game won.

In the seventh, Twombly opened with a hit. Lindimore bunted him to second and Daly scored him with a humpback liner to left field. Ponder bunted Daly to second but Carroll went out on a fly to Wille.

Three of the five hits the Angels made are accounted for in the manufacture of those two runs. The other two were wasted in the first, when McAuley and Deal got hits and then the side was wiped out when Cooper grabbed Griggs's line drive and doubled McAuley off second base.

The Oaks picked up a hit in the first, second, and third, but nothing came of them. Then Ponder got stingy and did not allow another hit until the eighth. It looked as if the Oaks would do something in that round for Brubaker opened the inning with a hit. But Ponder was not ruffled in the least and he calmly got away with Koehler, Kearns and Krause on easy chances.

Red Killefer watched the game from the grand stand, sitting alongside of President McCarthy. Red was trying to find out when he could go to work again.

WHITE SOX LOSE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 4.—Urban Faber, star pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, was unable to check the slugging of the Indians and Cleveland made it two straight from the locals today, 5 to 3. Mails weakened in the last inning, when Chicago started a rally which netted three runs, but tightened up and retired Hooper on strikes for the final out with two men on bases.

CARDS RALLY AND WIN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—St. Louis staged a ninth-inning rally today, overcame a four-run lead and defeated Cincinnati, 8 to 7. The visitors had been trailing up to the ninth inning when they scored six runs. The Cardinals came back in their half and piled up five tallies with only one man out. Stock and Bohne were ordered off the field for disputing a decision. The score:

Salt Lake's late springs, resulting in early unsatisfactory conditions there, have caused almost endless speculation as to the future of that club.

Only once in six years, I believe, has the weather permitted a satisfactory opening there. There has been much talk, some of it loose and some of it otherwise, about transferring the franchise to a California city, partly to escape the spring snows and at the same time reduce traveling expenses of the league as a whole.

Those who have engaged in prognostications along this line, the unofficial mapmakers, always have been stumped because no city of adequate size seemed to be available in this State. Unfortunately for baseball, most of the urban population in California has been concentrated in two cities—Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Jess W. Orendorff, former baseball player and manager, and now a motion-picture producer, makes an interesting suggestion along this line. Should Salt Lake be shifted, he would have it known as the San Diego-Fresno club, dividing its time between these two cities, relying on their double support and enabling the baseball writers to produce a tale of two cities. His plan would be for the team to play the first three days of a series in one of these towns and then jump to the other for the remaining three days. Thus neither growing city would be surfeited with baseball and the one showing the best support and growing most rapidly would finally be awarded the team and franchise for its very own.

Rather an unusual idea, but possibly not without merit. However, it becomes our painful duty to inform the fans of those thriving communities that there is not much prospect of their being able to tease the Bees out of Salt Lake.

The Salt Lake club owners and the citizens of that city alike are opposed to any change, and it is believed a majority of the league directors would be with them if it came to a showdown.

Jack Cook, secretary of the Salt Lake club, in a recent conversation with the writer, effectively put the crusher on all and sundry reports.

"Salt Lake will not give up its franchise in the Coast League," he declared. "There have been complaints of the long trip to Utah and the heavy transportation expense involved. But did these people ever pause and reflect that, except for the fact that Salt Lake with competing railroads radiating out of it is in the circuit, the league would be paying full fare instead of a rate of one and one-third as at present?

"One of the roads leading out of Salt Lake forced this reduction and the entire league has benefited. This reduction means a saving of $25,000 a year to the league, which more than offsets what it costs the seven other Coast League clubs to visit us each season. Salt Lake is to stay on the P.C.L. map."

Cook admits there is a possibility of Salt Lake opening in Oakland next spring because of weather conditions. However, this could not be done without handicapping the Bees, as it would force them to play on the road for the first four weeks and take away from them two of the weeks heretofore provided for them on their home grounds by the schedule.

Attorney Walter T. Casey, former football star, informed me recently of the activities of Ralph Rader, who is now acting as choir leader for his brother, Paul Rader. Ralph formerly played fullback at St. Vincent's, this city. Mr. Casey agrees with our estimate of Rader, characterizing him as the "finest fullback and most consummate football player that ever appeared on a Southern California gridiron." As Mr. Casey once played right half to such fullbacks as Stan Bureck and John Galt, he should know. Continuing, he says:

"Also in your recent article I notice your memory reverts back to what you call the wonder team of Los Angeles High School. It is my painful recollection that the Pomona High School of 1903-3-4-5, during the period of the Los Angeles High wonder team, composed of such men as Stan Mitchell, Earl Holland, Walter Reinschild, the Nast brothers, Babe Demens, Hawk and other good ones, begged Los Angeles High each year for a game. Pomona High was granted by this wonder team one game. It is my recollection that the game was played Nov. 19, 1904, a no-score contest resulting, but Pomona gaining a decided newspaper decision. I personally came to Los Angeles the following fall and begged Coach Short Roach and other authoritative persons for another game, but received nothing but Shorty's courteous smile and no date. Most of the wonder team, I think, is built in the meagerness of the understanding of sport writers. In recent years I have noted out-of-town teams, particularly the high school class, have been receiving more attention in the papers, and I am glad to see it, as it does much harm for the newspapers to unevenly boost certain elevens." Fair enough.

SALT LAKERS CLEAN UP SACRAMENTO CLAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—Elmer (Spec) Shea blocked the murderous swing of the Salt Lake war clubs here today, but he could not halt the runs that went into the Bees' run alley. The still-slipping Senators booted the ball behind him, and, though they connected for twelve safeties, mostly from Gould, were unable to supply the punch that meant runs. The visitors collected in the first, fourth and fifth periods, the locals in the third, sixth and seventh. Lewis lifted Gould from the hill in the seventh with two on and one down. But Sheehan lifted a futile fly to Schick off Baleholder and the threat of a rally was over. Final figures make it three straight for the boys from Utah, 5 to 3.

THE VALUE IS THERE

Some PIERCE-ARROW owners have driven their cars two hundred thousand miles. Even for ardent motorists this means a good many years' use. These car owners are men who have a new car every year without scrimping, if they like. Their loyalty to their old Pierce-Arrows is their tribute to a piece of machinery that has served them well and deserved their confidence. To those just about to buy a new car this matter of durability is worth thinking about, even without looking forward to ten years' satisfactory service with the same car. It comes to the same thing. This potential value is there whether you use it or sell and buy again.

Games Today

Manual Arts at Hollywood.
Lincoln at Jefferson.

Yesterday it seemed that nothing but another one of those startling upsets that have made the City League baseball season so interesting could rob Lincoln of the 1922 title when the final rounds are played today. Until Pitcher Figueroa of L. A. High was declared ineligible for playing semipro ball on the side, Hollywood had just about cinched the championship.

But things changed considerably of late. Figueroa was used to advantage by the Pioneers in the drubbing they handed Lincoln, and as a result, L. A. High was forced to forfeit the contest, which advances the Railsplitters a notch in the games-won column without any effort on their part. This boosts them into a tie with Hollywood for first place in the standing, and as the Foothillers were vanquished by Lincoln early in the season, Lincoln was doped to win the title in case of a tie.

THE GREAT MYSTERY

Therefore, much gloom prevailed out in the movie city, and not much enthusiasm at Lincoln. But yesterday a great mystery was uncovered by Sherlock Gook, or one of his assistants, and the findings of said crime detector were conveyed to A. B. Forster, vice-principal of Hollywood High School.

Here's the latest bit of scandal to rock the City League, as announced last night by Fred Johnson, coach at foothill institution: Howard Sheets, who has been holding down the center-fielder's job with the Jefferson High School, never should have donned a Democrat monkey-suit, in the opinion of the Hollywood officials. It was reported yesterday that after a search of the Hollywood High School athletic records that young Mr. Sheets, about whom this tale is woven, played on the Foothillers' second team, some four years ago, which makes him ineligible to play on any prep squad. The inside info was immediately imparted to Irwin Hague, vice-principal of the Jefferson school. Sheets was therefore ordered to the bench until the vice-prexies meet and determine what should be done about it.

UP IN THE AIR

In the meantime everything is up in the air, higher than a kite, and if the evidence which has been collected against Sheets corroborates the probe made by the aforementioned Sherlock Gook then Jefferson would forfeit all games in the league, and everything will be sitting pretty for the Hollywood High School to dust off a clean spot on the wall upon which to hang the coveted 1922 baseball gonfalon.

The annual L. A. High-Poly fracas will not be played until Monday, at Washington Park, and although the game won't decide anything in the City League, rivalry that has existed for a score of years will make the argument interesting.

SAN DIEGO TENNIS SQUAD WANTS GAMES

San Diego High's undefeated squad of racket wielders are bemoaning the fact that they have ran out of opponents. The Gray Castle lads seem to have everybody afraid of them and are desirous of arranging matches with any Southern California high school or freshman college team.

DORAN JAUNTS EAST

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Billy Doran, young San Francisco baseball player, leaves this week to join the Cleveland American League team where, i tis believed, he will be an understudy for the third-base post.

CONFERENCE SWIM TONIGHT

The conference swimming meet will be held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club tonight. As a result of the dual meets between Caltek, Occidental and Southern Branch, the Engineers are the favorites. Caltek easily defeated the Southern Branch swimmers last week and won from Occidental Wednesday evening, score 56 to 23. With such men as Myers in the breast stroke and 440, both of which events he holds in the conference, Hodge in the back stroke, Kreager in the 50 and 100-yard events, and a number of other good men, the Engineers should cop the meet tonight. This will mean the swimming championship for the third year straight.

PROSELYTING ATTACKED

Coach Andy Smith Flays System Employed by Eastern Colleges to Secure Star Athletes

BY ANDREW (ANDY) L. SMITH,
Football Coach of the University of California
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERKELEY, May 4.—While in the East attending the meeting of the National Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee I had the opportunity to learn a great many inside facts regarding conditions in college athletics as conducted by many of the institutions in that part of the country.

I was greatly impressed with the destructive practice that has been going on in the different colleges in offering inducements to the prep-school stars to enter institutions of learning in reward for their athletic powers.

Prep-school stars have been approached from all angles with all sorts of inducements, such as athletic and regional scholarships. Over-enthusiastic alumni oftentimes went so far as to lend money to these men with the condition that they pay it back any time after leaving college. What would happen to college athletics if such practice should continue? Can anyone imagine anything more effective in destroying the proper mental attitude of a prep-school man towards his college career or his career after leaving college? I have yet to see the man who came to college primarily for athletics who amounted to much after leaving.

DESTROYS AMATEUR SPORT

Can anyone imagine anything more effective in destroying the very heart and soul of pure amateur collegiate sport?

When the prep-school star can sit back and say, "What have you to offer," it surely is a terrible state of affairs. Should it come to a question of colleges out-bidding one another for the services of the prep-school star college sport would soon sink into oblivion.

The situation became so alarming that a general cleaning out was necessary. No doubt the public noticed in the press the wholesale whitewashing that went on during the past winter in the Middle Western Conference when a great many prominent athletes were declared ineligible for further competition in college athletics. Only recently a prominent Eastern institution, after a thorough investigation, barred eighteen men in different branches of athletics from further competition in varsity sports. It is reported that these men were barred on the grounds of having received either athletic or regional scholarships, or other rewards in return for their athletic powers. This sort of legislation will do college athletics a great deal of good.

OFFER NO REWARDS

No one denies a man the opportunity to work his way through college. In fact, it should be encouraged. But no one should be given the idea that he can get something for nothing. Any man should give as much to his college—which he cannot do—as he receives.

It is fitting and proper for alumni to display their devotion to their alma mater by relating to the prep-school man the advantages in attending their respective colleges, but not with the promise of rewards of any kind for what they may give to the institution in an athletic way. Men come to college primarily for an education.

So far on the coast college sports have been kept free from these sins and wrongs, due to the ideals of the institutions themselves and to the legislation of the Pacific Coast Conference.

RUTH AND WIFE ON WAY TO RECOVERY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4. — The Ruths—Babe and Mrs. Babe—underwent operations at St. Vincent's Hospital here today and both were reported resting comfortably shortly afterward.

DAVIS AND SOULES IN MAIN BOUT

Travie Davis

Travie Davis, Coast welterweight champion, and Bud Soules will swap punches tonight in the main event at the American Legion Hollywood arena. Soules stopped that hard-hitting Sailor Ashmore in jig time last week and is out to take the Portlander down the line tonight. Both of these ringsters are in tip-top form and should be a riot with the cash customers out Hollywood way.

Little Eddie Macey is facing a tough hombre in Danny Campagno, the 118-pound San Francisco ring sensation. Macey is at all times capable of holding his own in any kind of company so the semi-wind-up tonight bids fair to be a terrific affair.

Soldier Burke, the Arcadia balloon school heavyweight, will mingle with Jack Southland, another clever boxer. Bill Barlow and Red Briggs, 145 pounders, are also on tonight's card. Sailor Rotolo and Harry Greb, a pair of 122 pounders will appear in the opening mill. George Blake will referee.

BUY TWO PLAYERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 4.—The purchase of George Whitted, outfielder, from the Brooklyn club of the National League, and Russell "Lena" Blackburn, shortstop from Milwaukee, was announced today by George Muehlbach, president of the Kansas City American Association baseball club. Whitted has a long major league record.

EARL & WILSON TROY, N.Y.

if nature could speak she would say:—

I have provided the only real tonic for Spring to cleanse your system of the stagnant waste of winter, purify your blood and bring to you that glorious feeling of perfect health:

—and it is S. S. S.

SPRINGTIME is the season when Nature intends all living creatures to be charged with new life and energy. But you cannot enjoy the glorious feeling of renewed strength and vigor if your system remains clogged up with the impurities which have accumulated during the winter.

At this time your blood is overloaded with stagnant waste; you are drowsy; you hate work and you are denied that irresistible energy and enthusiasm that made every moment of your childhood days bubble over with happiness and the joy of living.

Nature's Warning

This tired feeling is often accompanied by disagreeable symptoms such as boils, pimples, rashes, eczema or rheumatism. You call it Spring Fever; but that is only Nature's way of saying—Cleanse Your System. And, just as Nature has provided everything else for our comfort and well-being, so She has given us the only really effective remedy for this draggy, let-down feeling.

Ninety-six years ago these wonderful vegetable herbs, roots and barks, of which S. S. S. is composed, were found to possess remarkable power to purify the blood, eliminate skin eruptions, strengthen and aid in supplying every cell and tissue with the rich, red nourishment that is so necessary to vigorous life, health and happiness. Then it was that Nature's own great remedy for Spring fever was given to us in the form of S. S. S.

And ever since, S. S. S. has gone on converting hundreds of thousands of tired, worn-out, run-down people into strong, healthy, red-blooded men and women with the power and capacity to accomplish things and to enjoy the beauties of Nature and the happiness of life to the very fullest.

Do not be fooled into taking compounds, such as metallic iron, etc. These minerals crash into the system, attack the delicate tissues and oftentimes leave you in worse shape than before.

Nature Intended A Vegetable Remedy

Always insist upon S. S. S., for this wonderful vegetable tonic is the remedy Nature has intended for you. The soothing, healing powers of the vegetable ingredients first cleanse and then tone up the entire system without one particle of distressing after effect.

S. S. S. overcomes your tired, drowsy feeling in a natural, easy way and without the slightest harm to the most delicate membrane of your body.

S. S. S. brings you back to where you feel like a new person; you walk with a spring in your step, a sparkle in your eye and with perfect health radiating from every pore of your skin.

Don't be cheated out of your natural Springtime heritage. That wonderful feeling of newborn energy, life and strength is yours! Simply go to your druggist and get a bottle of S. S. S., now, today.

This summer wear a suit that is really cool

You can make up your mind to this right now: You can't wear hot clothes in summer and be cool. If you want to be really cool, wear clothes that are really cool.

Palm Beach Suits are cool. There's no ice in the pockets, and they are not the whole answer to being comfortable in hot weather. But they do make a big difference.

You can look well in a Palm Beach—you always look better when you are cool than you do when you are sweltering in wool on a hot day.

You can buy Palm Beach Suits in dark shades, browns, blues, grays, and mixtures in plains, stripes, and plaids—in fact, there are as many varieties to choose from in Palm Beach Suits as there are in woolens and worsteds.

PETERS WALLBOARD

Use of this superior walling material means a substantial saving in building costs. Money is saved through the maximum conservation of time, labor and material which Peters Wallboard permits. After the walls are up there is no further expense to maintain them except in cleaning and decorating.

Eliminates All Interior Lathing and Plastering

Peters Wallboard comes in various sized sheets cut and ready for wall construction. The delay, trouble and uncertainties of ordinary lath and plaster are avoided. It is a composition of fireproof plastic material compressed solidly between sheets of heavy special paper.

Will Not Warp, Shrink, Crack or Check

Walls may be finished in a wide variety of ways. And also Peters Wallboard combines the essential elements of being

STANFORD PICKS NET TEAM

Phil Neer and James Davies Selected to Represent Cards on Tennis Courts in East

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 4.—Phil A. Neer and James M. Davies will again represent Stanford University at the intercollegiate tennis tournament at Haverford, Pa., in the latter part of June, it was announced at the graduate manager's office this morning. Neer, who at present holds first position in the intercollegiate ranking, will attempt to recapture tournament honors, and Davies will try to improve his rating which is now that of fourth position.

Neer and Davies took the intercollegiate California State honors in the singles at Ojai last week, both men winning their way to the finals, and playing the final match between themselves for the championship, which Davies won. Together they took the doubles title.

The two Stanford men expect to be able to take part in the Delaware State open championships at Wilmington, before the national intercollegiates.

Following the Haverford tournament Neer and Davies will enter as many of the eastern championship tournaments as possible, the first of which is the Rhode Island State championships at Providence, the first trials in which Tilden, Johnston and the better nationally known players usually compete.

The Stanford pair will also enter the Pacific Coast conference tournament, which will be conducted at the University of California May 12-13. Davies is present holder of the intercollegiate singles title, while the doubles crown rests with Bates and Levy of California.

GREGG'S WORK ON MOUND TRIMS DUCKS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 4.—Against Gregg's great pitching Portland never had a chance to win today's game. Pitching on the same field where twelve years ago he made his debut as a member of the Beavers, Gregg held Portland to six hits and struck out five batters. He never was in danger and an error was responsible for one of the scores off him. Sutherland, on the other hand, was hit hard and his support faltered often. The score:

PREP TRACKMEN PARK IN NORTH

Lincoln and Huntington Beach Teams at Stockton

Southland Coaches Confident of Victory

Seaside Tracksters Expected to Take Laurels

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

STOCKTON, May 4.—Plans for the State track and field meet, to be held at Stockton on Saturday, have practically been completed and most of the athletes are in Stockton preparing for the event, announced Homer S. Toms, northern secretary of the C.I.F., here today.

The squads from Lincoln High of Los Angeles, last year's State champions, and Huntington Beach High, favored to win the title this year, arrived on the scene today under the guiding hands of their coaches, Tommy Davis and Feet Walker.

WALKER OPTIMISTIC

Feet Walker, Huntington Beach mentor, spoke very optimistically about his squad's chances for a victory. In Kerr, Bickmore, Nichols, and the two Nash brothers, Walker has an array of stars that could hold their own with many college athletes. Kerr is doped the winner of the mile run, with a chance to break the existing record of 4m. 30 2-5s. Bickmore figures to be an easy winner in the pole vault, and will probably get second or third in the high jump. The beach altitude demon will more than likely smash the pole vault record of twelve feet, as he has previously cleared 12ft. 4in., and in the Southern California meet vaulted over 12ft. ½in. Nichols is also a pole vaulter and is conceded a good chance of annexing third place in this event on Saturday. Smith of San Diego will probably take second in this event. Bill Nash is the team's quarter-miler and is favored to win second in the one-lap event, with Shaw of Monrovia doped to break the worsted. However, Nash might spring a surprise and beat out his dusky opponent. Tendon Nash, winner of the broad jump in the past two meets, is only doped to take second this year on account of a strained tendon. Sencerbox of Lincoln outleaped the Huntington Beach performer in the Southern California meet and will more than likely repeat on Saturday. Should all these athletes come through, Huntington Beach will roll up a score of twenty points, enough to cinch the meet.

EXPECT FAST SPRINTING

Some fast sprinting is expected to come off when Nesbit of Harvard Military Academy, Wickersham of Bakersfield, Smith of San Fernando, and Norman of Lincoln hook up in the century and 220-yard dashes. Three of these men have been clocked in the century at 10s. flat, while Nesbit once rambled the distance in 9 4-5s.

The half-mile run will bring out some of the best competition of the day when Schwaboeda of Petaluma, Thomas of Manual and Niersbach of Polytechnic tangle. All three of these men placed in the State meet last year, finishing second, third, and fourth in the order named. Boyden of Vallejo winning in the fast time of 1m. 59 4-5s. and establishing the present record. All three men have run the 880 under 2m. 3s. and it is an assured fact that the winner will have to shake a mean pair of hoofs.

Bud Houser, the Oxnard strong man, will be here to smash the shot and discus records, and annex ten points for Oxnard. Ainsley Cornwall of Lincoln High and Reglie of Mountain View High will gfiht it out for second place. Reglie has tossed the platter 122ft., six inches further than the Railsplitter's best throw, and is favored to take the red ribbon.

Bob Weaver, former head of the national C.I.F. and famous starter, will be field judge and starter of the meet.

Seth Van Patten, clerk of the Southern California branch of the C.I.F., is expected to arrive here tomorrow morning with a large group of Southern California athletes.

FOWNES TO CAPTAIN YANKEE GOLF TEAM

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—W. C. Fownes, Jr., of the Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburg, will captain the American golf team in the first international match with English amateurs for the Walker cup, it has been announced by a committee of the United States Golf Association, empowered to select the team. The match will be held in this country.

BOB KNOWLTON WILL INVADE CHICAGO SOON

Bob Knowlton, formerly a professional umpire, and a familiar figure in local baseball circles, is planning an early invasion of Chicago. Knowlton more recently has been umpiring amateur and high school games, but doesn't fancy the job as the preps are rebellious on the ball field and do not recognize the authority vested in an umpire. Knowlton may catch on in the Chicago City League.

The secret of having a collar look right on your neck is simple. Buy a collar that is made for your particular type of neck and face.

The tremendous and ever-increasing popularity of Grayco soft collars lies in the fact that "there is a shape for every neck and a fabric for every taste."

Grayco soft collars are made from genuine pique (P-K) material—the fabric of refinement, immaculate whiteness, and smart, dressy appearance. They are made in quarter-sizes, and should always be worn one-fourth size larger than

MRS. KENNEDY CALLED

Arthur Myers, a friend of Belton, was called and told of someone following the slain man and himself one Sunday evening. He could not identify the man. Myers was with Kennedy in the latter's office for some time on the night in question.

Then Mrs. Kennedy, the mother, was called. Slight, burdened with the grief of her son's death, she took the stand. She told of her conversation with Madalynne when she told that young woman that she had better go back to her husband, Ralph Obenchain, and "let Belton alone." Then Mrs. Kennedy spoke of Burch and how she was followed by a man and a woman on the day of the killing. She mentioned "that man."

"When you say 'that man' you mean Arthur Burch?" she was asked.

"Yes, but I hate to say his name," was her reply.

It was during the early afternoon that Madalynne was sent for. A short time after Mr. Keyes had asked that she be present she entered the room. With that quick, almost nervous step that characterizes her gait, she walked past Burch and his parents and took a seat on the far side from the jury.

MEETS BURCH'S GLANCE

Her eyes surveyed the room. She nodded to several acquaintances and spoke to the newspaper men seated a short distance away. Then, quite casually, as if some new object of only slight interest had come to her attention, her gaze fastened on Burch. With a gaze equally as casual and manner fully as disinterested, Arthur looked at Madalynne. She turned and spoke to William B. Bierne, her attorney. Burch turned and spoke to Bailiff Reader.

Several times during the short period the young woman was in the room her glance met that of the defendant. But never once was there a suggestion, a fleeting mark of recognition. She took the stand.

"We object to Mrs. Obenchain's testifying in this case until the indictment against her has been dismissed," said Mr. Bierne. He then cited legal authorities to sustain him.

DRAMATIC INCIDENT

"Let the witness answer the question," said Judge Reeve.

"Then the indictment against me has been dismissed?" Madalynne leaned forward in the witness chair, her voice soft, her face serious.

"We object to Mrs. Obenchain's testifying because ———" and Mr. Bierne cited a number of other authorities.

There was a long pause. The judge leaned back in his chair and surveyed the ceiling. He looked down at a book on his bench. He tipped back again.

Then the first defense witness, Mrs. Rosa Hinton, former proprietor of the Matthias Apartments, where the State is said to have kept a number of witnesses, was called. She related a conversation she said she heard in her hallway between Dr. J. J. Finley, State's witness, and Charles Riemer, investigator for the District Attorney.

COMEDY ENTERS

"I heard Finley say," said Mrs. Hinton, "that he wanted to know what he was going to get for 'doing this.' 'For doing what?' Mr. Riemer asked. 'For testifying the way you want me to,' Finley said. 'Well, we got you out of jail for doing this and we can put you back if you don't,' Riemer replied."

After eliciting this information from the witness Mr. Schenck seemed satisfied.

The session ended in what was almost a burst of merriment. Dep. Sheriff Manning was on the stand. Although he was a prosecution witness in the previous trial of Burch he was called as a defense witness yesterday He was testifying concerning some thorns that had been used as evidence.

EVERYBODY LAUGHS

"A rose by any other name would be as sweet," Mr. Schenck ventured.

"I object to counsel making light of this affair," Mr. Keyes announced quickly, his voice addressed to the court. "I'm sure that this is no laughing matter. I don't think that the defendant thinks this is a joke."

"I don't know that the defendant thinks at all," replied Mr. Schenck.

Then, to the surprise of everyone, Judge Reeve stated that he believed that the trial was altogether too serious and that he did not object to a little levity. Everybody laughed. The spectators heaved a deep sigh. Court was adjourned until today.

COSTUME PARTY PLANNED

An old-fashioned costume party—part of the "Salmagundi" proceedings being conducted this week by the MacDowell Club of Allied Arts—will take place this evening in the Tajo Building.

Listed on the program are such artists as Mrs. Leona Neblett, violiniste; Mme. Ruzena Sprotte, contralto; Frank Geritz, who will make rapid sketches; Joan Warren, character singer; and Bertha Fiske, who is to give several interpretations. They have donated their services as their "bit" in swelling the MacDowell Fellowship Fund.

In addition to the formal program there are numerous side attractions, with fortune tellers, vocational exhibits by disabled veterans and card games.

The entire "Salmagundi" is under the general supervision of Mrs. Graham F. Putnam, president, while Carroll Warder is chairman of the program committee. The latter has arranged a change of entertainment for Saturday night.

Body of Civil War Veteran to be Cremated

John Summerfield Williams, 83 years of age, a veteran of the Civil War and said to be the last surviving commissioned officer of the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Illinois Volunteer Regiment, died yesterday morning after a brief illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. H. Trude, 2103½ Highland avenue.

Capt. Williams was born in New York City in 1839 and moved to Chicago in 1844. Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Gates, Crane & Earl funeral chapel in Highland avenue. The body will be cremated and, at the request of the deceased, his ashes will be scattered upon the graves of his relatives and mingled with soil around a rosebush.

ACTOR PLAYS PART IN COURT SCENARIO

ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING, HE DRAWS FINE AFTER FRIEND'S MISTAKE

When Earl Radcliffe, a motion-picture actor, signed an agreement to appear in Justice Hinshaw's court to answer to a speeding charge, he enacted part of the second scene of a modern scenario.

Scene I is where he makes an agreement to begin on a new picture and starts away with joy in his heart.

Scene II shows him being met up by County Motorcycle Officer Ledbetter, who hands him a tag and requires him to sign an agreement to appear in Justice Court. The charge is speeding, at forty miles an hour, on Alameda street, on March 7.

Scene III registers the actor talking to a friend, who agrees to appear for him.

Scene IV is the court, fining many speeders, but no friend in court for Mr. Radcliffe. A bench warrant is issued, and constables make many efforts to bring the defendant into court.

Scene V shows the defendant in court, telling the justice that his friend has already paid a $15 fine. The court clerk says not.

Scene VI ends with the friend trying to explain that he made the mistake.

Scene VII shows the defendant being told that he is to spend ten days in the County Jail. Later, as an anticlimax, he is told that, because his incarceration would halt the works of an entire picture company, he will be fined.

In scene VIII the defendant is seen paying $100 as a fine, instead of going to the County Jail.

In all of these scenes the court maintains that one must report in court when so ordered by a motorcycle officer.

SAYS PROMISE TO WED BROKEN

Los Angeles Widow Accuses Porterville Grower

Charges He Wooed Her Here With Wife at Home

Defendant Said to be Worth Three Millions

Charles D. Boydson, multimillionaire orange grower and ranch owner of Porterville, was yesterday made defendant in a $150,000 breach-of-promise suit filed by Mrs. Laura Hazelle, a widow, residing in Los Angeles.

According to Raymond C. Thompson, Mrs. Hazelle's attorney, Boydson is married and is residing with his wife and grown son in Porterville. He is in the orange-growing business with his brother under the firm name of Boydson Bros.

The complaint identifies Boydson as "a wealthy ranch owner and undertaker, with interests in and around Porterville and Orange, Cal., St. Paul, Minn., and Chicago, Ill., and is possessed of a fortune in excess of $3,000,000."

Mrs. Hazelle, who describes herself as "a poor woman and the mother of three children," charges that during the year of 1921, Boydson made "violent, ardent and fervent love" to her and asked her to become his wife. She says he promised to provide her with a beautiful home and all the luxuries of wealth in addition to educating her young son. He continued his protestations of love, she avers, until the latter part of the year, telling her they would be married as soon as he could arrange his business affairs. She asserts that he has failed to make good any of the many promises.

Mrs. Hazelle is described as a comely widow of between 35 and 40 years of age. She first met Boydson in Los Angeles when they were introduced by common friends. According to her attorneys, he frequently made special visits to Los Angeles to see her.

Associated with Mr. Thompson in the suit is Frank C. Dunham. A messenger, with the summons and a copy of the complaint, was dispatched to Porterville yesterday afternoon to serve Boydson at his home.

Besides being one of the largest orange growers in Southern California, Boydson is the owner of immense acreage in the Tustin district, besides owning a chain of undertaking establishments with main offices in St. Paul and Chicago.

Warns Owners to Eliminate Fire Hazards

Warning all property owners that they will be subject to arrest and prosecution if they fail to comply with the regulations of the Fire Prevention Bureau, Fire Chief Scott yesterday issued a statement calling upon all property owners to remove grass, weeds and other inflammable material from vacant lots, parkways, alleys, etc.

He calls attention to the fact that grass and wild barley are now ripening and that fire hazards will be greatly increased unless property owners act promptly in removing the menace. Lots within the fire limits may be burned off only between the hours of 6 and 9 a.m. The chief suggests that lots containing inflammable matter be plowed under rather than burned off.

Residents Ask to Have Street Name Changed

Suggestion of Councilman Sparks that Athol avenue in the Silver Lake section be renamed Everington street in honor of the recent Chief of Police was received with laughter at yesterday's session of the City Council. The suggestion was made by Councilman Allan that the street be called Harding or Coolidge street in honor of the President of the United States or the Vice-President, but it is probable that Paradise Drive will be the name finally selected. The residents of Athol avenue have asked that the street be renamed.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Aged Man Probably Fatally Injured

Charles K. Boswell, 70 years of age, a salesman, residing at 4653 Sunset Boulevard, was probably fatally injured late yesterday afternoon when struck by an automobile driven by Lewis Gutternson, 209 South Bunker Hill avenue.

The man received a basal skull fracture and lacerations on the body, according to Police Surgeon Dodge, who attended him at the Receiving Hospital. The accident occurred at Vermont avenue and Sunset Boulevard.

OHIOAN'S BODY TO BE BURIED IN TOLEDO

The body of Isaiah Willard Copelin, wholesale coal dealer of Toledo, O., who died here Wednesday, will be sent to the old home today for burial. Mr. Copelin had spent four winters in Los Angeles, living at the Zelda Apartments. Mr. Copelin was a Thirty-second Degree Mason and an Elk. He was 69 years old. He leaves three children who were here at the time of his death. The body is at Bresee Brothers.

HEARING ON MINE CASE IS CLOSED

Three-Day Investigation of Jerome Company Affairs Concludes Amicably

Hearing before the Arizona Corporation Commission of the Jerome Superior Copper Company's application for authority to increase its bonded indebtedness in the sum of $100,000, the funds so obtained to be expended in developing the property which is located near Jerome, Ariz., was brought to a close yesterday. Commissioner Betts, presiding, fixed the date of May 20 as the time limit in which briefs covering the case may be submitted by attorneys representing the contending factions in the directorate, except that there may be an extension of time should stipulations to perform the assessment work required by law before July 1, next, be filed within the time set.

The conclusion of the three-day investigation of the mining concern's affairs was amicable on the surface, presenting a violent contrast to the heated arguments and bitter exchange of personalities between members of the opposing factions during the preceding sessions. At the summing up of evidence Attorney Kitts of San Francisco, representing the interests of Mitchell, Frasier and Case, all heavy stockholders, protested his desire to see money raised to cover the required assessment work upon the mine. Throughout the hearing Kitts had led the opposition to the raising of funds by the bond issue, proposed by the stockholders represented by Manning and Thomson, attorneys. In the opinion of Mr. Kitts, $15,000 would be needed to cover this year's assessment work. This money he stated he would personally provide rather than have the holdings penalized from undone assessment work.

Attorney Thompson explained to the commission the delay of his client stockholders in petitioning for the proposed bond issue. The California Corporate Commission, he stated, had disapproved permission to apply for the loan during the time an indictment by the Los Angeles county grand jury against Frasier, Mitchell and Case, charged with mismanagement of the mining concern's affairs, was pending. This was in January. The three stockholders were ordered held over until the next meeting of the grand jury and the California Commissioner of Corporations granted the stockholders the right to petition for an additional stock issue.

A mass of testimony relative to the mine's management during the four years past was brought out earlier during the time George Mitchell, formerly general manager, his son, Harry Mitchell, who stated he served as superintendent at a salary of $300 a month for a year and a half, and Charles E. Schoeder, book-keeper, were on the stand.

Christening to Be Interesting Event

The christening on Sunday of John Tracy Gaffey II, 2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Gaffey of Los Angeles Harbor, promises to be a most interesting affair, for the family connections from far and near are expected to gather to see this precious mite baptized.

The ceremony will be held in the private chapel in the gardens of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tracy Gaffey of La Alameda avenue, Los Angeles Harbor.

That Sheila Ward, 6 years of age, dark-eyed beauty and daughter of Mrs. John Mel, is to act as godmother, adds to the interest of the event. Her grandfather, Mr., Gaffey, will serve as godfather. It is to be very picturesque, as the old Spanish custom with bolo is to be followed and little Miss Ward is to throw golden coins to the guests.

She and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mel, are to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Tracy Gaffey, who will give a big family dinner party Sunday evening after the christening.

Presides at Luncheon

Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt presided at a luncheon yesterday at Annandale Country Club in honor of Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt. The table was gay with spring flowers and there were places for thirty guests.

Host at Dinner-Dance

Reed Kennedy is to be host at a dinner-dance tomorrow evening in honor of Benjamin Johnson of St. Louis, his house guest and classmate at Harvard University. The affair will be held at the home of Mr. Kennedy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy of 3901 Dalton avenue. There are to be seventy-five guests. Maxe Fischer's orchestra will furnish the dancce music.

Back from Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jessup Marshall of Pasadena have just returned from their ranch in Santa Barbara county. With them were Mr. and Mrs. Jose Aceves (Aurora Almada) of Guadalahara, Mex., who have been the guests of the Marshalls the past month. They are to return home in a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Moreno (Laura Almada) of the City of Mexico, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall for a few days, but have returned home. The Almada girls, with their father, Mr. Jesus Almada, were among the prominent and wealthy refugees from Mexico during the years of the revolution there. They were very popular and were first introduced to society here by Mrs. Randolph Huntington Miner.

To Give Luncheon

Miss Margaret Stewart of Seattle is to be incentive for the luncheon at which Miss Mary Annette Wallace will entertain tomorrow at the Mary Louise tea room. The luncheon will be in the Chinese room and the lace spread table will be centered with a basket of pink roses. There will be plates for Mrs. Herbert McGaffey, Mrs. Frank Casey, Mrs. John Woodward, Mrs. Theron Young, Mrs. Alvis Cochran, Mrs. Phylis Dorner, Mrs. Cecil Phelps, Misses Lois Finnigan, Helen Worthington, Ruth Bardsley, Winnifred Jones, Marjorie Hamlin, Wilma Bostford, Alice Burton, Mayre Benninger, Hazel Christian and Bertie and Merle Strawser.

Mrs. Fairbanks is Hostess

Mrs. Frederick C. Fairbanks of Pasadena presided yesterday at a bridge tea. Spring flowers were used on the tea table and elsewhere in the rooms.

Announced in Coronado

Capt. and Mrs. Clarke Howell Woodward of 800 Orange avenue, Coronado, yesterday announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Cathlena Parker, to Lieut. Miles Rutherford Browning, U.S.N., son of Mr. Owen Fogel Browning of New York. Capt. Woodward is also an officer in the Navy.

Lady Kirkpatrick Leaving

Lady Kirkpatrick of London, who has been one of the much-admired figures at the Hotels Huntington and Vista del Arroyo in Pasadena all winter, will leave on Sunday for Quebec, Can., where she will visit before returning to London.

To Travel Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Finkbine of Pasadena are among the large number of folk bound for Europe this summer. They will leave here the last of June for New York and may go over when Mrs. Kingore Satterlee and her brother, Grant Kingore, sail for Europe. Mr. Kingore, who is well known here and who visited his sister, Mrs. Jotham Bixby, Jr., a year ago, will open his art gallery in Paris this summer. Mrs. Bixby and her daughter, Miss Beatrice Bixby, will return home in June.

On the High Seas

Mr. and Mrs. Ross R. Hutchason are now on the high seas, having sailed from San Francisco on the Matsonia for Honolulu, where they expect to remain all summer. Before leaving, Mrs. George M. Easton entertained with an elaborate dinner at her home in their honor and Mrs. Lewis Cruickshank also gave a spring luncheon for fourteen, at which Mrs. Hutchason was honor guest.

Mrs. Stafford to Entertain

Mrs. Abbie King Stafford of 3053 West Eighth avenue will preside at a series of social functions at the Los Angeles Country Club. The first one, a bridge luncheon, will be given there on next Tuesday.

Mrs. Stafford recently came here from New York to make her home.

Entertained in Coronado

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. McManus and daughter, Miss Irene McManus, are visiting in Coronado and are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Holzwasser, who gave a cosy little dinner for them last evening, having among other guests, Miss Helen Warren, Lieut. Gooch and Lieut. Tomlinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Noack Leaving

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Noack expect to leave here the 25th inst. for New York, whence they are to sail on June 7 for Europe to spend the summer visiting in England, France, Germany and Holland. They will return in September. Several functions are being arranged for them before they go.

Russian Snow Ball.

Similar in some respects to Boski Ball, described some time ago. Russian Snow Ball, as its name implies, is a game especially adapted to winter sport. For the ball, a round stone may be used, or a hard snowball.

Holes are dug in the snow in a straight line, one hole beyond the other, each large enough to hold the ball. There should be just as many holes as there are players and each should be numbered. For instance, if there are seven players the holes are numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7. Seven is the farthest number. Three or four yards from the nearest hole to the players (Hole 1,) a horizontal line is trampled down in the snow; this is pitchers' base.

The first pitcher (No. 1) goes on base exactly opposite the row of holes, and tosses the snowball or stone. The ball scores for him as many points as the number of the hole into which it has fallen. If he has thrown it into the fifth hole he gains 5 points, the same number determining the next pitcher's turn. Pitcher 1 having pitched into hole 5, pitcher 5 comes up for the next turn, the first pitcher going to end of line. If pitcher 5 then throws the ball into hole 3, pitcher 3 takes his place on base, No. 5 going to tail of line, and so on. Where there is no snow the game can be played on a flat beach at low tide. Game is 50 points.

When played in teams there should be an even number of pitchers and of numbered holes. If there are ten players, for example, they divide into Odds and Evens, the Odds taking the odd numbers 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9 and the Evens holding 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10.

Seats at Horse Show on Sale at Alexandria

The demand for reserved seats and boxes for the coming Horse Show to be held at the Horse Show arena, Ambassador Hotel grounds, the 10th to 13th inst. inclusive, has far exceeded the expectations of the management.

In order that all who wish to attend may obtain their seats with the least inconvenience, announcement is made by Marco H. Hellman, chairman of the executive committee, that starting today, reserved seats and boxes for all performances may be obtained in the lobby of the Alexandria. The box office at the arena will not be opened until the evening of opening performance.

Proceeds from the sale of seats will go to the charities sponsored by the Assistance League, and will be distributed under the direction of Mrs. Hancock Banning.

Diet and Health

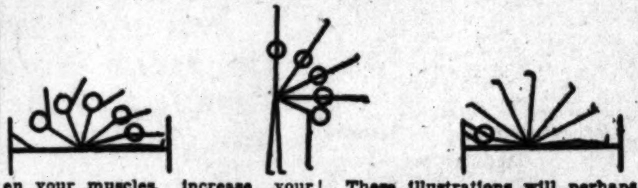
SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

ACTIVE EXERCISE

Yesterday we talked on the mechanical devices for giving needed passive exercise to those who for some reason, extreme overweight, weak heart, voluntary inertia, etc., cannot take active exercise. Today I shall give some exercise to those who do not come under that heading.

First to review a little the need for exercise: It is highly important that while you are consuming your own fat, alla samee cannibal, you tone up and strengthen your muscles, increase your circulation to bring extra oxygen to the seats of the mighty so as to help consume that fat, activate your internal glands so you will not have to deprive some other monkey of its; wake up your gray matter and strengthen that and the rest of your nervous system and ensoforth.



If you have not been in the habit of exercising, better begin with only four or five of the movements and gradually work up to a greater number. Even then, you must not be surprised if you are stiff and sore for a while. You will realize that you have muscles that you never dreamed of. But persist, and you will soon like your exercises and will notice that you are not nearly so old as you thought.

To begin: When you awaken and realize that 'tis time to be up and doing, somebody, before you leave your bed make believe that you are a cat. Put one front paw forth and stretch thoroughly, then the other, then your hind paws the same.

Now impersonate an open jackknife trying to shut itself up gradually. You do that this way: Throw your hands over your head, then throw them forward, raising your body ten to twelve inches from the bed. Repeat, this time going still further. Each time go back to the level. Keep on doing this and increasing the distance your body goes forward until you are shut up. Repeat this process of closing yourself ten to fifteen time. (First illustration.

These illustrations will perhaps help you to visualize the process. (Sorry I haven't my rascal nephew with me. He is my real artist.)

Now holding on to the head of the bed, reverse the process until your feet are over your head. Get to this gradually as you did going forward. Work up to ten to fifteen times. (Last illustration.

Get up! This is the last time I am going to call you.

Now go through that bending and touching the floor without bending your knees stunt. First, bend forward a little, go back to the erect position, then forward a little more and back, and keep on repeating until you finally can touch the floor. Repeat these touching exercises ten to fifteen times as you did the other. (Middle illustration.)

Tomorrow some more exes. Heaven! I've forgotten to order your meals! You'll have to have about what you had yesterday. Sorry! You may tuck in 100 C's more, now making 1000 C's.

Tomorrow: Counting calories.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Fried Eggs

If eggs are fried in muffin pans they will be perfectly rounded and much more attractive in appearance.

Better Flavor

Plum pudding and fruit cake should be kept at least two weeks before using, as it improves the flavor by giving the fruits time to mellow.

Darning Stockings

Crochet cotton for darning stockings has the advantage of not hardening in washing and is stronger and better in many ways than darning cotton.

To Clean Lacquered Trays

If a tray of Japanned ware becomes spotted, dip a woolen cloth into sweet oil and rub the stains hard. Warm water will remove ordinary stains.

When Buying Sheets

In making or buying sheets be careful to have them long enough. A bed will never stay neat with sheets that are too short. Ten inches over on each side of the bed is the most satisfactory allowance.

Baked Fish

When baking fish, fit a heavy brown paper over the bottom and sides of the baking pan and grease it thoroughly. Lay fish upon paper and when it is done it may be removed with the paper. The pan will be easy to wash and will be free from odor.

GIRLS' JUMPER DRESS.

Number 1389 is a jumper dress style with a separate guimpe which is particularly applicable for school and vacation wear because the dress and guimpe are both easy to launder and can be laundered separately. This style could be made in one color as illustrated above or the guimpe could be of a contrasting color.

The pattern for this style cuts in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14 years. The guimpe is included. Size 8 requires 2 yards of 32-inch material with ⅞ yard of 36-inch contrasting material. Price 15 cents, stamps or coin, (coin preferred).

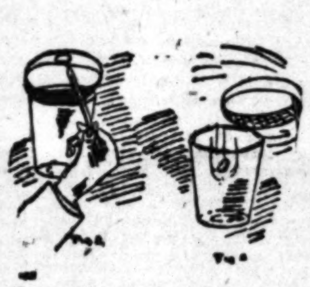
All orders will be handled by this branch office in Chicago and in order to eliminate the delay in forwarding we have arranged to have orders sent direct to the Chicago office. Unless otherwise specified all patterns are 15 cents each.

After-Dinner Tricks



No. 182—Coin and Tumbler

A paper loop is placed upright upon a small tumbler and a coin is balanced upon the loop. The trick is to drop the coin into the glass without touching either the coin, the glass or the paper loop.

To do the trick, strike the loop sharply on the inside (Fig. 1) with a pencil and knock it quickly out from under the coin. The latter will not be influenced by the movement of the paper band and will drop into the glass (Fig. 2.) You can then carry off the loop on your pencil, fulfilling the conditions of not touching any of the objects.

His "True Love" Took Husband, Wife Charges

After twenty-three years of married life George E. Dodds, a carpenter, found his "true love" in the person of Mrs. E. H. Smith, 745 South Flower street, according to a petition for divorce filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Mrs. Emily Dodds, Dudley Apartments, Santa Monica.

Mrs. Dodds says her husband left her January 8, last, for the company of Mrs. Smith, who is also designated in the complaint as Jane Doe Libaugh. The wife says her husband lost all love and affection for her and told her that he cared only for Mrs. Smith. Dodds is now residing at Mrs. Smith's home, according to the complaint.

The couple were married March 19, 1898. She asks $75 a month alimony.

John C. Urquhart, president Los Angeles District Fed- presenetd to the delegate body a beautiful white satin banner with the State federation emblem, a circle and torch in blue upon it, and the motto "Strength United is Stronger."

Presenting a wide scope in their sentiment and endeavor, twenty-one resolutions, which had been passed by the committee for action of the delegate body today were read by the chairman, Mrs. Clayton R. Taylor, of Pasadena. So careful have been the committee in eliminating any resolution that might cause a controversy that it now seems virtually certain that every one will pass.

INDIAN EDUCATION

In connection with the strong Indian welfare sentiment that was generated yesterday, one of the outstanding resolutions was that presented by the northern and fornia, gave her report at the conclusion of the session yesterday morning. As a representative of California during the last year she has attended board meetings in Des Moines, Washington, D. C., Salt Lake and Chicago. She reported the honor of nominating for the general federation Mrs. Berry, who was elected: Dr. Aurelia Henry Reibhardt as chairman of literature and Mrs. H. A. Atwood, chairman of Indian welfare, California being the first State to have such a department. Other California women represented on the general board are Mrs. Douglass Danielson, Estelle H. Dreyfus and Mrs. William B. Myers, the latter chairman of birds and wild flowers.

The convention formally nominated Mrs. Burdette as California director for the biennial in New York, her election to take place at the beginning of that convention of the general federation.

FLOWERS PRESENTED

Mrs. Otto Waterman, president of the Echo Park Mothers' Club, presented Mrs. William A. Fitzgerald, presiding as State chief executive of the federation, with a beautifully fashioned French basket of varigated flowers, saying jocularly "To our dear grandmother of our mothers' club, on the San Joaquin Valley districts, urging that the federation promote the project that the State, through its Department of Education, assume the responsibility for the education of California Indians instead of leaving it to Federal control, which has so signally failed. as the resolution states.

The Woman's Club of Santa Barbara urged that social and Red Cross service be given the Indians on reservations. Indorsement was reaffirmed by Los Angeles district and the State executive board of the Towner-Sterling Bill. The Wright Bill was indorsed by the Los Angeles district,, the Northern district and the State board.

The Woman's Club of U.S.C. offered a resolution for the whole State to share in the national program to promote the Fourth of July as "Citizenship Day;" the Contemporary Club of Redlands urged that every school in the State should have a kindergarten; and the South Side Ebell offered a resolution that all public school children be furnished by the State with one free lunch every school day.

CHILD CONSERVATION

In the interest of child conservation the Los Angeles Ebell signed a resolution through its officers urging the federation to co-operate with the newly organized Child's Welfare League to segregate subnormal children and separate them in the class room from the child of average intellect and the brighter child so that the latter may make greater advance in acquiring an education. The State board advocates the purchase by the government of the fifty-mile virgin pine forest on the north rim of the Colorado River for the purpose of perpetuating the trees and to make a national park whose name shall be "President's Forest;" they also urge that all women co-operate to make next week, "Better Film" week, a success, to help finance the purchase of general federation headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Deploring the late instances of mob rule in California, the State board offers a strong resolution in which an appeal for all women to teach those with whom they come in contact the dignity of the law, that order and law come before the freedom of the few and that disobedience of law when it is en masse becomes treason to the country. The resolution commends the actions of officials and their bravery in suppressing all such mob movements.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY BILL

The Woman's City Club of Long Beach offers a resolution urging a campaign of education, so that an improved community property bill, better than the one which lost in 1920, may be brought before the people by initiative measure at some future time. The Alameda district advocates that the sovereignty of the Samoan Islands be speedily determined so that Samoa may no longer be exploited by the Navy.

Senate Bill 592, a veterans' benefit bill, is indorsed and it is urged that Congress make a thorough investigation of the crowded condition in hospitals for the exservice man.

The San Francisco district's resolution urges the indorsement of the bill, which provides that a national conservatory of music be established in the Berkeley hills. This is signed also by the California Club, one of the large clubs of San Francisco.

The Friday Morning Club presents a resolution commending the action of the Industrial Welfare Commission in reducing the minimum wage for women, regretting that the reduction is necessary and particularly commending in the face of much adverse criticism, the action of Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, as a member of that commission.

It is rumored that certain clubs from the north may oppose the passage of this latter resolution, when it comes before the delegate body for action today.

Women's University Club

Margaret Messer Morris, dramatic soprano, will give a song recital of Cadman music for the Women's University Club Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2:30, in the Ebell Clubhouse. She will be accompanied at the piano by the composer, Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Five newspaper women interested in women's clubs will be the guests of honor and speakers at the regular monthly luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Edwin G. Brooks will preside.

TO DEDICATE LIBRARY

The Los Angeles Optimists Club Library recently erected on the Barlow Sanatorium grounds will be dedicated at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. An invitation to attend the services has been extended to a large number of persons by L. S. Rounsavelle, chairman of the library committee of the Optimists' Club.

"ON THE AIR" AT CLUB MEET

Broadcast by the Club Editor

Says the neophyte, reading from her notes:

Arrive promptly at 9 o'clock. Hunt credential committee members who aren't yet ready for the influx of delegates.

Mrs. Thayer: "Oh, yes! Good morning. Oh, yes. Yes. What was it you wanted? Well, the badges haven't come yet. Where are those badges?" Voice from the doorway: "Is Mrs. Exley or Mrs. Urquhart present? Well, then, are there any presidents here?"

Mrs. Thayer, to neophyte, who has unobtrusively draped self in chair. "Excuse me. Could you move—I must have this space. Who do you suppose has charge of those badges. Oh, here they are!" (Neophyte hastily moves, knocking over table and credential cards in effort to obliterate her not too willowy self. Not too willowy by a good hundred pounds. Huddles into farthest corner with feet drawn under her.)

Mrs. Thayer: "Oh, yes. The badges. But where are the badges for the credential committee?"

Miss Armstrong and Mrs. Thayer in chorus: "We should have badges."

Mrs. Thayer: "Oh, here they are."

To neophyte: "Oh, do pardon me, but can you move—we must have this corner—"

Neophyte stands against wall, wearing unhappy expression, and badge which she obtains from charming Mrs. Holden. Stands gazing helplessly, until shunted into corridor.

Neophyte: "So that's that!" Pins on badge and is shunted by the crowd into Bovard Hall, where she gasps with pleasure over the twin Christmas trees against the backdrop and the ferny dell arrangement at footlights. Settles herself in Los Angeles section of delegate's pen—changes seat three times. Reads program through three and one-half times. Beginning to yawn when a lady with a beautiful smile accomplishes mutual introductions.

Neophyte gasps: "Mrs. Gleason? You are Mrs. Gleason? The Mrs. Gleason, the parliamentary hound, er, expert?" Thereafter she fastens gaze upon Mrs. Gleason and copies her every move. Opens program, closes it, rises and sits with Mrs. Gleason. Makes notations on back of book and nods with Mrs. Gleason. Feels like she is learning much in the process. Wonders if she did turn off that heater in the bathroom. Has uneasy session until recalling that she went back twice just to see about it. Recalls that she forgot to put out ice card.

Hark! The gavel. They've begun.

First woman: "Isn't it terrible the way women just won't quiet down. I can't hear a word!"

Second woman: "What did she say? Last year I had this very same experience. People around me just wouldn't quiet down, and, my dear, it was impossible to hear a word they said! What did she say then? Why won't they quiet down?"

Neophyte reflects. Aren't their white dresses and their voices sweet? What a lot of work and trouble they've gone to to make out these reports. Mrs. Fitzgerald! No wonder they elected her! She makes me think of Tennyson's lines — "a perfect woman, nobly planned, to warn, to comfort, to command—" or words to that effect.

Well, hats are coming off! That's one thing the poor, maligned movies have done, anyway! Taught us to take off our hats, and give the folks behind us a chance to see something besides feathers and ribbons.

Neophyte feels mixture of emotions boiling round inside. The invocation makes it all seem pretty serious—there's a choke in her throat and a tear in her eye, after each one of the beautiful, unselfed, white-clad women have said their little says. Then a pencil escapes its owner and careens wickedly down the isle just ahead of an usher's grasping hand. Neophyte snickers in neophytish fashion. Notices that Mrs. Gleason is not laughing. Smile freezes instantaneously and automatically.

Time for a bite to eat. The campus swarms with gentle-mannered girls and clean-eyed boys. Beautiful youth! Why worry too much about the state of the world when you can pay a nickel, ride out on the car marked "U" and see dozens of such splendid young people?

Sandwich and coffee taste fine. The chatty proprietress of the little cafe inquires about the convention. A man asks her rather disparagingly what it's all about. Sisters under the skin, the c.p. and the neophyte unite in withering him with queenly stares. He fades through doorway.

Chatty Proprietress: "We women gotta stand together and show them men they can't put nothin' over on us! That's a swell satin badge you got, honey!"

"And that's swell coffee, too, sister," the neophyte answers from a full heart that beats proudly beneath the white-satin badge that stands for something bigger and better than just "women's clubs." It stands—the neophyte has learned—for Universal Sisterhood.

Friday Morning Club

Flowers—flowers, yellow, blue, crimson, purple with their green leaves; flowers from the hills and canyons; flowers from gardens and the sand dunes near the sea, helping to raise the $50,000 for the new clubhouse of the Friday Morning Club. The flower committee of the finishing fund is in evidence every Friday with a beautiful array of flowers of all varieties which are sold to the members and their friends, adding a generous sum toward the amount so much desired. There are lupines, bringing their blue mistiness next to georgeous gardenias, haughty Spanish iris, browns, gray-blues and orange, carnations, roses and good-looking shrubs. Under the skillful hands of Mrs. R. A. Chapman, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Lawless, they lift to the best advantage their shy fair faces, all but asking to be bought.

The forest fete, under the leadership of Mrs. Workman, is getting its committees in fine shape. Saturday is to be given over to the school children of the city and their friends. Friday will be for the public and its friends, too, will be welcomed heartily.

The poster contest, open to all the public school children of the city, will close May 23, all posters must be at the clubhouse by that date.

A spelling bee, under the direction of Mrs. Ella Durley, will be held at the Friday Morning Club Thursday, May 25, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Andrew Francisco and Mrs. D. B. Lyons are to be the captains. A good old-fashioned spelling bee! Who is the best speller!

Hic Jacet

Oh, she was a lissome and lovely peach,
With an intellect second to none,
But she went to the club and forgot her speech,
Which created no end of fun.
She knew it by heart, but it suddenly left,
And she couldn't remember a word,
For she suddenly realized that she'd left
The cat in the house with the bird.

"Every dog has his day, but the nights belong to the cats," said Theodore Roosevelt. Human activity is completely the reverse. The sly old dogs spend their nights at the club, and the cats go to the club in the daytime.

Ban Bloodless Bull Fight by Police Orders

"Synthetic bullfights," otherwise known as "bull dodging," will be not permitted in Los Angeles, Chief of Police Oaks announced yesterday.

Plans of a local Spanish society to stage a bloodless bull fight will be declared taboo, the Chief said, being in violation of State laws guarding against cruelty to animals.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been investigating the proposed sociability between toreadors, matadors and bulls for several weeks, and the City Council has also had its attention called to the matter.

NEED BABY BUGGIES

Children of Veterans Denied Airing Because of Lack

Many children of the men who fought in the World War are not getting proper airing because of a lack of baby buggies among their needy families. So the Los Angeles chapter, American Red Cross, yesterday issued an appeal for donations of all the baby buggies Los Angeles can supply. Mothers whose children have learned to walk are asked to send the buggies to 213 South Broadway or to telephone Pico 1440.

EXTEND TIME LIMIT FOR FILING BRIEFS

A time extension until the 15th inst. in which to file a brief in the case of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, which is protesting the passenger rate increase put into effect January 1, last, by the Pacific Electric system, was granted yesterday to Attorney Robert Young, who is conducting the case of the Hollywood body, it was stated by officials of the traction company.

VENICE'S FUNDS FOUND IN BANK

Missing Treasurer's Deposit Box Holds $28,500

May Wipe Out Shortage, is Belief Expressed

Poor Book-keeping Accounts for Rest, Says Mayor

Officials from the District Attorney's office found $28,500 in bonds and securities yesterday in the safety deposit box of James Peasgood, missing Venice City Treasurer who was charged with embezzlement of $35,000 in city funds yesterday. Venice officials expressed their belief last night that the remaining $6000 of the apparent shortage will be found to be due to poor book-keeping.

The box, rented by Peasgood in his own name at the First National Bank of Venice, was opened after District Attorney's investigators had obtained a search warrant. In it were found $23,500 in bonds of the bank and $5000 in government securities.

"I do not believe that there is any actual shortage," Mayor Edward A. Gerety of Venice, said last night. "The remainder of the missing funds will be found when the books are corrected, I believe. Even if it is not discovered, the city of Venice will not lose a cent as Peasgood was under $15,000 bond."

Following the issuing of a warrant charging Peasgood with embezzlement Wednesday evening, which was sworn to by Mayor Gerety and William Lutz, trustee and chairman of the Venice city finance committee, a nation-wide search for the treasurer who has been missing since last Saturday was started by the company which had bonded him.

The city trustees intend to employ a firm of certified accountants to make a thorough check of the city books. P. G. Knickerbocker, who was appointed deputy City Treasurer by the trustees Wednesday night, took charge of the office today.

ASKS HIS ALIAS BE MADE NAME

Louis C. Wallach
(Leach Cross)

Having been known pugilistically for eighteen years as Leach Cross, while his true name, Louis Charles Wallach, is infrequently used, Mr. Wallach yesterday petitioned the Superior Court to make his ring name permanent. He also desires to have his wife, Minnie A. Wallach, and his minor daughter, Rhoda Wallach, known as Alta M. Cross and Rhoda Cross.

Leach Cross, who was born in New York, is 36 years of age. He is now a resident of Los Angeles. His petition was filed through Attorneys Bearman and Engelhart.

INVESTMENT IN NEVADA IS INVITED

Los Angeles Capital is Urged to Help Develop Tributary District

Los Angeles was lauded as the biggest town in the Western Hemisphere at the City Club yesterday when prominent guests from Nevada vied with one another in complimenting this city on its progress and in pointing out its glorious future, following the completion of the Boulder Dam project.

F. V. Owen was chairman of the day and a telegram was read from Gov. Boyle of Nevada, regreting that he could not be present.

"I realize the great good you are doing in cultivating such districts as Southern Nevada, which are destined to play an important part with you in the industrial and social development of the Southwest," wrote the Governor.

Among the speakers yesterday were Judge Henry M. Lillis, president of the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce; Walker R. Young, United States government engineer of the Boulder Canyon project; Dist.-Atty. Harmon of Las Vegas, and Judge Charles Lee Horsey of Las Vegas.

"We come not asking favors beyond those granted by one business firm to another," said Judge Lillis. "We expect to be an aid to you in every move which your great city shall make in the future. The opportunities for both capital and labor in Las Vegas Valley and Southern Nevada are practically unlimited. The soil is rich and water from the artesian wells and pumping systems is abundant. We invite the capital of the Southland to come and open up those valuable tracts, which yield such abundant returns. As to the Boulder Canyon, it will be built in good time, for the benefit of the entire Southwest, although the advantage to us of Las Vegas will be largely through the electric power which will thus be furnished us."

Judge Horsey said that when Las Vegas "shall become the dream city of a desert reclaimed," that city will pour into Los Angeles more wealth in silver, gold and other minerals than was poured into San Francisco from Virginia City in the early days.

"And in that day, instead of our ores going to Salt Lake Valley for smelting, and the refined products being sent eastward, I see no economic reason why they should not come to Los Angeles for treatment in your industrial plants and your refineries," said Judge Horsey.

That Southern California is capable of furnishing nearly all the material, and all of the labor necessary to the construction of the Boulder Dam was the opinion expressed by W. K. Young, who suggested that a project calling for the expenditure of $100,000,000 is "worth going after."

COMMITTEE REDUCES ENGINEER'S BUDGET

MORE THAN MILLION DOLLARS TRIMMED FROM ESTIMATE OF DEPARTMENTS

The budget committee of the City Council yesterday cut $263,985 from the estimate of City Engineer Griffin for funds to conduct his department during the fiscal year beginning July 1. The City Engineer's total estimate was $3,531,660, compared to $3,029,383 for the year just closing.

The total estimates submitted by heads of all departments for the coming fiscal year amounted to $11,511,069, and from this amount the budget committee, of which Councilmen Mushet is chairman, has already trimmed a total of $1,046,985. As the estimated income of the city next year will be $10,500,000, the committee will find it necessary to lop off from the estimates nearly $500,000 more so as to bring the departmental appropriations within the city's revenues.

WIFE SUES REAL ESTATE DEALER

Divorce Action Filed by Mrs. Schloessmann

Charges Her Husband Made Love to Stenographer

Complaint Says He Kissed and Hugged Assistant

Kisses and hugs which he is asserted to have bestowed upon Miss Anna Wichers, his pretty office assistant, in the presence of his wife, yesterday brought Carl L. Schloessmann, wealthy realty operator, to the divorce court, in an action filed by his wife, Mrs. Jeanne E. Schloessmann.

Mrs. Schloessmann states in her complaint that her husband has, on various occasions, made "violent" love to the pretty stenographer, in her presence. He kissed and hugged her, the wife states, and told her he expected to marry her.

The mental suffering caused Mrs. Schloessman as a result of her husband's actions, brought on a nervous breakdown, which necessitated the care of a physician for several weeks, she says.

The wife says that when she remonstrated with Mr. Schloessmann for his purported attentions to Miss Wichers, he told her he did not love her any more, and that Miss Wichers was the only woman he had ever cared for.

Miss Wichers was formerly employed in Mr. Schloessmann's office in the Citizens' National Bank Building, but she resigned recently, according to Mr. Schloessmann.

The couple were married March 19, 1907, and separated on January 15, last. They have one son, Carl Schloessmann. The suit was filed through Attorney Duke Stone.

BOY AGED FIVE DIES IN BLAZE

Tragedy Turns Family's Happiness Over New Car Into Deepest Grief

Life smiled kindly on Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nolls, 971 El Molino street, only to turn, when the peak of happiness seemed reached, into a frown of tragedy. Little Bobby Nolls, their 5-year-old son, was burned to death yesterday.

The young couple moved into their bungalow two weeks ago. Mr. Nolls had a position at a new market at Vermont avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard. Affairs were looking bright and yesterday he decided to buy an automobile. With his wife and little Bobby he took a trial trip in the machine he intended to buy.

They returned to their home and Bobby skimmed out to play. Five minutes later somebody shouted that the rear shed was on fire. The shed was a roaring mass of flame and the child was, nowhere to be seen. When the blaze had been extinguished, firemen found the charred body of the boy.

Detective Lloyd and Patrolman Bayer, after investigation, expressed the belief that Bobby had lighted matches in the shed which was half-filled with old newspapers. He was either too frightened to move, or else was suffocated by the smoke. He was found crouched behind a box where he had crawled to protect himself.

Both parents were prostrated with grief. The Coroner was notified and the body was removed to the J. D. Button mortuary. Mr. and Mrs. Nolls have one other boy, William, age 3 years.

JAPANESE STAR SUES PICTURE CORPORATION

SESSUE HAYAKAWA ASKS FOR $92,000; BREACH OF CONTRACT CHARGED

Sessue Hayakawa, Japanese cinema star, is sueing the R-C Pictures Corporation, headed by Rufus Cole, for $92,000, charging breach of contract. The suit came to light yesterday when an attachment Mr. Hayakawa had obtained against all of the R-C company's property was made public.

Mr. Hayakawa asserts that on July 15, 1921, he entered into a contract with Mr. Cole for the production of six feature pictures for which he was to receive $20,000 a picture. "The First Born" and "Black Roses" were the only two features that were completed and the star was paid $40,000, according to the contract.

He charges that on April 1, last, he was discharged before "Where Lights Are Low" and "The Swamp," two of the other scheduled six pictures had been produced. He says the company owes him $92,000 and seeks judgment in this amount.

The suit was filed through Attys. Loeb, Walker and Loeb who served a writ of attachment tying up all of the cinema company's properties.

Council Orders Western Union to Stop Work

Swinging a mighty club over the head of the Western Union Telegraph Company, the City Council yesterday unanimously voted to instruct the Board of Public Works to issue no permits to the company for excavating in the city streets until the concern complies with the Council's order that it take out a franchise to operate a pneumatic tube service under the downtown streets to convey written messages between its central and branch offices.

The company is working on a program of laying eight miles of pneumatic tube conduits in the downtown section, and City Attorney Stephens reported that the company had no franchise authorizing this service. The company has so far failed to get a franchise.

COLLEEN MOORE RESTS

By Grace Kingsley

Maybe Abraham Lehr, production manager of the Goldwyn Studio, has been reading that enlightening story known as "Efficiency Edgar." At any rate, he is taking advantage of the quiet spell at Goldwyn studios to brighten the old place up a bit by having the stages and buildings repainted inside and out, so that almost any place you go you will be splashing around in paint.

In the meantime, some of the stars and directors and writers are taking vacations, preparatory to going to work harder than ever. Included among them is Colleen Moore, who, it was announced yesterday, is to play the leading feminine role in Winifred Kimball's prize story, "Broken Chains," which Allen Holubar is to direct. She it is who is to be the wife who will drag around the aforesaid chains, and, naturally, she wants to get her strength up for the task. She has gone away to the mountains, leaving only the address, "somewhere in California."

"Broken Chains" will probably be made as to exteriors somewhere in the northern lumber country.

Rupert Hughes, having completed "The Bitterness of Sweets," is again taking his typewriter in hand to put the finishing touches on his scenario of "The Perfect Wife," which will be his next production, according to present plans. Occasionally, he leaves off the gruelling labor of story writing to undertake the refreshing task of taking tests of the six beautiful girls who played the "butterfly girls" in "The Bitterness of Sweets." They are young ladies who have had no previous experience in pictures, but as they are of unusual pulchritude, Mr. Hughes feels it would be a shame not to continue to record their beauty in the deathless celluloid, providing they have talent anything commensurate with their looks.

Foolish Wives? Not So!

When you try to pull a bluff on two game young gentlemen like Conrad Nagel and Sidney Franklin, you want to look out, that's all, take it from no less well-informed authorities than the Mmes. Nagel and Franklin. But also look out for the ladies aforesaid.

It all happened last Saturday night, when, at a picture show, Mr. Nagel's wife informed him, echoed by Mrs. Franklin to her spouse, that he was getting in an awful rut, and why didn't they take their wives out more? Whether it was arranged by mental telepathy or whatnot, the fact remains that the two ladies found themselves, after the show, being whirled right past their homes in Hollywood.

"W-where are we going?" demanded the ladies breathless. "Why don't we go home?"

"We're not going home!" exclaimed the Messrs. Nagel and Franklin between their clenched teeth. "We're going to Santa Barbara!"

Of course, Santa Barbara doesn't sound very wild, but it seemed rather wild to such home-keeping folk as the Nagels and Franklins to be arriving at the Samarkand Hotel at 3 o'clock in the morning. Rooms were secured, but the poor ladies weren't permitted to get much beauty sleep, as their husbands routed them out to play golf at 8 o'clock in the morning, and started home at 2 in the afternoon.

But the men had reckoned without their hostesses. Mrs. Nagel asked innocently if she might drive. Arrived in Los Angeles, she continued driving.

"Why, Ruth, what's the matter?" demanded Conrad, when she failed to stop at home. Sid Franklin also turned a little pale.

"Oh, we aren't going home; we're going to Tijuana!" explained Mrs. Nagel. And Tijuana it was!

And now it is at your peril that you mention ruts in the Nagel or Franklin households.

Try It on Dog

That kingpin villain, Stuart Holmes, owns a big German police dog, which he says he allows to come into the projection room with him to see the rushes of the Universal pictures, following literally the legend of trying it on the dog. He declares the dog is very intelligent, an excellent critic, and always barks at the right moments. Also he declares that when he was having a fight with John Davidson in a scene, the other day, the dog made a growling lunge for the screen.

But then Abe Stern says that the dog laughed at a Century comedy, too. So you really can't tell.

Bebe Daniels Explains

Bebe Daniels, Lasky star, is to have just one day's vacation after she finishes William De Mille's "Nice People," before she begins work on "Pink Gods."

"What are you going to do in your vacation?" somebody asked her the other day.

"Oh," said Bebe, "I'm going to see a new play and some pictures, and do some shopping for my new clothes for 'Pink Gods,' and have some new photographs taken. And then grandmother and I are going to the country to spend the day."

SURROUNDED BY ADVENTURE

An island, as everyone knows, is a body of land entirely surrounded by water. "The Isle of Zorda," now showing for a second and last week at Clune's Broadway, is a stupendous photoplay production entirely surrounded by adventure, mystery, romance, beauty, thrills and sensations. And no wonder, for is it not a picturization of Jules Verne's novel "Mathias Sandorf"? Jules Verne, among other things, wrote "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" and "Around the World in Eighty Days." "The Isle of Zorda" is a story of revolution, invention, exotic and oriental intrigue and the slave marts of Asia! It was produced by Louis Nalpas and directed by Henri Fescourt in France. It's a Pathe photoplay.

MORE MAYER PICTURES

With an Anita Stewart picture, "The Woman He Married," now playing in the first run theaters, Louis B. Mayer still has two big productions ready for launching through Associated First National channels. They are "One Clear Call," a new John M. Stahl all-star production, and "Rose o' the Sea," in which Miss Stewart is starred. The latter was directed by Fred Niblo.

FILM LOVE-BOAT HERE

By Edwin Schallert

After all, it looks very much as if Constance Talmadge would not take her contemplated trip to the Orient to film the prologue for "East is West." There was some talk of this for a time, but it has been virtually decided that excellent results would be obtained in the picturizing of the love-boat episode right here. Fact is, that will probably be the first scene shot for the picture.

Practically all the costumes are in readiness for the Chinese part of the story, and they are among the most picturesque that Constance has ever worn in any feature.

"East is West" was played on the stage by Fay Bainter, and was presented here about the opening of the present season.

Community Plays

Two plays will be given by the Hollywood Community company under the direction of Miss Neely Dickson, beginning Monday, at Egan's Little Theater. One of these is the prize-winning play by Carol McMillan of New York City, called "His Father's Boots." The other is "A Slice of Life," by Sir James M. Barrie.

Valentino Goes North

Rudolph Valentino, star of "Blood and Sand," left last night for San Francisco to take part in a program arranged by the citizens' committee to raise funds for the entertainment of the veterans at the convention, June 26-30, of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. The show takes place tonight at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco.

Not so Good; Not Bad

One of Broadway's wits has been busy again. We hear this as a result.

"Say, you're liable to miss some of Leo Ditrichstein if you go to see his show this week," remarked somebody yesterday to another somebody standing in front of the Mason.

"Why?" queried the second somebody.

"Well," said the first, "This week if you go you'll only see him in part, but next week you'll see him in 'Toto.'"

Mayo Boxes

Frank Mayo is now fitted for a career as a prize fighter. He knows all the ins and outs of the pugilistic game, and every inch of floor space at Doyle's arena in Vernon.

The reason being that Mayo spent the good part of a week boxing around with Al Kaufman for the picture, "Afraid to Fight," in which he is starring for Universal.

The picture has been turned out in (now) quite remarkable time. Fourteen working days, it is stated.

The reason for this was that Lillian Rich, who plays the feminine lead opposite Mayo, had been selected for a big role in "The Suburban," which King Baggott is to film with the Kentucky derby as a background. Miss Rich is already on the way South.

William Worthington directed the Mayo picture, which is finished.

STARS AT HILLSTREET

What looks like an all-star bill will be offered at the Hillstreet Theater next week. Headlining the vaudeville are Frank Van Hoven, the dippy mad magician who has made England and the United States roar with laughter, and Peggy Parker and "The Four Musketeers," whose slogan is "fun for all and all for fun." Van Hoven is one of the greatest fun producers the stage has ever seen. His engagement in this country is limited, for he will shortly return to England where he fairly made the staid citizens of that country "split their sides laughing." Miss Parker is a charming little singing and dancing comedienne who is assisted by a male quartette, four modern knights of "The House of Entertainment."

PRESENTS LOCAL TALENT

Next Sunday morning's "discovery concert" at Grauman's Theater promises to introduce important talent to local music lovers, and also to present talent that has already become established in this community. In the latter role will appear the Philharmonic Quartet, more familiarly known as "the Uplifters' Quartet," and Miss Adelaide Gosnell, a brilliant pianist. Comprising the quartet are Samuel Glasse, tenor; Sheldon Balinger, second tenor; Harold Osprom, baritone; and J. Lester Adams, basso. They will sing "Carmena," a Spanish waltz by H. Lane Wilson; "The Caravan," by H. Lohr; and "Kentucky Babe," by Geibel.

FATHER BY PROXY

"The Bachelor Daddy," a Paramount production starring Thomas Meighan, will open Monday at Grauman's Theater. Meighan is cast as a bachelor who becomes the proxy daddy of his mine foreman's five kiddies. Leatrice Joy is the leading woman. Alfred Green directed. Olga Printzlau made the adaptation. The cast includes Adele Farrington, Maude Wayne, J. F. McDonald, Laurance Wheat, Charlotte Jackson, Barbara Maier, Bruce Guerin and the De Briac twins. Edward Peple, who wrote "The Prince Chap," is the author.

HUBBY ACTS OPPOSITE

Rudolph Cameron, Anita Stewart's leading man in her next First National attraction, "Rose o' the Sea," was formerly a prominent figure on the speaking stage. He scored his greatest hit on Broadway in "Rich Man, Poor Man," in which he played the extravagant young millionaire. In private life Mr. Cameron is Anita's husband and business manager.

USE NEW YORK COLONY

The fact that New York City has within it colonies from foreign people, who preserve their identity through their observance of old-world customs and habits, has been used to advantage in "Fascination," the new Metro release in which Mae Murray is starred at Loew's State Theater. The Spanish colony was invaded by Miss Murray and the Spanish Consul, Senor Ferrara; and together they brought away with them hundreds of real Spaniards to play roles of extras.

WOULD FILM THE LIFE OF THE WORLD

Griffith Projects Romantic Series of Historic Features as Result of Trip Abroad

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—Plans are under way for producing in motion form a romanticized history of the world intended to show to all peoples the folly and futility of warfare, according to David W. Griffith, the motion-picture producer. He returned from England today on the White Star liner, Homeric, after a short trip in connection with the showing of the "Orphans of the Storm" in theaters abroad.

The entire series, Mr. Griffith said, may cost as much as $20,000,000, the largest amount ever expended upon a motion-picture production and may take as long as seven to ten years to complete. Most of the work of production will be done in the United States, very likely in the vicinity of New York, with occasional trips to England for certain scenes, as the needs of the films demand.

Mr. Griffith said he may begin work on the production of the first film this fall, although his plans at present are incomplete. The first picture will take two and a half years to complete. The best artists available will be chosen to get the parts, and a large staff of technical experts will be employed to insure as nearly correct a representation of the times as possible.

Mr. Griffith said he did not intend to make a trip to California soon. He stated he had been doing most of his work in the East for some time.

While abroad Mr. Griffith said he interviewed H. G. Wells and George Bernard Shaw. Mr. Shaw remarked to him that most playwrights were finding it convenient to immortalize their plays by producing them as motion pictures, but that so far as he, Mr. Shaw, was concerned, his plays are immortal anyway and needed to film production to keep them alive. It has been rumored about New York that Mr. Griffith intends to film some of the Shaw plays but this rumor has no foundation, Mr. Griffith said.

New Regime at Tally's to be Musical

Mischa Guterson, orchestra leader at Grauman's Theater, who has leased Tally's Broadway Theater and plans to operate it as a first-run picture house exclusively, will open on the 15th with a special performance in which the musical program will be featured.

Mr. Guterson will emphasize the musical side of his programs and has already engaged several prominent local soloists for Sunday and week-day concerts. The first Sunday concert will be given on the 21st inst., with a forty-five-piece orchestra. Throughout the week an orchestra of twenty will be used.

KING OPENS MONDAY

Starting next Monday afternoon, Philharmonic Auditorium will enter upon a summer's season of musical comedies presented by the popular comedian producer, Will King and his company of fifty players who return after three years of success in San Francisco at the Casino Theater. Almost every member of the company is well known in Los Angeles, from the former engagement of sixteen weeks at the Philharmonic three years ago. There are Lew Dunbar, principal comedian, Cal̶r Starr, Bessie Hill, Will Hayes, the Golden Gate Quartet, and a chorus of pretty girls, well trained, who can sing, dance and act. The opening bill will be "Hello" a musical revue, which proved one of the best of the many comedies presented at the Casino.

DAINTY MARIE RETURNING

While every sport fan in town will doubtless be most intrigued by the appearance at the Orpheum Monday of James J. Corbett, who appears with Billy B. Van in "The Eighteenth Amendment," men and women alike will be delighted to know that Dainty Marie, the "Venus of the Air," has been added to the bill at the last moment. Marie has not been here in a long while, but her perfection of figure and artistry are still retained, as is "her girlish laughter." To add distinction—if one cares to put it in that way—to the bill, Princess Jue Quon Tai, a real Chinese royalty, is booked also. She is said to sing delightfully.

Golden Gate Four

Entertain for Radio Clientele

Disproving Einstein's theory that rifts in the ether are purely imaginary, Miss Myrtle Carver, popular coloratura soprano soloist, created a series of classical disturbances in the etheric medium surrounding Los Angeles yesterday noon, which were picked up by The Times radio enthusiasts in six States.

An all-classical program was rendered by Miss Carver, in response to numerous requests from The Times radio clientele. She was accompanied by Miss Ruth Thompson. Her first number was "Il Bacio," by Arditi, followed by "Who'll Buy My Lavender," by German, and "Clavelitos," by Valverde. Miss Carver is a pupil of J. Spenser-Kelly, through whose courtesy The Times broadcasting station is indebted for her appearance.

The quartet composed of Med Anderson, Warren Tehaney, Ted Murray and Roy Collins, sang "Pick Me Up and Lay Me Down in Dixieland."

Reports from Compton and Pasadena and local messages to The Times stated the quartet number and solos came over beautifully.

"Swanee River Moon" was rendered by Ted Murray.

Herman King, musical director of the Will King company, played two piano solos, entitled "Mighty Lak' a Rose" and "Just a Little Love Song."

L. C. Dodelan, basso, pleased his hearers with "The Turnkey," from "Rob Roy," by DeKoven; "The Stein Song," by Bullard, and "Kim Rooney's at the Fightin'", by Norah Flynn. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Edna. Hr. Dodelan read the bedtime story.

An extra morsel of delightful music was broadcast yesterday in the afternoon program by Bernard Cohen and Leo Hogan, who played a cornet duet entitled, "Just Like a Rose" and "I Want My Mammy."

The boys are students of Jefferson High School. The young men will play at Sycamore Grove, May 10, as a part of The Times Radic Club program.

SUPER-POWER RADIO TO LINK UP GLOBE

AMERICAN, ENGLISH, FRENCH AND GERMAN CONCERNS MAKE AGREEMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 4.—All parts of the globe will be linked with superpower wireless telegraph stations through agreements reached between American, English, French and German companies, Edward J. Nally, president of the Radio Corporation of America, declared on his return to this country today.

"As the result of the agreement," he said, "a number of new international wireless services will be opened in the near future. The first will be in Argentina, near Buenos Aires, where a station is being constructed capable of transmitting and receiving simultaneously with New York, Paris, London and Berlin."

Conferences between representatives of the four great companies decided questions of competition, distributions of service, allotment of wave lengths and other technical questions, he said.

NOTED DIVA ON RADIO PROGRAM

Ellen Beach Yaw

California's nightingale, Ellen Beach Yaw, will express her artistry by radio telephony from The Times broadcasting station Sunday morning as soloist in the regular sermon to be delivered this week by Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher. Miss Gertrude Cohen will accompany Mme. Yaw.

REPORT IS CORRECTED

Three weeks ago an automobile bus was struck by an engine on the Southern Pacific tracks near Sylmar crossing and three employees of the Olive View Sanatarium were killed. From the meager facts of the accident, gathered after much difficulty, the victims were at that time believed to be members of a pleasure party. H. S. Knowles, an employee at the sanitarium, yesterday requested The Times to correct this report, explaining that the victims were not on a pleasure trip, but were passengers on a regular stage at the time.

Girls Who Fled from Hospital Still at Large

Josephine Goodrich, 23 years of age, and Lois Prosser, 21, who escaped from the Los Feliz Quarantine Hospital early yesterday, through the aid of a taxicab driver, are believed to be in hiding in Los Angeles.

Two other girls, Billie Hunter, 23, and Carmen Jones, 34, were returned to the Los Feliz hospital yesterday, after being attended at the Receiving Hospital. They fractured their ankles in a fifteen-foot leap for liberty. The four girls crawled from a window sill onto an ironing board, placed on the top of an electrically-charged wire fence.

The two injured girls were found hiding in the brush a few yards from the fence by Officers Partin and McBride, of the Lincoln Heights Police Station.

OPTOMETRISTS TO HEAR OF CONGESS

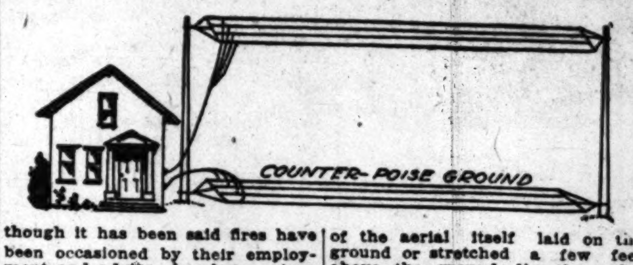
LESSON 34

By G. C. Farmer

Ordinarily, a water pipe makes an excellent terminal on which to attach the ground lead. This is so principally because of its convenience in the house and general suitability to radio ground requirements. Gas pipes also are used for the same purpose, however, though it has been said fires have been occasioned by their employment and advice has been given not to connect to them if transmitting is done. The white lead with which the joints in the gas pipes are made gas-tight is a partial insulator. While transmitting, small spark discharges often occur in the joints between the pipe segments. If there is a slight leak of gas, it is liable to be ignited and a fire started.

On steamers, the ground is the entire steel hull, and due to its large area transmission and reception is very efficient. It is often thought the hull making contact with the water really forms the ground, yet it has been found that reception can be carried on just as well while the steamer is in dry dock up above the water as while the steamer is partially submerged, disproving this theory. It is believed the steamer's hull acts more like a counterpoise than as a mere conductor to the water.

When a station is located in a desert country or where the soil is dry or rocky, a counterpoise, or counter-capacity ground is employed. This consists of a duplicate of the aerial itself laid on the ground or stretched a few feet above the ground directly under the flat part of the aerial. See the figure. The counterpoise wires are joined together and led into the station in a manner similar to the antenna lead. The counterpoise ground has proved the most efficient for both receiving and sending.



Fire underwriters' rules state that the ground connection in radio installations must be made of No. 4 or larger gauge wire, or metal connection of equal cross-sectional area, and connected outside the house. This applies to the lightning switch.

Large copper or zinc plates to which the ground lead is soldered, buried to a depth where they will be constantly moist also make a good ground. Again, where low, marshy ground is available the ground may consist of a steel pipe driven into the soil, or by sinking a few plates of copper or zinc, or spreading copper wire directly in the water.

In general, a tight connection to the water pipe can be made by scraping the pipe free from corrosion and placing a sheet of tinfoil underneath a bare copper wire winding. This method of making connection is as safe and sure as solder itself.
